9 p.m. on HBO Movie: The Janes

Oscar nominee Tia Lessin ("Trouble the Water") and Emmy-nominated filmmaker Emma Pildes ("Jane Fonda in Five Acts") co-directed this timely new feature-length documentary that chronicles a story from the days before the "Roe v. Wade" Supreme Court decision. In the spring of 1972, police raided an apartment on the South Side of Chicago, arresting seven women who were part of an underground network dedicated to helping women who sought safe, affordable yet still illegal abortions. Using code names and safe houses to protect themselves, these women called themselves "Jane."

9:01 p.m. on FOX So You Think You Can Dance

Several dancers still sighing with relief at making it past the harrowing auditions process should brace themselves for a new kind of heartbreak as "The Big Cut — Choreography Round" opens a new phase of the competition. As the last auditionees battle it out for a chance to move on, many dancers who shone in their chosen style of dance will find themselves at sea as they have to learn actual choreography created by a dance professional. Matthew Morrison, Stephen "tWitch" Boss and JoJo Siwa are the judges.

10 p.m. on BET All the Queen's Men

Tyler Perry is among the executive producers on this sexy new drama series about male exotic dancers in Atlanta. Adapted for television by Christian Keyes from his book of the same title, the series revolves around the charismatic businesswoman Marilyn "Madam" DeVille (Eva Marcille), whose growing stature in her city's nightclub industry inevitably attracts the attention of powerful rivals. Skyh Alvester Black, Candace Maxwell, Racquel Palmer, Michael Bolwaire, and Keith Swift co-star.
