DOLPH 42--OTHERS SCATTERED.

No Change In Senatorial Contest—Several Bills Read Third Time and Passed.

Bill to Abolish Railroad Commission Reported Favorable—Gold Hill Incorporated.

And still the wheels do turn: The lawmakers are still working like beavers, and in the transaction of their duty at the making of laws, their attention is principally taken up with the election of U. S. senator. With this work they are making little headway. The prospects for a long and bitter fight increases with each day's balloting. The Dolph supporters are still confident of winning in the end, as also are the friends of the other candidates. The balloting Thursday gave Dolph 44, but on Friday last, he lost two votes and has not regained them, and prospects point very directly toward his defeat.

The other work of the people's representations is still dragging along, and many good and just bills are being introduced, which in one sense do not amount to much, and some of them should never be passed.

THURSDAY—JAN. 24.

As usual Portland has several "bond" bills to be past and it is quite possible that all of them will pass. The one authorizing the bonding of her schools for some $50,000 more has passed the senate, and now Senator Bancroft's bill, authorizing the city to bond for a quarter of a million and purchase the Morrison street bridge, is before the senate.

A few bills were introduced, when the senate adjourned to go into joint convention, after which an adjournment was taken for the day.

The house convened at 10 a. m., and after the usual preliminaries the introductions of bills was taken up and a number of new ones introduced, also were passed. Among those read first time were the following:

Burleigh—Election of road supervisors.

Yates—Making and publishing monthly statements of county officers.

Shulrum—Relating to mileage of jurors.

Jeffery—Relating to the attachment of corporation property.

Smith, of Josephine.—Leins for labor and material on mines.

Jeffery—Compelling transportation lines to carry lime in bulk.

FRIDAY—JAN. 25.

House was called to order by Mr. Shelbode in absence of Speaker Moore, who, being sick was excused.

Craig offered a resolution that no appropriation for state university and agricultural college should be asked for, which was referred.

Bills were then introduced to the number of 31, making a total number of 272. Following are a few of the most important bills read:

Beach—Declaring that amount named in insurance policy should be amount of company's liability in case of loss.

Smith, of Josephine.—Preventing discrimination between long and short hauls by railroads.

Jeffery—Mortgage foreclosure

Jeffery—Appointment of judges and clerks of election.

Jeffery—Relating to records of Jackson county, and salary of clerk and recorder.

Curtis—Defining libel and its punishment.

Myers—For examination and license of steam engineers.

Paterson—Publication of county court proceedings.

In the senate title was done outside the routine business, and the introduction of a few bills.

The result of the joint ballot for senator today, resulted in 42 votes for Dolph. Cooper, of Benton, bolting his former vote for Dolph, and Speaker Moore being excused from voting.

SATURDAY—JAN. 26.

House convened at usual hour, and after announcement of several special committees and other routine business, introduction of bills was taken up, among them being:

Smith, of Josephine.—Payment of county warrants.

Dunn—Incorporating Ashland.

In the senate a few bills were introduced, and after being read were referred, and second reading of bills taken up and a large number read and referred to different committees.

In joint convention the vote for U. S. senator was the same as Friday with the exception of Bennett whose name had been withdrawn and the name of J. K. Weatherford substituted, who received eight votes on the first ballot.

and roll call found most of the members present.

Thompson's resolution asking the re-instatement by congress of the tariff on wool, was adopted.

Nealson's bill incorporating Gold Hill was passed.

The bill changing the name of east Cottage Grove to Lemati passed.

Dunn's bill to reimburse school district No. 73 in Jackson county was read second time and referred to committee on claims.

In the senate a number of new bills were introduced. Several bills were reported on by the different committees—some favorably and others to be laid on the table.

Aside from the joint ballot for senator very little work was done.

TUESDAY.

Senate was called to order and at once proceeded with their day's labor.

A bill was passed fixing the salaries of the Lincoln county officials and attaching the county to second judicial district.

First reading of bills was taken up, among them being the following:

Paterson—to make streets public highways; read second time.

Senate joint resolution, Carter, for improvement of the Willamette, from Corvallis to Eugene; ordered printed.

Senate joint resolution, Raley, for joint committee of three from house and two from senate, to consider the purchase of an executive mansion was adopted.

In the house the usual preliminary business was transacted, and a few bills read first time.

The second reading of the bills was taken up, and upon passage, mention will be made in these columns of all important bills.

WEDNESDAY.

In the senate a number of bills were passed. Here are a few of them.

McClung—Authorizing mayors to bid in property for taxes.

