Jack Lang of Monmouth, Ore., isn't bringing a time machine to the Willamette Valley Ag Expo's Antique Farm Equipment Display, but the tractors he's got this year will take visitors back decades and transport them to other countries.

Lang, 77, who retired from grass seed farming in 2008, said he has been collecting vintage tractors for years, but that year was "the first time I really had time to do this. Farming's kind of a full-time job, you know."
