Eastern puts down Wolves

The Eastern Oregon women's volleyball team is one win away from at least a share of the Cascade Collegiate Conference title.

Holli Mullins led a balanced offensive attack with seven kills, and the No. 12 Mountaineers worked through a tight first set to ultimately sweep Walla Walla, 25-20, 25-14, 25-18, Thursday night at College Place, Washington.

Hailee Ackerman added six kills for EOU, and both Kaci Cox and Breanna Shaffer added five. Kiley Mc-Murtrey led four players in double-digit digs with 18 and added seven assists. Megan Bunn added 14 digs, Madison Pilon had 13 assists and both Ackerman and Cambree

Scott had three block assists. The Wolves, who have not won a match this season, actually led 19-17 late in the first set, but a kill by Mullins

started a set-ending 8-1 run, which Ackerman finished with a kill. EOU was never threatened in the second set, which it ended on a 6-0 run, and shook off a mild scare in the third set, ending it on a 7-0 run to win the match.

Eastern (22-5 overall, 17-2 CCC) finishes regular season play tonight against College of Idaho. A win, and a loss by Southern Oregon either tonight or Saturday, would give Eastern the CCC crown outright.
