

CITY LOCAL WHIRL.

An exchange rejoices over the fact that the new fish law will prevent salmon—all of them—from being caught at the mouth of Rogue river. This same exchange goes on to say that there was a time when the salmon were so plentiful in the Rogue river that hogs fattened on them along the stream. Say, did you ever eat a salmon whole one, but we tackled a piece of one once and immediately following we swore a solemn oath that henceforth when we took hog it would be the straight-dyed-in-the-wool hog and positively no salmon adulterations. When we buy hog meat, which we do sometimes, we require that an affidavit accompany said hog to the effect that prior to its demise salmon was not a part of its diet. Senator Alley, of Lane county, once invited his friends to partake of a choice piece of pork which he had caused to be fattened as a tender morsel and intended to tickle the palate most pleasantly, but it didn't tickle, no how. The offending porker had stolen a march on the senator and had indulged lavishly of salmon. We accepted the invitation of Mr. Alley, but, ye gods, no thanks, we didn't partake. Look not upon the hog when it has been salmioned. Verily, 'tis not pork but salmon.

Cabbage and cauliflower plants now ready for transplanting at Frank Sutter's greer house. Pepper, tomatoes and egg plants later.

Last week a surprise party composed of members of the Presbyterian church of Medford, was inaugurated and on Friday evening and at about the time when the shades of departing day had ushered in the darkness of night this party dropped in upon the quiet, peaceful household of their pastor, Rev. Foster, and made merry the evening hours with social chat, vocal and instrumental music. Some forty people, old and young, were present and a very pleasant time enjoyed. It was a complete surprise and the evening was the more pleasant therefore. A more substantial evidence of the party having paid this visit was that of a well supplied larder with the goods of life which they left upon departing as a token of their appreciation.

The finest line of spring dress goods in the market—you will find at Angle & Pymale's.

This section of the Rouge river valley has an institution that for excellence in wood work we are willing to wager has not a peer in this state. The institution to which we refer is none other than the John Weeks & Son's cabinet establishment at Phoenix. An elegant specimen of this firm's work is the new bar fixture recently put in at the Medford. The material used in their construction was Oregon oak for body work and mahogany trimmings. It is hand carved and very finely polished throughout. There is no question but that it is the most elegantly gotten up of any work of the kind in this part of the state, and all credit is due any institution which is capable of executing such work.

Last Saturday was April first and the day was duly celebrated by the perpetration of many pranks by the juvenile world. The most extensive joke was that played on the arrival of a letter between this place and Central Point who was told by a small boy that a colt he had lost a few weeks ago had fallen in to ditch up the road ways. The farmer unbitched from his plow and started out to locate the colt, which he didn't find and is still looking for. He has sworn vengeance on the boy and is loaded with a double barreled gun—and the boy goes cross lots when he reaches Mr. Farmer's place.

Garden Seed—Peas, beans, corn, onions, beets, etc., for sale by the pound, at Henry Smith's.

Prof. Price writes from Jacksonville stating that the teacher's institute has been postponed until May 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th. This is done to accommodate Prof. McElroy, state superintendent of public institutions, who has other engagements until that date, and who desires to be with the teachers of Southern Oregon upon the occasion of their institute. Mr. Price also writes that the most interesting session ever held in Jackson county and that there will probably be three hundred people present.

For Sale, half interest in Hotel Medford property, formerly Grand Central.

This is from the Mosier correspondent to the Dalles Chronicle: "It is indeed a happy home that hears the prattling of small voices and the patter of little feet. Mr. and Mrs. Newell Harlan are entertaining a party of little ones, who were duly registered at the home ranch on Easter day, the day for all to rejoice because of the excellence of the good things given. The happy parents were now blessed with times with little ones to cheer life's journey onward, all girls."

We have just received a fine assortment of dress and trimming silks—Angle & Pymale.

A branch of the Kealy Institute has been established at Roseburg, Oregon, and will be under the management of a skillful and competent physician from Dwight, Illinois. These institutions are for the treatment and cure of people addicted to the liquor, morphine and tobacco habit.

Legal blanks at J. A. Slover & Co's drug store.

S. H. Holt returned again Saturday from another week's canvass in the interests of the Medford business college. He secured the names of ten people who will commence a term of schooling at this institution the first week in September next, and one a lady, who will commence at once.

Ladies' and children's shade hats, from 20 cents up, at Palm's.

It is not always the big gifts that bring the most joy as is evidenced by the household of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson which is as happy as could well be imagined over the arrival of a bright little girl baby which came to visit and make glad their home on Easter day—April 2nd.

—Violin strings, at the drug store on the corner.

—We were mistaken last week in stating that Miss Edith M. Day would pass through Medford Sunday next. We should have said Saturday, April 8th. Many Medford friends will doubtless be at the depot and welcome the young lady's return.

—New line of ladies' and gent's purses, at J. A. Slover & Co's drug store.

—Mrs. Ada C. Unruh will meet the ladies of Medford at the Presbyterian church, in the interest of the W. C. T. U., on Wednesday, April 12th, at 8:00 o'clock. She will also lecture on the evening of the 12th at the opera house, at the usual hour.

—Dr. Warner's long waisted abdominal corset at Angle & Pymale's only.

—The base ball season in Medford seems to be opened with the jump and bound it was expected it would a few weeks ago. Why this inertia? THE MAIL is keen for an opportunity to write up a rattling good game by our home club.

—Fine spices and extracts at Davis & Pottenger's.

—Mrs. L. M. Nichols, the Central Point photographer, is now offering cabinet sized photos for $3 per dozen. Mrs. Nichols' reputation as a first-class artist ought to insure her plenty of business at these prices.

