Brownboro Items.

BY REBECCA.
Teamsters from every direction are very busy taking advantage of this fine, fall weather to get in their winter supplies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Culbertson, formerly of this valley, but now a resident of Ft. Klamath, is visiting relatives in the valley at present.

Wm. Marlow, of California, accompanied by his family, also Mrs. Carrie Hutchens, of Drain, Oregon, came to attend the funeral of their brother, F. Marlow.

J. W. Sevedge and family, of this vicinity, attended the fair several days, also J. A. Miller and family, Mrs. M. M. Brown and several others from our vicinity.

Our people were called on to join the sad procession which followed the remains of Frank Marlow to their final resting place. The procession was the largest ever gathered in this part of the country. As it wended its way up the hill it was led by A. C. Howlett, who also conducted the funeral exercises in a touching yet comforting manner. We as a community join with the general public in offering tributes of sympathy to the bereaved and suffering parents and relatives.

Table Rock Items.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Pickens went to Grants Pass on a visit Monday.

The Holiness Band is holding a protracted meeting in the Chaparral district.

J. O. Johnson took quite a band of hogs from his Table Rock ranch the first of the week.

Nearly every family in this end of the valley was represented at the fair during the week.

Hon. L. M. Nealon, one of the stock judges of the late fair, finished his labors and returned home Monday evening.

Polk Hull's many friends, in this valley and the country over, were glad to know that he was able to attend the fair.

Fred Hansen was fortunate enough to get a blue ribbon on his exhibits of farm and garden products at the fair.

Dr. and Mrs. Patterson, of Central Point, made their Table Rock friends happy by spending Sunday evening with them.

The following named people started to the Yreka fair Tuesday: J. C. Hall and wife, J. C. Pendleton, C. C. McClendon, W. G. Cleveland, Fred Jones and W. Marlin.

shot by F. Ammons last Friday, was buried at Rock Point Sunday.

S. G. Woods and Miss Clara Eachus were the guests of B. Miller and family, of Gold Hill, Monday.

T. H. B. Taylor and sister-in-law, Miss Booker and Harry Taylor and wife, visited relatives on Wards creek Monday.

Elmer Antony has rebuilt his house after having moved it nearer the road. Frank Ketchum assisted him with the carpentering work.

Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Rigby, of Medford, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hillis, of Wimer, Saturday and Sunday.

Fred Minthome, of this place, was married in Grants Pass Saturday to a lady from Portland, Oregon. They intend to reside on Evans Creek.

As John Woods, of Woodville, was coming from Rock Point Friday night his horse became frightened and Mr. Woods was thrown violently from his cart. He sustained some severe bruises.

Phoenix Shavings.

BY PODOBY.

There was a social dance given at Fisher's last Thursday night.

Mr. Laury is building a house for "Buck" Anderson on his place west of town.

W. C. Lions is building a house for Mr. Drumhill, on the place he purchased of John Arnold.

Wm. Short came up this week from below Grants Pass, where he is interested in mining. He is up only for a short visit.

Owen Short returned home last Sunday from Little Shasta valley where he has been working. He will go back in a week or two.

Mr. Fisher has built a house 12x24 on his property—lately purchased of Mrs. Stout. He has returned to Klamath, but Mrs. Fisher and the children are here to stay.

J. H. Langston arrived from Elgin Oregon, last week. He came by wagon and is stopping at present with W. C. Lion—and will locate in the valley. He is the kind of man needed here.

The dance given by Messrs. Caryer & Payne last Saturday night was well attended—and enjoyed by all present. Another party will be given by the same gentlemen on Saturday evening of this week.

Eagle Point Eaglets.

BY A. C. HOWLETT.

Dr. W. W. Stanfield was in Medford Monday.

Miss Nettie Chase started for California last Tuesday—to visit her sister Emma.

The farmers are busy gathering their corn and putting away the fodder for winter use.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willmoth, near Eagle Point, October 15, 1895, a daughter.

Mr. Rickter, of Lake Creek, was doing business in our town Monday—interviewing our merchants.

Wm. Perry and Miss Lulu Obenchain, of Big Butte, were visiting friends in Eagle Point Sunday.

Ed Hoyt, of Big Butte, stopped a part of Friday night with us on his return from the fair at Central Point.

Miss Benson, who has been teaching the Derby school the past summer, accompanied by Miss Sophia Simons, visited our school one day last week.

Chris. Pearson, of Big Butte, had the misfortune to have his finger caught between two sticks and badly smashed.

Mike Mayfield, one of the leading stockmen of the Meadows, has been in this part of the country gathering up his stock that he has on this range.

