

Jezebel's Mother plays the Side A-ley series July 30

Go! staff

LA GRANDE — The Side A-ley Concert Series continues this weekend with Jezebel's Mother performing on the brewpub's back patio Saturday, July 30, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Jezebel's Mother is the duo of Wallowa County songwriters Carolyn Lochert and Janis Carper. Their sound is described as "bluesy, rootsy, lively, lovely."

Blending their talents, they say, forms "a unique sound, swirling with rhythms and harmonies. Tight but spontaneous, each performance a musical adventure that reveals the bond of best friends."

Heavily influenced by the likes of Etta James, Billie Holiday, Abbey Lincoln and Aretha Franklin, Lochert's career has taken her from singing lead in rock, country and funk bands to playing in the horn sections of jazz ensembles.

She studied composition at Oregon State University, which started her on a path to writing music. Her first album, "She's Lookin' Back," also features musicians from Portland and Wallowa County.

A winner in the 2015 Indie International Songwriting Contest, Carper is a songwriter, singer and guitarist who has nine recordings to her credit.

Her vocals, guitar playing and songs have been heard at festivals, concert halls and radio programs nationwide.

Carper is also founder and director of the Wallowa Valley Music Alliance.

Lochert and Carper in 2008 collaborated on a recording project called "Songs from the End of the Road,"
