Grande Ronde Hospital proudly welcomes: Jeanna Romer, MD

Joining the GRH Women's Clinic team as a Doctor of Gynecology & Obstetrics

Dr. Romer is a native Oregonian and Eastern Oregon University graduate. She was drawn back to the Grande Ronde Valley by her love of the people, the outdoors, and the desire to raise her family in a small community, all the while providing access to quality, non-judgemental, and compassionate healthcare for women throughout the area. Dr. Romer completed her medical education at OHSU, followed by an internship at the University of Hawaii on Oahu, and then completed her OB/GYN residency at the University of Connecticut. Professionally, she is interested in minimally invasive surgeries, healthcare policy and women's health advocacy. She is passionate about healthy lifestyles including diet, exercise, and preventative medicine. She enjoys working with women at various stages of their lives - whether they need a surgeon, are trying to prevent pregnancy, seeking help to conceive, or dealing with issues surrounding menopause. Personally, Dr. Romer enjoys running, biking, hiking, rock climbing, cooking, and spending time with her husband and three young children.

Please join us in welcoming Dr. Romer and her family back to the area!
