

these things, but who can them? They tell us there is a thing as luck and that of fortune is a large-sized lot. There is surely a sweet lot sitting aloft, watching destinies and it must be cherub is off duty when things go wrong.

Two pupils in daily attendance at the Medford business college are a very flattering outgrowth of a new commencement of a thirty-day institution. Thirty pupils are in the normal and are under the tutelage of Prof. Vinton. The remaining thirty are in the business department, which is under the tutelage of Prof. Rigby. The institution is a very profitable one.

It starts in with this volume six. The last has been an experience. The present publishers, who have proven to us that they will support a newspaper, support it well. We have been proven to the fact that we can print such a paper that the future has in it an enterprise something that we can predict but we promise it will not retrograde—we built on that principle.

The recent financial collapse of the Santa Fe railroad system is attributed directly to the death of George C. Magoun. It was through his efforts and extensive experience in moneyed matters that the road was kept so long from insolvency. While the death of this financier is regretted by the road world this regret applies only to some of the citizens of Medford, the deceased having been a cousin of Mrs. S. M. West and of W. H. Grant, of this city.

If some of the able-bodied men who hang about the cities expecting to be supported by charity would go out into the country they could readily earn their board on farms.—Fargo Republican.

The hand of charity, while doing much to stay the pangs of poverty, is at the same time doing a little something toward fostering idleness and making charity subjects of many able-bodied people who are given many opportunities to work, but who prefer to cry poverty and hard times and eat from the hand of some kind-hearted and generous neighbor.

He who is able bodied and by charity expects to live. We are whole lots better dead than alive.

AGENT LIPPINCOTT has received the following letter from Passenger Agent Rogers, of the Southern Pacific:

"I wish you would give me names of farmers in your immediate vicinity, the amount of land they own, and the price per acre at which they would be willing to sell. Also give general contour of land, whether flat or rolling, and if fully cleared or not. I desire this information to be perfectly reliable, as we wish to see if we cannot make some arrangement whereby we can bring out settlers to fill up the country along the line of our road."

Agent Rogers' object in sending out this letter is plain. It is evident to the Southern Pacific company as well as to the individual that there are many acres of good land as yet untitled, or, in many cases, if titled, but poorly done, along the line of this road and to induce people of ambition and means in the east to cultivate properly these acres is without a doubt the primary object in thus securing the data above asked for.

A Crank is constantly turning the world, keeping it in commotion. Its vigorous exercise keeps the whole body active. But it's the constant going that wears. You've no time to rest, no time to sleep, no time to live. It's miserable living at the best. Constant indignation, bitterness and constipation. The body cranks needs attention. Keep the liver active with Simmons Liver Regulator, and you can go as much as you please.

ROXY ANN ROCKETS.

Lillian Dodge spent Christmas with her parents and has gone back to finish her school in the Mountain District in Sams Valley. Christmas passed off pleasantly. There was a Christmas dinner at Mrs. Wilson's, where turkey was served up in good style to a few invited neighbors.

Mat. Swanson has sent to the Willamette valley and imported two fine Cotswold sheep. They will beat the hard times by making their wool into fine fabrics at home. The Carroll family celebrated Christmas by moving into their new house. We make no mistake in saying that there is one of the finest cottages in this neck of the woods. When other improvements are completed that are under contemplation his Almond Butte ranch will be second to none in the valley.

There has been a real estate sale made of the Hammond land to Bert Whitman and Henry Hanson. Bert holds a position to know where the best fruit comes from. Sticky loses its sting when people learn that Roxy Ann contains some of the choice fruit locations as are found in this Italy of Oregon. The parties named here have commenced with a force of hands and will soon convert their possessions into a model fruit garden.

Bonded Six Hundred Acres.

M. P. Ward, of Seattle, has been in these parts for the past few weeks doing prospecting and keeping a weather eye open for mining "snaps" which he could bond. His eyes have been riveted principally upon the Foothills placer field. Report comes from that quarter this week to the effect that he has secured bonds on 600 acres of some of the best placer ground in that locality, together with all water rights. The gentleman represents a Seattle syndicate who has Mr. Sparkesman for one of its members. The intentions are to consolidate all water-ways, build large reservoirs and conduct the mining operations upon thorough business principles. These grounds are said to be very rich and have been worked for years in a small way to much profit to their owners. The price for which they were bonded were unable to learn.

OTHER MINING NEWS.

Alex. Orme is deviously at work on his Grand Central mine with very flattering prospects. If the prospect continues good he will undoubtedly soon put in milling machinery.

The Schefflin brothers have had from four to six men at work on their quartz ledge for the past year and find the ledge prospecting well. These gentlemen are the discoverers of the famous Tombstone mine, in Arizona, which they sold a few years ago for $2,000,000.

Report was received at this office this week that the December clean-up of the Lucky Bart mine amounted to $13,000. Alex. Orme, who is mining five miles from this mine, informs us that there is nothing improbable regarding the figures as the Lucky Bart is known to be very rich.

OLD OREGON.

And New Oregon or Webfoot!—One Enterprise Suggests Another.

In the Ashland Valley Record a short article appears, "Those Josephine Caves," in regard to "harnessing" the waterfall in those caves in connection with an electric light and an electric motor railroad to connect with the railroad at some point, very naturally suggested to my mind the Rogue river falls and Crater Lake.

Would it be visionary to suggest to Medford and Jacksonville the idea of "harnessing" the falls in the neighborhood of Crater Lake. For generating the subtle fluid for running an electric motor railroad from Medford up to the falls for the tourist to reach the Crater Lake conveniently, could be procured by this water power. Yours etc., NEITHER POWER NOR WEATHER.

Table Rock Items.