Holt—Incorporating Gold Hill.

Bancroft—Sale of firearms to minors; third reading.

In the house Rencarsin offered a memorial to congress asking reimbursement of the state for the amount of labor and property furnished in the Indian wars of 1856-59 and for pensions of soldiers of these wars as well as soldiers of the Cayouse wars.

Moorehead's bill prohibiting a blacklist by corporations, was read second time and referred to committee on labor.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

As yet no senator has been chosen by our legislative body. Each lay the ballot has remained the same with most candidates. The populists are voting solid for Harv, and the Dolph men are staying by him to the number of 42. On Tuesday Davis changed his vote to Lowell, and Cooper, who had first voted for Dolph, and then bolted, again voted for Dolph. He gave as his excuse that he believed the majority of his constituents wanted Dolph elected.

The anti-Dolph men are confident of winning in the end, and it would not be surprising to see them join forces at any time. But they are no more confident than the Dolph supporters. In all probability a senator will be elected before our next issue, whether it will be Dolph or not remains to be seen.

Jacksonville News.

Dr. J. W. Robinson arrived home on Sunday evening's train, from a business trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. J. W. Merritt and daughter, of Central Point, are visiting Mrs. Merritt's parents—W. Moore and wife, of this place.

Miss Leona Montgomery has become a student of St. Mary's academy. This young lady is a daughter of J. B. Montgomery, of Central Point precinct.

Mrs. W. H. Bruuk and children, of Ashland, spent the greater part of the week visiting in this city with relatives and friends. Mrs Bruuk is a daughter of the late John Hockenjos.

J. Numan and wife have returned from a pleasure trip to Southern California. They were as far south as San Diego, and Mr. Numan's health was greatly benefited by the rest from business affairs.

Henry Ireland and wife have returned from Eagle Point, and have taken up their place of residence near the school house. Mr. Ireland is engaged in the manufacture of browns—with which he is supplying the local trade.

The dime social at the M. E. parsonage, Wednesday evening of last week, was one of the most successful entertainments—both socially and financially—that has taken place in our city for some time. The treasury of that church was enriched $13 by that evening's entertainment.

C. O. Damon, manager of the Medford opera house, was over from that city Thursday in company with a Mr. Shaw, business manager of a theatrical company, who came to see how many of our people would attend a performance to be given in Medford in a short time. These gentlemen stated that the company is composed of forty five people, and is first-class in every respect.

Little Sticky News.

BY THE DOCTOR.

An abscess was removed recently from the back of Harry Mathes' head.

C. C. Taylor, clerk of school district No. 24, is taking the census for 1895.

We are sorry to report the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wiley, on the 22nd of January.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Furry coal mine, under the clever superintendency of Sam'l Wayman.

A social dance was given at the residence of W. W. Taylor last Friday night, and a very pleasant occasion it was. Mr. Taylor and Ed Anderson furnished the music—and good music, too. Everyone went away feeling at peace with all mankind and hoping for another as good a time in the near future.

GATHERED TO THEIR FATHERS.

Ex-Congressman Eben F. Stone of Massachusetts died a few days ago at Newburyport.

Lord Randolph Churchill, one of the leading men in English politics for the last few years, died recently. The Right Hon. Lord Randolph Henry Spencer Churchill was the second son of the sixth Duke of Marlborough by his marriage with Lady Frances Anne Emily and was born Feb. 13, 1849, at Blenheim palace. He was a brother of the late Duke of Marlborough, who married the wealthy Mrs. Harmersley, and whose career as Marquis of Blandford created considerable criticism. Lord Churchill, or "Randy," as he was familiarly known in England, like many other young aristocrats, was educated at Eton and graduated from Merton college, Oxford. On leaving Oxford he traveled on the continent for a time, and returning to England made his first entrance into political life in 1874, being elected to the house of commons. His career was meteoric. Lady Churchill was Jennie Jerome of New York. She was a famous beauty and very wealthy.

Trouble seems imminent between France and the Dominican republic. A French man-of-war appeared off San Domingo city a few days ago and began to take soundings. Soon after she departed another appeared. The San Domingo authorities had a dispute with a bank a few years ago and eventually took $50,000 from it. The bank was backed by French capital and the bankers laid the case before the French government. France demanded that the money be restored to the bank, but the diplomatic negotiations seem to have resulted in nothing. A correspondent learns upon trustworthy authority that the French ultimatum has already been sent in, and it demands the return of $50,000 and $200,000 indemnity. President Heureau has declared that he has no money with which to pay.
