-Green is the fashionable color these days! Not for dresses, but for wrapping paper. You can see it on the streets, in the homes, in the farmers' wagons as you pass them on their way home from town. 'Tis used for wrapping all manner of dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps, and ladies' and gent's furnishing goods. All comes from the "New York Store," Medford.

-Among the several people who came to Medford last winter in quest of a location was Mr. John McNeil and family. They arrived here about the first of December and remained about six weeks, during which time Mr. McNeil drove about the country considerably looking for a location but could find nothing to suit him. They county but this time he has promised himself that he will find something to suit. As soon as he finds that for which he seeks he will send for his family who are now in the east.
