Tina Turner

8 p.m. on CBS, BET, COM, MTV 52nd Annual NAACP Image Awards

Recorded earlier this week at Pasadena Civic Auditorium in Pasadena, Calif., this year's event honors outstanding achievements by people of color in motion pictures, TV, music and literature during 2020. Nominated for outstanding motion picture are "Bad Boys for Life," "Da 5 Bloods," "Jingle Jangle: A Christmas Journey,' "Ma Rainey's Black Bottom" and "One Night in Miami." Up for outstanding TV drama are "All Rise," "Bridgerton," "Lovecraft Country," "Power Book II: Ghost" and "This Is Us"; nominated in comedy are "BlackAF," "blackish," "Insecure," "grown-ish" and "The Last O.G."

8 p.m. on HBO Movie: Tina

Drawing on previously unseen footage, audio tapes, personal photos and candid interviews with its subject from her home in Switzerland, this new featurelength documentary from Dan Lindsay and T.J. Martin chronicles the life and career of music superstar Tina Turner, taking note of how this iconic performer overcame multiple challenges in her personal life to rack up a slew of professional triumphs before retiring in 2008. What emerges is an inspiring story of survival and personal ownership, as told in Turner's own words.

9 p.m. on HALL Movie: Don't Go Breaking My Heart

Miranda (Italia Ricci) finally is enjoying some success with Breakup Boot Camp, a program she developed to help the recently broken-hearted. Her latest group of "campers" includes journalist Ben (Ryan Paevey), who insists he has come entirely to support his sister, not out of any personal need in the fallout from a recent failed romance. The truth is, Ben's there on assignment to do an undercover story on whether Miranda's venture is just giving false hope to clients in this new 2021 romance.
