

What's Available NOW On

"Ice Age: Continental Drift" (Available now)

In their fourth animated adventure, the prehistoric animal friends — again voiced by Ray Romano, John Leguizamo and Denis Leary — run into new complications, not the least being climate change that breaks their continent apart and causes a literal drift of the pieces. That phenomenon takes them into an encounter with pirates (with "Game of Thrones" award winner Peter Dinklage voicing the captain).

"The Rescue" (Available now)

From National Geographic comes this documentary that shines a spotlight on the high-risk sport of cave diving through a story that captured the world's attention in 2018 — the against-all-odds rescue of 12 boys and their coach from deep inside a flooded cave in Northern Thailand.

"Ron's Gone Wrong" (Available now)

This animated comedy follows Barney (voice of Jack Dylan Grazer), a socially awkward middle-schooler who receives a digitally connected device that's supposed to be his "best friend in a box." But when the bot, Ron (voice of Zach Galifianakis), malfunctions, it sends them both on crazy misadventures. Ed Helms and Olivia Colman are also in the voice cast. (ORIGINAL)

"Science of Stupid: Season 8" (Available now)

Skydiving without a parachute, a homemade luge track, kayaking over waterfalls and building a champagne tower are among the viral videos to go under the microscope in the eighth and most recent season of this comedic unscripted series from National Geographic. Dallas Campbell ("Airport Live") is the host.
