May and Helen Peterson, aged 11 and 7 years respectively, are under arrest at Denver on a charge of burglary. They entered a millinery store, one of the girls climbing over the transom and letting the other in. The children carried off a quantity of valuable goods which were found hidden in their mother's home. The parent is also under arrest.

Zip Wyatt, the Oklahoma outlaw, has been captured after a desperate chase. He made a single-handed fight against a posse and was disabled before he was taken. Wyatt was the leader of the most desperate gang of bandits of modern times. He was the last of the band to be captured. The others were shot or arrested at different times.

Elwood F. Butler and Timothy F. Sweeney, both employed by the Niagara Falls Paper company, were carried over the falls and killed. They were sailing on the river above the falls and their boat capsized and the strong current swept them to death in the caaract. Thousands of people saw the two men struggling in the rapids, but nothing could be done to save them.

At Quakertown, Pa., lightning struck the Methodist church while a prayer meeting was being held. Twenty persons were knocked senseless. Some of the injured may die. The sexton had his coat torn from his back and one of his shoes was slit as if by a knife. Minnie France was in her pew when the lightning struck. Both shoes were torn from her feet, the crown of her hat was wrenched away and her watch chain was melted. James Hoff was prostrated in his pew and most of the clothing was torn from his body. A panic followed the stroke.

A young Italian was robbed and almost murdered at Spring Valley, Ill., by five desperate negroes. A mob of Italians bound on vengeance failed to get the prisoners from the jail and then ventilated their fury on a settlement of colored people. Forty negroes were injured and some of them may die. The Italians did not spare colored women or children, their homes being entered and the occupants brutally injured by clubs and other weapons. The rioters ordered the negroes to leave and not to return. Numbers of colored men are collecting arms and assert that they will risk a return to Spring Valley. The colored people of Chicago held a mass meeting the other night to demand that the state protect the colored miners in Spring Valley from the Italians.

A cannon fired from a Knights of Pythias excursion train struck a passing train carrying the Third regiment of Ohio National Guard, resulting in the serious injury of a number of the soldiers. The regiment had been in camp at Johnson's Island and was returning. It was also the day for the Knights of Pythias of Springfield and Dayton to start camp at Sandusky. The two trains were to pass near Bellefontaine. The Pythians had a small cannon in the baggage car of their train and were firing salutes along the route. One of the salutes was fired as the train bearing the regiment was passing. The two trains were but two feet apart. The full charge of the cannon—powder, flash and wadding—was delivered right in the faces of the crowded carload of soldiers, who had the windows open.

Those present were J. D. Anderson and family, J. A. Copeland and family, Mrs. M. E. Hamlin and daughter, Lena, N. S. Bennett and family, Rose Chapman, W. M. Smith's family and Fred Edsal.

Married—At Table Rock.

A correspondent writes us from Table Rock like this: On Thursday, August 1st, a few of the friends and acquaintances assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter VanHardenburg to witness the marriage ceremony of their handsome and accomplished daughter, Miss Martha Nellie, to Mr. Albert Gall, the efficient and gentlemanly postmaster and druggist at Sams Valley. After much well wishing and many encouraging words for the happy couple, whose hearts are thus blended, the guests were ushered into the dining room where stood tables groaning under the weight of good things to eat. After partaking of this bounteous feast several hours were spent in social chat, when the guests departed. Rev. Slover was the officiating clergyman.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

Leased the "Pen" Works. The state stove works at the penitentiary have been leased to Lovenberg, of Portland. He pays the sum of thirty-five cents per day for each convict and a rental of $2,000 per year for the plant. He agrees to employ 100 convicts at first and twenty-five additional every six months until all are employed. All overseers and foremen of Mr. Lovenberg must be appointed with the approval of the superintendent in order that no objectional person may be brought into the prison. The contract runs for ten years.

Cleanest and Best.

The Walla Walla Union has this to say of the Wallace shows: Without exception, the cleanest, best and most thoroughly equipped circus and menagerie that ever visited Walla Walla pitched its mammoth tents near the O R & N depot early Tuesday morning and gave two highly polished performances—one in the afternoon and one in the evening. One thing which commends Wallace's shows is the absence of the noise, fighting criminal classes, too often found with the circus. The employees are courteous and polite to all, showing the effect of rigid discipline, working under the immediate supervision of Mr. Wallace, who has an eye on every one from the humblest hostler to the star performer. At Ashland tomorrow.
