

October 2018

Dear Farm Bureau Members:

By now you should have received your ballot for the November election in the mail.

To help farmers and ranchers choose the candidates who will most reliably support Oregon agriculture in upcoming legislative sessions, OFB's grassroots leadership — along with input from County Farm Bureaus and OFB staff — developed the 2018 Farm Bureau Election Guide.

Find the guide at OregonFB.org/election, and also in the October issue of OFB News. Please refer to it when completing your ballot.

See OFB's full page in this issue of the Capital Press to learn about the I Farm I Vote grassroots campaign. The goal is to inspire rural voters to cast their ballots and make sure the voices of Oregon's ag and natural resource communities are heard loudly on Election Day.

And read about the upcoming Young Farmers & Ranchers Leadership Conference, taking place Nov. 9-11 in Redmond. Farm Bureau members between the ages of 16 and 35 should take advantage of this incredible opportunity to improve their skills in ag advocacy, leadership, communication, and business. It's also going to be a lot of fun!

There are a few more Farm Bureau events happening this fall, including the 86th OFB Annual Convention, Dec. 4-6 in Salem.

Connect with Farm Bureau anytime at OregonFB.org and on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Or call us at 800.334.6323.

We appreciate your membership!
