Elgin Man Hospitalized With Injury

ELGIN (Special) — Clarence Taylor was taken to Grande Ronde Hospital in the Elgin first aid center recently after a snag hit him while he was working on a cat in the woods near Summerville. There were no bones broken but he remained in the hospital for observation for a few days. He works for the Western Stud Mill. The accident occurred on Round Mountain.

Ira Rysdam and son of Corning, Calif., have been visiting his father, Gid Rysdam, several days.

The Violet Rebekah Lodge hold their annual bazaar recently. They served lunch at noon. A fair crowd attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Snyder have sold their Snyder's Cafe to Otis Payne. The Snyders have owned the Cafe 10 years. They have purchased the Fireside at Baker and will move there. Payne will manage the cafe in the same manner and with the same employees.

Indians Hold 'Snow Dance' For Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — A dozen Puute Indians, headed by chief Harry Winnemucca, will perform a "snow dance" here Tuesday on behalf of the 1960 Winter Olympic Games.

The 11-day winter games are slated to start Feb. 18, just 30 days from today — and the valley is conspicuous as a result of an unusual lack of snow.

The last precipitation was recorded in the valley on Nov. 3 when there was some intermittent rain and snow, but it wasn't measurable.

Spokane Man Nets Near Record Fish

SANDPOINT, Idaho (UPI) — A 36 1/2 pound Kamloops trout, second largest ever caught on Lake Pend Oreille, was brought in here Sunday by Cecil Hulbert, Spokane, who boated the giant in 15 minutes.

Record Kamloops recorded here was 37 pounds caught in 1947 by Wes Hamlet of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

PROBLEM FOR SOLOMON?

What Does Baseball Scout Do About Athletic Child?

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The puzzle of what coaches, managers and scouts should do with their own children who have athletic greatness stamped on them finally has come to bewilder Charley Wallgren.

Wallgren is a scout for the Boston Red Sox and right now has a son named Chic who looks like the class of the winter ball set in this area.

"I just don't know what to do," says the saddened Wallgren. "Should I recommend him to our organization? Then there is the chance that other players will claim he is being helped because I work for the Red Sox."

No Faith In Son?

"However, if some other outfit grabs him and he becomes a star, then people will ask why I didn't have the faith in my own son to recommend him to the Red Sox."

Wallgren isn't the first man to have this problem tossed in his lap. Down through the years it has been a puzzle of major proportions for dotting fathers who happen to be connected with major athletic organizations. College football coaches, as a rule, send their off-spring to some other university—so no one can claim favoritism. Usually the youngsters prefer it that way.

But young Wallgren is a bit of a different problem. He is just out of six months in the air force, is 22 years old, and a graduate of University of San Francisco.

In "Scout's League"

Right now he is playing for a Los Angeles Dodgers' team in the San Francisco area's "scout's league."

"He's hitting about 300," according to Charley. "He has a fine arm and, surprisingly for a rookie, he is a good curve-ball hitter."

"Of the listings I keep on Northern California players, I have him rated at the top. Last year I didn't even have him in the list 19. But he is that much improved this season."

"I know a lot of ball players who have received $5,000 to $20,000 as a bonus for signing who do not rate with Chic."

The league in which young Chic is performing plays two games a week and has six teams sponsored by major league clubs. One of these teams is the Los Angeles outfit for which Chic plays—and is managed by Bill Brenzel.

Signed With Giants

Bill's son recently signed with the San Francisco Giants—rather than the Dodgers.

Other teams in the league are sponsored by the Giants, Philadelphia Phils, Baltimore Orioles, Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees.

"I would guess it is about a good Class D league," says Wallgren. "There are some fine bonus players and All-American college stars performing in it. Chic hits all the top pitchers well."

"But what to do? Should I send him to a Red Sox camp? Or should I let him go to some other club?"

In Hospital

Kenneth Weaver has returned from the St. Joseph Hospital in La Grande.

Mrs. Harry Thorn has returned from Portland after a few days there.

Mrs. Lola Sillman suffered painful burns on her arm and back when she fell in her home recently.

Mrs. Rose Hise, Los Angeles, Calif., and sister, Mrs. Etta Pursey, La Jara, Nev., are in Elgin. They are staying with their sister, Mrs. Kate Lewis, who returned home from the Grande Ronde Hospital in La Grande recently.

Fred Buschke recently underwent surgery in the Grande Ronde Hospital. He was in the hospital about four days.

Sandra Glasson celebrated her fifth birthday recently, with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Glasson. Six little friends helped her enjoy cake and ice cream. They were Patty Kim Southard, Risa Gayle Clum, Lillian Anthony, Denise Spikes, Mary Kay Hargett and Valery Kay Clark.

Yanks Oppose Second Major League In Town

By JACK CUDDY
UPI Staff Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports parading with short steps; the New York Yankees are strongly opposed to the idea of a second major league baseball team in the city — whether through expansion or inclusion in the Continental League — and think they have received a raw deal from New York officials.

"Everybody seems to forget that we are the team that stayed," co-owner Dan Topping tells intimates. "All this talk about building a beautiful new stadium for a team that's never played a game here is ridiculous. The Yankees can't ever get the little extra parking space we want and yet they talk of building 10-million dollar stadiums for others."

Commissioner Ford Frick has led a behind-the-scenes drive to keep New York City open territory... the Yankees obviously would be delighted to see the city closed to another major league club.

Gil McDougald, Herb Score and Hank Bauer are among the famous names who may be involved in trades during the major league meetings next week... Remember all that hoopla about Harmon Killebrew last June—and the advice of knowing baseball men that Bob Allison might turn out to be the better of the two players? Allison recently was named rookie of the year—second straight Washington Senator player honored... at 24 and 218 pounds, Allison looks like an even better hitter than he was in 1959 when he clouted 30 homers.

Non-Surgical Method Cures Hemorrhoids Painlessly

A relatively painless, non-surgical method of treating hemorrhoids (piles) is working therapeutic miracles for thousands who suffer from rectal and colon disorders.

A recently developed electronic treatment is proving more effective than surgery, with none of the after effects of surgery.

The treatment requires no hospitalization or confinement. Patients show marked improvement almost immediately, and uncomplicated cases can be frequently corrected in as little as 10 days.

True the whole world over

Each region of the world, each period in history, has recorded knowledge of the art of brewing. Authorities have found that, while brewing methods varied, one ingredient remained constant wherever beer of exceptional quality was made. The one priceless ingredient was water.

Whether it be the British Isles or the Continent, the Old World or the New... the character of the brewing water is largely responsible for the excellence of the beer. That is why Olympia Beer has gained such fame! Water that is naturally perfect for brewing flows from Olympia's own artesian wells. It is this rare brewing water that achieves for light Olympia Beer good taste that is refreshingly different, yet always just the same.

the one priceless ingredient... "It's the Water"
