New Zealand film

LA GRANDE — Foreign Film Friday will feature "The Dead Lands" at 4 p.m. Nov. 8 at Cook Memorial Library, 2006 Fourth St., La Grande. The New Zealand film was released in 2014. The plot: "The teenage son of a slain Maori chief-tain looks to avenge his father's murder and bring peace and honor to the souls of his loved ones."

Films are not always rated and may contain content not suitable for all ages.

Music makes Friday night
all right

LA GRANDE, ENTERPRISE — Travis Ward and David Henry, two musicians also performing at this week's Tunesmith Night in Walla Walla County, make a stop Nov. 8 at Side A Brewing, 1219 Washington

Ave., La Grande. The music will go from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Also on Friday, Enterprise's Range Rider Saloon hosts Liver Down the River from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. The Range Rider is at 107 NW First St.

Whitman speaks through one-man play

JOSEPH — "Multitudes," an original one-man play about Walt Whitman, will be performed Nov. 8 at the Josephy Center, 403 N. Main St., Joseph. The one-hour play addresses Whitman's thoughts on the democratic ideals of inclusion and the importance of every voice, slavery, women's rights, his fondness for Abraham Lincoln, his sorrow, turmoil and PTSD around his service as a volunteer nurse in Washington, D.C., during the Civil War — all issues being faced in our own time in one form or another.

Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and the show begins at 7 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults, $5 for students and free for youth younger than 12.

Bluegrass legend Del McCoury plays the OK

ENTERPRISE — Del McCoury brings his legendary bluegrass sound to the OK Theatre, 208 W. Main St., Enterprise Nov. 10. In his sixth decade of "bluegrass bliss," McCoury is now helming the Del McCoury Band with his sons Rob and Ronnie.

"We don't have a setlist," he says. "We try and work in the new songs, but a lot of times it's just requests from the audience. It's more interesting for the band, for me, and for the audience because nobody knows what's coming next."

Tickets are $40-$50 and available from Eventbrite.

Doors open at 5 p.m. Caleb Klauder and Reeb Willms will open the show at 6 p.m., followed by McCoury at 7 p.m.

Tunesmith Night features three musicians

ENTERPRISE — The Wallowa Valley Music Alliance presents another edition of Tunesmith Night, a monthly showcase of original music, Nov. 9 at Enterprise's Sugar Time Bakery on North River Street. The show features Travis Ward, David Henry and Larry Haney.

Admission is $10 at the door or by season pass. Doors open at 6 p.m. (seating is limited), and the music begins at 7 p.m. All ages are welcome.

Boise's Travis Ward has toured the U.S., U.K. and Europe. He's played his well-crafted timeless folk songs in countless dive bars, festivals and theaters from near and far.

David Henry now lives in Boise but was born in Mississippi and has been traveling from a young age. His songwriting reflects his appreciation that life can be comically unfair. Traveling the U.S., he has played solo and as the David Henry Trio.

Larry Haney has written songs for 25 years in a unique folk style with a Native Americana presence. His music has captivated audiences around the Northwest, and he has opened for Dan Seals and The Byrds and shared the stage with Susan Rea. His family music strings go back three generations.
