Totally Destroyed By Fire.

The large steam saw-mill of Klippel & Marcuson, located on Galls creek, about fourteen miles north of Medford, burned to the ground last Thursday night about midnight. Not only was the mill burned, but four adjoining buildings, and 155,000 feet of lumber were also destroyed. In the amount of lumber burned there was at least 90,000 feet of clear lumber, and the whole of this year's run was a total loss.

There is a difference of opinion as to the origin of the fire, but the general opinion is that the fire started in the vicinity of the furnace, and after smouldering for several hours, burst out in the fire room in a pile of sawdust and shavings that were piled there. A man who was employed about the mill and who was sleeping in the mill did not awake until after the flames had entirely encircled him, and he was obliged to dash through the flames in order to save himself from being burned alive.

On the log-way was at least a day's run of logs, and these, too, were consumed by the flames, as was also the company's large lumber wagon which had been loaded with pickets the night before.

Mr. Klippel has charge of the firm's lumber yard and business in this city, and was not at the mill during the fire. The total loss caused by the fire will be in the neighborhood of $7000, and the insurance was only $1800.

There is now ready for the saw at the mill about 90,000 feet of logs, and in all probability the firm will rebuild at an early day.

The loss is quite a heavy one for Messrs. Klippel & Marcuson, and is as well quite a heavy loss for Medford, as the firm had an extensive business in this city, and by the burning of the mill they will be considerably delayed in filling orders for lumber. The loss is more keenly felt because of the fact that these gentlemen have worked assiduously in the line of building up a good business, and now that the goal is theirs—it comes mighty tough. The insurance on the above property was carried by the Sun of London, A. M. Woodford, local agent, and this week the adjuster visited the fire scene and settled in full.

Bimetallic League Meeting.

A number of the members of the Ashland Bimetallic League came down Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a league in this city. A meeting was held in the opera house and while not largely attended there was a goodly amount of enthusiasm manifest. Speeches by Judge Howell, C. B. Watson, from Ashland, and others were listened to, after which the meeting adjourned to meet again Saturday evening to perfect organization.

Death of Jay Darnell.

The sad duty falls upon us this week of chronicling the death of Jay Darnell, son of J. K. Darnell, of this city which occurred on Monday June 17, 1895. Jay was eighteen years of age and had been ill for several months and while all possible was done by the attending physician and relatives to stay the work of the destroyer there has been little hope entertained for several weeks, because of the fact that that most dreaded of diseases, consumption, had become too firmly rooted.

Brief funeral services were held at the residence on Wednesday and was attended by a large concourse of people, who had gathered to express their regard for the dead and sympathy for the living in their sad hour of bereavement. The remains were interred beside those of his mother, in the family lot in the Masonic cemetery at Jacksonville and were followed to the place of their long rest by a large number of friends. The grave was beautifully decorated with flowers. The memorial sermon will be delivered sometime in July at the church. Deceased made profession of faith in Christ several years ago and died trusting in Jesus of Nazareth.

Bits of Local Railway News.

The S. P. is again running an observation car between Ashland and Hornbrook.

Brakeman Fred Frazier is again at work, after his visit with friends and relatives in this city.

The S. P. pay car passed south Wednesday and the railroad boys' sacks were replenished with the coin that buys bread.

W. E. Coul, the Rogue River Valley Railroad company's engineer has gone to Klamath county in the interest of the proposed extension of this road.

Chas. Childs, of Medford, is now acting as W. U. operator and Short Line station agent at Jacksonville. He still resides in this city, and goes over and back on the velocipede.

G. R. Pelton & Co. made a large shipment of dry hides to San Francisco Tuesday. The firm is also making daily shipments of poultry, to the above named city.

Miss Annie Keegan, who has been Short Line agent and telegraph operator at Jacksonville for two years past, left this week for St. Paul, Minn., to visit her old home and relatives.

Medford is still in the ring when it comes to handling freight. On Monday morning No. 32 left a car of merchandise, a car of flour for Lumsden & Berlin and a car of vehicles for J. A. Whitman.

Superintendent Field, of the Southern Pacific, states that the new time card for the overland and local trains of the road is being arranged, and will be announced, probably by July 1, when the changes are contemplated.

W. G. Curtis, assistant general manager of the S. P. system, and party, passed south Thursday, in special train of two cars. They left Grants Pass early in the day, and spent several hours fishing in the vicinity of Gold Hill.

It is rumored that when the new time card goes into effect an eating station will be established at Glendale, where passengers on the south bound overland will take breakfast. Ashland will then be dinner station for No. 16 and supper station for No. 15.

The Medford Brewery and Ice works shipped a carload of ice to Grants Pass Saturday and a carload to Pokenama Thursday. At the rate their ice is going out it is going to keep them hustling to get a stock ahead for the demand which fruit cars will make upon them when their shipments commence.

Charlie Lewis has returned from his visit to San Francisco and Stockton. He reports rapid progress in the preparatory work of the San Joaquin valley railroad, and says he has orders to go to Stockton as soon as the company's locomotives pass Ogden. He says there are over 1000 applications from engineers alone who wish employment on the new road. Charlie is all solid for a good job, however, and his many friends in this valley are pleased to note his success.

BICYCLES AND BICYCLISTS.

Bicycle riding is good for one who is troubled with insomnia and nervousness.

The newest, puncture proof band for use on cycles is made of strips of whalebone inserted between the air tube and the outer cover.

That championship bicycle race on July Fourth will be worth going many miles to see. It will be for medals, honor and championship.

The championship bicycle medals, which are to be "raced" for on the Fourth, have been received and are now on exhibition at Wolters' grocery. They are all round beauties and well worth doing some swift "pedaling" to win.

"Billie" Bates is still working with his "wheel"—getting himself down to a pretty swift movement. Some of the boys who have seen him doing practice work are of the opinion that if he handles his self right he will be rolling very close onto Prof. Day, Parker's best time. Billie is well muscled and has splendid staying qualities.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beek, Jr., and Miss Mollie Bradley rode their bicycles to Grants Pass last Friday. Mr. B. returned to Medford the same day but the ladies remained until Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Lamar. Mr. Beek rode down again Sunday and accompanied the ladies upon their return. The distance one way is thirty-one miles, which is pretty good riding for the ladies, and the return for Mr. Beek, making sixty-two miles, is a pretty dog-goned good day's ride for a man.

An Incomplete House.

We run wild over furnishing a house: its furniture, carpets, hangings, pictures and music, and always forget or neglect the most important requisite. Something there should be always on the shelf to provide against sudden casualties or attacks of pain. Such come like a thief in the night: a sprain, strain, sudden backache, toothache or neuralgic attack. There is nothing easier to get than a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, and nothing surer to cure quickly any form of pain. The house is incomplete without it. Complete it with a good supply.
