Art Center East's take-home kit program brings art-making to all ages

LA GRANDE — Art Center East, La Grande, launched the first round of its newest offering: Take & Make Art Kits. More than 20 artist-created kits for a variety of ages are live at www.artcentereast.org/learn/classes/take-make-art-kits. Purchase them online, then enjoy a screen-free art experience with written instructions and all the supplies needed to busy your hands and stir up your creativity.

WHY?

According to the art center's announcement of the art kits, ACE staff discussed many goals while creating the new program. Here are a few they listed:

- Bring art-making to the community in a newly accessible way.
- Provide quality instruction that allows for more schedule flexibility during the busy summer months.
- Support local artists and national artists alike.
- Decrease screentime fatigue by including written instructions rather than online, making them perfect when you need a screen-time break or a project to take camping or on a trip.

The announcement of the new kits put it this way: "During these ever-changing times, access to the arts is more important than ever. ACE strives to continue creating offerings that ensure our community can easily and affordably bring new knowledge and joy into everyday life."

HOW IT WORKS

Go to www.artcentereast.org/learn/classes/take-make-art-kits and select a kit. There are a variety of kits, with more to come, for a range of ages and bank accounts. (For the Youth Kits, donate the suggested amount or select the kit for free.)

At checkout, choose pickup, local delivery (within La Grande City limits) or domestic shipping.

Take it, make it, then share your project on Instagram or Facebook with #artcentereast.

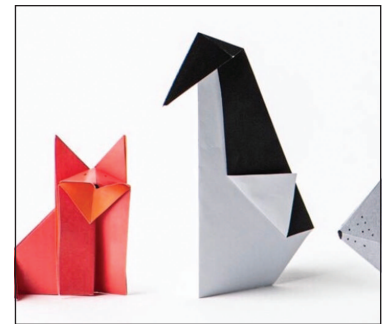

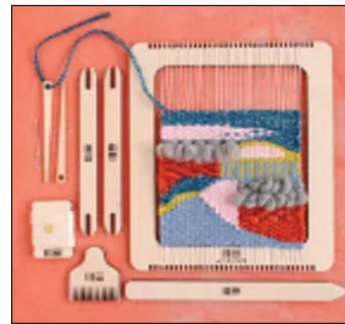

AND, A COUPON!

To celebrate the launch of the new program, Art Center East is offering a $10 discount during the month of June. Use the coupon code Rothko at checkout and get a great deal on your first kit.
