“Godfather of Harlem”

In this drama series, Forest Whitaker stars as former crime boss Bumpy Johnson, who finds a path to redemption after a 10-year prison term. Upon his release in the early 1960s, Johnson returns to his beloved Harlem neighborhood to find the area in shambles and under mafia control. Tapping into the human rights movement, he galvanizes black and white residents alike to take action.

“Letterkenny”

An eventful 10th season lay ahead for the residents of the title rural Canadian burg, which finds McMurray and Wayne (Dan Petronijevic, Jared Keeso) doing some dickering, the Hicks attending a sausage party, the Hockey Players and Skids having a video game battle and the town's men getting complete head-to-toe physicals. “Movie: Ted Bundy: American Boogeyman”

Daniel Farrands (“The Amityville Murders”) directed this true-crime drama that follows intrepid FBI agents Kathleen McChesney (Holland Roden, “Weeds”) and Robert Ressler (newcomer Jake Hays) as they organize one of the largest manhunts in history, for 20th century serial killer Ted Bundy (Chad Michael Murray, “One Tree Hill”). Lin Shaye (“The Grudge”) also stars. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Cryptozoo”

Writer/director Dash Shaw’s (“My Entire High School Sinking Into the Sea”) decidedly hallucinatory animated feature follows cryptozookeepers as they try to capture a Baku, a legendary dream-eating hybrid creature, and wonder whether they should display it in the confines of a zoo or let them remain hidden and unknown. Lake Bell, Zoe Kazan, Michael Cera, Louisa Krause and Peter Stormare head the voice cast. (ORIGINAL)
