“Timewasters”

From the U.K. comes this comedy series about a struggling four-piece jazz band in South London who are propelled back in time by a time machine in a rundown building's elevator to the 1920s, where they grapple with the complexities and nuances of the Jazz Age. Daniel Lawrence Taylor, Kadiif Kirwan, Adelayo Adedayo and Samson Kayo head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Sylvie's Love”

Eugene Ashe (“Homecoming”) wrote and directed this romantic drama about two friends — a jazz saxophonist (Nnamdi Asomugha, “Crown Heights”) and a TV producer (Tessa Thompson, “Dear White People”) — who reunite after years to find that while their lives have gone in different directions, their feelings for each other remain the same. Eva Longoria and Aja Naomi King also star. (ORIGINAL)

“September Mornings”

From Brazil comes this drama series that follows the story of Cassandra, a trans woman who left her hometown for life, love and a career in Sao Paulo, only to have an old friend show up on her doorstep with a boy she says is her son. Liniker, Karine Teles and Gustavo Coelho head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

“Bosch”

The eight-episode final season of the crime drama finds Los Angeles police detective Bosch (series star Titus Welliver) risking himself and the people around him to hunt down the killer of a 10-year-old girl. This round will also serve as the set-up for the spinoff series that will follow his work as a private investigator alongside defense attorney Honey Chandler (Mimi Rogers). (ORIGINAL)
