The 94th Annual Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade

9 a.m. on NBC
The 94th Annual Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade

Not even a lethal global pandemic can stop one of the most beloved American holiday traditions on television, but expect some changes in this year’s broadcast of this perennial holiday favorite. Rest assured, members of the “Today” team are back as hosts, but the event itself will be a TV-only affair, not a live public event with cheering throngs and multiple marching bands. Still on offer: colorful balloons (pulled by trucks, not human handlers), colorful costumes, floats and, of course, Santa Claus.

12 p.m. on NBC; 6 p.m. on NBCSN
The National Dog Show

Actor John O’Hurley returns with expert analyst and American Kennel Club judge David Frei to co-host this year’s event in Oaks, Pa., produced following both state and local pandemic guidelines. NBC Sports correspondent Mary Carillo also will be on hand to offer her insights. This year’s show features three new breeds appearing for the first time: the Barbet (Sporting Group), a water dog from France; the Dogo Argentino (Working Group), a smart hunting dog from South America; and the Belgian Laekenois (Herding Group), originally used in police work.

8 p.m. on BET
Movie: Miss Juneteenth

Writer-director Channing Godfrey Peoples made a striking feature film debut with this 2020 drama, which earned widespread acclaim for its vibrant, multidimensional characters. Nicole Beharie (“Sleepy Hollow”) heads the cast as Texas single mother Turquoise Jones, a former winner of the local Miss Juneteenth pageant. Since that event offers full college scholarships to the winners, she enters her 15-year-old daughter, Kai (Alexis Chikaeze) into this year’s competition, a development Kai receives with no enthusiasm whatsoever. Kendrick Sampson also stars.
