Report that England Wants to Buy the Island—Salisbury Reassures Olney.

Secretary Olney, by special direction of the president, made a recent demand on Lord Salisbury for an explanation as to the report that England designed to send a fleet of picked war vessels to American waters. The dispatch of Secretary Olney was sent to Ambassador Bayard, but it was couched in the most vigorous language of which Olney is capable. The dispatch called for an immediate reply and it produced the desired result.

Lord Salisbury cabled to Secretary Olney that the British government had not the remotest idea of sending a fleet to any point that might be construed as a threat against the United States.

The administration has received positive assurance that England is entirely willing to settle the Venezuelan question upon a basis satisfactory to this country, provided it shall not put England in the attitude of "backing down."

It is stated as coming from the executive office that the Washington authorities have reason to believe that a deal is pending between Spain and Great Britain for the sale of Cuba to the latter and that the United States is preparing to resist the transfer of the island at all costs.

Disappointment awaits the people of New Mexico and Arizona. They have been knocking for admission into the Union for many years, but the decree has gone forth that their prayers will be left unanswered for another two years. Speaker Reed and his associates caused the disappointment. The reason is that it is deemed of the highest importance to check any further growth of the silver strength in the senate and the best way to do that is to prevent any increase of representation from the mountain region. Therefore the house committee on territories will not report the bills for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico until too late for action by this congress.