—A large stock of woolen yarns, at greatly reduced prices—Henry Smith's.

—Two new pupils enrolled their names for a term of school at the Medford business college last Monday. They were Miss Hypolia Klum, of Talent, and Miss Ollie Marksbury, of Gold Hill.

—Straw Hats! Straw Hats!—Angle & Pymale's.

—A communication was received some time ago from Brownsboro, but as it bore no signature it did not appear. Correspondents MUST sign their communication to insure publication.

—Just received, a nice line of spring millinery goods at Mrs. C. W. Palm's.

—The Presbytery of Southern Oregon will meet at Ashland next Tuesday evening. Rev. Foster and Elder J. H. Faris expect to attend from Medford.

—Pure maple syrup at Davis & Pottenger's.

—Dr. Odgers and Z. Maxey were advanced a few steps in the Medford order of Odd Fellows Saturday night last.

—Suttings for spring wraps, at Angle & Pymale's.

—S. Rosenthal has received his new line of spring and summer clothing.

—Seed corn for sale, by P. W. O'well.

The Boys Got the Land.

THE MAIL always wants to, and will, give credit where credit is due, and as this item will disclose, Governor Penoyer is justly entitled to a good lump of credit. Sometime ago several young men, among them being Chas. Addington and Chas. Angel of this place, went over in the Jenny creek country and established a residence upon several pieces of unsurveyed timber land. They made bonafide residence and awaited the time when the land should be opened for filing. That time came about a few weeks ago and the boys repaired to Roseburg to make their filings. They found, upon arriving there that each and every piece of land they had chosen had been bought in as school land. This of course was not entirely to their liking and they took council with Attorney A. S. Hammond, of this place. He investigated the matter and found that these lands had been gobbled up by timber land sharks, and this too, in the face of the fact that the governor had ordered, on January 17th, that no more school land filings would be received. Mr. Hammond gathered the facts in the case and presented them to the governor, who upon understanding the case fully, ordered all filings made by the timber men to be cancelled and the boys were then given an opportunity to file, which they improved, and now possess the land. It seems the timber men had represented to the governor that the selections made by them were in reality made before his order of January 17th was issued. The governor waxed wrathly at this deception and instead of the timber men losing a few of their selections they lost the whole business. Both the governor and Mr. Hammond are surely entitled to lots of credit.

W. WORTH.

MERIT WILL WIN!

CLEVELAND won the Presidency on his MERIT, and on the same Platform the Economy Flour Bin has won its way into the hearts and homes of households wherever shown.

THE Economy Flour Bin is a receptacle for flour, holding 50 and 100 pounds, with an oscillating sieve at the bottom by means of which any quantity can be sieved at a time without a particle of waste.

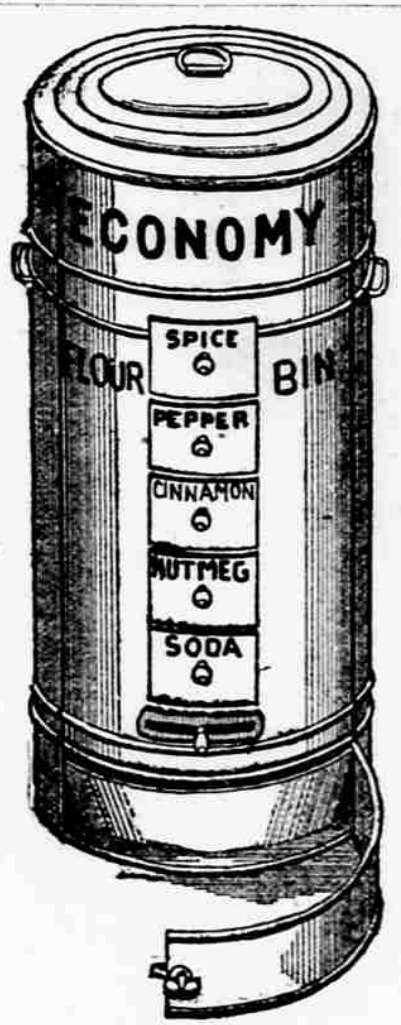

BY USING the Economy, you do away with scoops and sieves; it being Japanned and baked, it resists rust; flour enough for a baking can be sifted in a second.

IF YOU want to see a perfect embodiment of neatness, convenience and simplicity, take a look at the Economy.

IN USING an Economy not a spoonful of flour will be wasted in a year's time and even this small saving will soon pay for a bin.

THERE are drawers connected with it to hold the different spices and seasonings used in cooking.

IT LEADS 'EM ALL!

A FEW Economy Merits: It avoids the necessity of reaching into barrels and sacks; it can be kept on pantry shelf or table; sifted flour always ready for use; the agitator inside the bin stirs the flour, making it very light and improves the quality.

THE flour is put in at the top and sieved out at the bottom. By this new arrangement there is no old, musty flour packed in the bottom as in the chests, boxes or barrels so commonly in use.

IT IS a satisfaction to the housekeeper to have no flour scattered around to attract mice, rats, cockroaches and the various insects that are constantly attracted by loose flour, and if such come and apply for admission into the Economy they fail to get onto the combination and retreat disgusted—they can't know through the Economy.

ECONOMY IS KING!

EVERYONE LIKES IT! ALMOST EVERYONE BUYS IT!

WE HAVE located in Jackson county and have an office and sample room both at Medford and Jacksonville, where we expect to be located for several months. When our canvassers call on you don't fail to examine the Bin, whether you want to purchase or not. When you come to either Medford or Jacksonville call at the FLOUR BIN OFFICE and see the two sizes—50 and 100 pounds—filled with flour and judge of its merits for yourself. The manager, or one of the salesmen will always be at the office and will take pleasure in waiting on you.