John McAlister, who was reported some time ago as having his leg cut, is still in a very bad condition and fears are entertained that he will lose his leg if not his life.

D. M. Simons has been delivering corn to A. J. Florey and Mr. Hendercardt is delivering to J. J. Fryer. The early frost damaged the corn considerable and the yield is not up to the average.

I am glad to be able to chronicle that Mrs. Clara Rader, who was thrown out of a wagon and badly injured is able to be about again. She was out riding Sunday for the first time since she was hurt.

C. Johnson, of Lakeview, camped here with his family Sunday night, on their way to the Hub, to buy their supplies. He is very favorably impressed with the appearance of our country and from what I can learn from them they would like to locate among us.

In my last I spoke of A. L. Hazelton threshing beans with a threshing machine, but the project proved to be a failure as the cylinder teeth cracked them so that Mr. H. has had to resort to the old way—frailing them out. He has about ten acres to clean in that way.

Charley Thomas has returned from his trip to Klamath county, where he is hauling supplies for the winter. Himself and mother accompanied by Miss Elsie Pool expect to start out there again in the course of a week. They have taken advantage of the abundant supply of fruit this season and laid in a large quantity for future use.

The conditions of Captain M. Caton are somewhat improved at this time. He is very weak from the loss of blood caused by the rupture of a blood vessel in his neck.

The sugar beet growers in Southern California have organized a protective association to resist reductions in the price of next year's crop contemplated by the factory men.

Ethel Kirk, 14 years old, recently stole 14 horses at Athena, Or. She was rested and when the officer asked her why she wanted to leave home she told him to mind his own business.

Three officials of the Paris fire department inspected the San Francisco organization. They are making a tour of this country to secure information for the improvement of the fire department of the French capital.

The Farmers' union of San Joaquin county has voted $2,500 toward buying a tract of land needed before the spur track to the rail pile can be laid and the tracklaying outside of Stockton commenced on the Valley railroad.

Professor Blake of New York, a mineralogist of world-wide reputation and extensive writer on scientific subjects, has been selected as professor of geology and mining in the University of Arizona.

Justus Held, a wealthy German of Oakland, committed suicide by drowning himself in the water off the Cliff House at San Francisco. Ill-health is supposed to have caused him to take his life, coupled with recent financial losses.

Colonel George H. Mendell, senior officer of the engineer corps, has been retired on reaching the age limit. He had charge of the coast defense works on the Pacific and was a member of the commission to regulate hydraulic mining in California.

August Meyer, a well-known retired merchant of San Francisco, committed suicide at San Rafael by hanging himself. He was sent to a private insane asylum some time ago, but was soon discharged as cured. Meyer was a German, 55 years old, and leaves a wife.

At Santa Rosa the jury in the case of Dennis McCarthy, charged with the murder of George Fox, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. Fox and McCarthy were employed by a rancher named Samuel Crooks. McCarthy for some reason was discharged and he seemed to have a grudge against Fox and Crooks. He secured a pistol and went to a barn where Fox was hitching a horse and shot him. The victim died four weeks after the shooting.

A well-defined ledge of gold-bearing quartz has been discovered three miles northeast of Glen Ellen, in Sonoma county. Assays of the ore have been made and the result has induced the finders to try to purchase the property on which the ledge is located and develop it.

Mrs. Leva Marshall, who holds the position of night telegraph operator at the lonely station of South San Francisco, had a battle the other night with two robbers. One of the men commanded her to open the safe, but instead of complying she shot at him with a revolver which she had secured on hearing somebody trying to break in the door. The man returned the fire and the bullet struck her in the arm. The fellows then escaped without trying further to secure money.

At Seattle the will of the late General A. V. Kautz is to be contested by two halfbreed Puyallup Indians who claim the general was their father. They say that when he was stationed years ago at Fort Steilacoom as a lieutenant he lived with their mother, a full-blooded Puyallup Indian woman, and he never made a secret of the relationship. The young halfbreeds are named Nugent and Augustus Kautz, and they will claim a share of the general's property, which was bequeathed to his widow and her two daughters. The claimants are both well educated. Nugent being industrial teacher at the Warm Springs reservation in Oregon.

Jack Harris, son of Len Harris, the Southern Pacific detective murdered by Anthony Azoff last year, was shot and killed at Sacramento some days ago by L. L. Callendine, who is said to have been Harris' warmest friend. Harris was jealous of his wife and while under the influence of liquor he became enraged at not finding her at home. He secured a pistol and started out to find her. Callendine was returning to his home and chanced to overtake Mrs. Harris. After walking together for several blocks Harris met them and fired a few shots at the couple. One bullet struck Callendine and he shot Harris, who died a day after the affray occurred.
