

April 2018

Dear Farm Bureau Members:

Thanks to our engaged grassroots membership working in tandem with OFB governmental affairs staff, we're proud to report that agriculture fared quite well in the 2018 Oregon Short Session, which ended on March 3.

In fact, all of OFB's priority bills were successful!

Read our legislative report on the full page of OFB news inside this issue of the Capital Press.

You'll also learn about the many great opportunities offered by OFB's Young Farmers & Ranchers (YF&R) Committee. YF&R is a group within Farm Bureau specifically for members between the ages of 16 and 35.

Within the past year, two collegiate Farm Bureau chapters have launched: one at Oregon State University and another in Klamath County.

If you know of college students who are interested in agriculture and would enjoy an organization that provides leadership training, offers networking, schedules social events, and explains how public policy impacts our industry, please tell them about YF&R.

OFB is pleased to announce a new member benefit partnership with Life Flight Network air ambulance providers. Farm Bureau members can now get a sizeable discount when they join the network.

Learn how to access the Life Flight Network discount — and all of the generous member benefit programs — on OFB's new members-only website. Visit members.oregonfb.org and register for immediate access to instructions on how to use each of the Farm Bureau discounts. Some require special codes, phone numbers, forms, or websites.

Get the most out of your Farm Bureau membership and start saving today!

At any time, connect with OFB at oregonfb.org or on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Or call us at 800.334.6323. We appreciate your membership!

