Kim Kardashian West: The Justice Project

This new two-hour documentary follows reality TV personality Kim Kardashian West as she undertakes a passion project: fighting to secure freedom for Americans she believes have been wronged by the U.S. justice system. She became an advocate for such prison inmates after learning of Alice Marie Johnson, an elderly black woman serving a draconian life-plus-25-years sentence as a first-time non-violent offender. The film follows Kardashian West as she undertakes other, similar cases that appear to reflect miscarriages of justice.

ACM Presents: Our Country

Tonight CBS originally planned to air the Academy of Country Music Awards from Las Vegas, but a pandemic changed those plans. Even though they're "socially distancing" in their homes like many other households, however, some of country music's biggest stars invite fans to join them in this unique entertainment special as they perform acoustic versions of their songs and talk about favorite highlights from past ACM Awards telecasts, which appear as clips.

9 p.m. on PBS
World on Fire on Masterpiece

This new seven-hour World War II drama chronicles the interconnected fates of ordinary characters across five countries as they struggle to adjust to the effects of that war on their everyday lives. The drama opens in 1939, with the Nazi threat looming over Europe. Translator Henry Chase (Jonah Hauer-King) promises to help Kasia Tomszeski (Zofia Wichlacz), his Polish lover, flee Warsaw. Meanwhile, his clueless sweetheart Lois (Julia Brown) waits for him in England. The ensemble cast also includes Helen Hunt, Lesley Manville and Sean Bean.