BY A. Z.

The event of the season in this district was the entertainment and Christmas tree at the new school house on Christmas night. The neighbors set out to make it a success and they did, each trying to assist in the best way to make a merry Christmas for the children. But when it comes to staying from start to finish, Lee Vincent carries off the palm. Lee came at the first meeting and worked throughout, and was there to put out the lights after all was over. By eight o'clock standing room was at a premium and a more beautiful tree, or more tastefully decorated one, it has not been our lot to see in many years.

Mr. Nealon was master of ceremonies. There was prayer by Mr. Dickenson, after which Mr. Nealon delivered a very appropriate address, then came the declamations from most of the children of the neighborhood, and all did so nicely that it would be impossible to particularize any one. The singing? Well it was just fine. Among those who sang we may mention Mrs. John Vincent, sang, "Gather around the Christmas tree," while the choir joined in the chorus, Miss VanHardenberg, her two brothers and Mrs. McCoy, her sister, sang a quartette which was beautiful and well rendered. Mrs. J. O. Johnson presided at the organ the entire evening in a very able manner.

To close the entertainment Mr. J. O. Johnson's three little girls sang "At the Cross, and received applause. That frightened Santa Claus, and he, in the person of Mr. Chas. Dickenson, delighted and amused the little ones until the heavily laden tree was unloaded and all made happy by the numerous presents each received. It was then proposed to raise money to buy a flag for the school house. Mr. Pickens and Johnson went among the audience and in a few moments had sufficient subscribed to purchase a flag, and when school again opens in the Table Rock district the scholars will have the stars and stripes floating over their school building. This is the first move to place our flag on school buildings, that I know of in this county. Its a good one and should be followed by each district in the county. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Drumm, Mrs. S. Childers and Miss Pickens, the committee on program, for the very efficient manner in which they arranged the same.

The audience sang "God be with you till we meet again," and departed for their homes feeling that they had had an enjoyable evening.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Oregan, "I never by a far buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be safe and reliable. It is intended especially for colds, croup and whooping cough." 50 cent bottles for sale by G. H. Haskins.

Taylor & Son have got steam up on their monitor and are "making a run" on their own bank.

The Bear Branch people organized a literary at the District No. 26 school house, last week.

Mr. Harriet is expecting to shut his mill down in a few days—until better weather comes along.

Prof. and Mrs. Taylor went to Grants Pass a few days ago, and Mrs. T. had several molars extracted, some from each jaw and the Professor says he has not experienced so quiet a time as now, for a long time.

The good homicide wh killed his brother on Evans Creek a week or two ago, and the one the Jackson county lawyer, judge and jury concluded was too good for anything, was at a dance a few nights ago as hilarious as usual—comment is not to be thought of.

For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth saturated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound over the seat of pain. It will produce a counter irritation without blistering, and is not so disagreeable as mustard; in fact is much superior to any plaster on account of its pain-repelling qualities. It used in time it will prevent pneumonia. 20 cent bottles for sale by G. H. Haskins.

Mrs. Griffin and daughter, Lydia, of Josephine county, are visiting relatives in this section.

George Griffin who has been in this section for several months returned to his home in Josephine Co last week.

Milton Kerns departed for Josephine county a few days ago, to eat Christmas turkey dinner, and New Year's "crow."

N. S. Spencer has cleared the field adjoining J. P. True's place, and is plowing the same. It is quite an improvement.

Walking on stilts has become quite a fashion with the youngsters in our neighborhood since the recent bad weather. They wade across creeks and bridges with the greatest delight, seeming to enjoy being so far above the mud. But accidents will sometimes happen, and Dannie Solis learned the truth of this a few days ago. He had been walking around looking down with satisfaction on the mud beneath him when he concluded to try a race with his dog. Starting off at break-neck speed one of the foot supports gave away precipitating him head first and full length in the mud plowing quite a furrow. Results—boy and stilts laid up for repairs.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in effecting a speedy cure of colds, croup and whooping cough has brought it into great demand. Messrs. Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in that vicinity. Jas. M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. B. F. Jones, druggist, Wisconsin, Miss. says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly reliable. I have always warranted it and it never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by G. H. Haskins.

A farewell party was given Miss Nellie Vrooman at her home on Friday last, as she leaves soon for Grants Pass. Quite a number were present and an enjoyable time was had. Jackson County People's Party Call.

Issued by the chairman of the county executive committee.

DEAR BRETHREN: Nearly two years have passed away since we stood shoulder to shoulder in a battle for justice in Jackson county and in the state of Oregon.

Our political enemies thought we were too weak to meet them in open battle but they had forgotten that AMERICANS LOVE HOME, LIFE AND LIBERTY. When our first battle was over we found that our strength was almost equal to that of either of the old parties, and that to-day, because of our upright "middle of the road" policy, we are the strongest and best organized party in the county. If not in the state.

Why are so many being welcomed into the people's party ranks? It is because the officers of the old parties stay not the hand of oppression and robbery.

Let every brother do all he can toward organizing clubs in every precinct in the county.

The call of the State Executive Committee which was published in the Farmers Journal, Oct. 27, 1893, is the only law for the clubs. One change only is made which should be noted by all. The change is this—The meeting on the 3rd Saturday of January is changed to the 2nd of March. Each club should study this STATE CALL and follow it and so over and then we will have harmony all over the county and state. Each club should report to me the number of its members each month so that I can report to the State Executive Committee. Make your first report the 10th of January and each month thereafter. The 3rd Saturday of January the club will be a meeting at Medford of the county executive committee and the officers of the county central club are invited to meet with us. Your servant,

W. DAVENPORT, P. P. Ch. Co. Ex. Com.
