TO CORRESPONDENTS.—All correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only. This will prevent our re-writing the matter written on the reverse pages, which must invariably be done, and will also prevent many interesting items from being entirely overlooked. Correspondents who are short on supplies should notify this office, and we will promptly furnish what is needed.

Eagle Point Eagles.

BY A. C. HOWLETT.
Mrs. J. E. Stickle is confined to the house with inflammatory rheumatism.

Bennie Little, of Central Point, was the guest of D. Cingcade last week.

R. A. Potter made a trip to Ashland last week to visit his mother and brothers.

Rev. J. P. Moomaw will preach here next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

A. C. Howlett will preach at the Betz school house one week from next Sunday, at 11 a. m.

Last week Mr. A. Roberts and his two sisters, Nellie and Lulu, were the guests of F. Morgan.

E. H. Lewis and his son, Walker, start this week to make more improvements on their ranches on Elk creek.

Married, at the residence of John Smith, March 10, 1896, by Rev. J. P. Moomaw, Orlando Winkle and Miss Bell Mayham.

Oscar Goodell made a flying trip to Ashland last week. Charley Taylor came up here to visit his brother, Frank Goodell, who is living on Rogue river.

Mrs. R. A. Potter (Rosa) while using an inhaler made a mistake and blew instead of drawing. The result was the liquid compound was thrown into her eyes—quite a painful accident.

Mrs. Frank Lewis, in handling some clothing, accidentally ran a needle into her hand and in attempting to extract it broke it off leaving about one-half of it in her hand. Dr. Officer removed it for her.

Our school is so large, fifty-three pupils, and our school house so small that there is some talk of trying to bond the district to build a new one. Some are in favor of dividing the district and putting up with the old one, but a few are in favor of building a new one and having a graded school.

Last Friday Rev. L. L. Grover was called on to attend the funeral of Fred F. Downing, who departed this life at his home on Lake Flat, on the 10th inst, at the advanced age of seventy-two years and four months. Deceased leaves a wife, son and two daughters. Rev. Grover reports that a very large concourse of friends and neighbors attended the obsequies.

One night last week as J. E. Stickle returned from a neighbor's, where he and his family had been to spend the evening, he discovered some one in his woodshed, evidently for the purpose of stealing, and as soon as the would be thief discovered that he was seen, started to run, with Joe right after him. At one time he was close enough to have laid his hand on him but eluded his grasp and made good his escape after a lively chase of nearly half a mile. He knows the man and has him spotted. Mr. Morgan also reports that his home has been opened in his absence and eatables taken.

A family by the name of McAlister has for some time been supplied with eatables by the county, Mr. McAlister having for months been laid up with a cut on his leg. No provision had been made for clothing, so some of our enterprising ladies agitated a subscription for the purpose and Mrs. W. H. Stickle volunteered her services to make garments, while many of the mothers in the neighborhood remodeled clothing for the children. Mr. McAlister, the old gentleman, who has been afflicted with asthma and dropsy, started last Saturday for Redding, Calif., accompanied by Rev. John Wood, where Mr. McAlister has a daughter living.

BY MINERVA.
M. A. Shirley was in the valley last week. Mrs. Shirley is spending much time in her flower garden, which promises to be very beautiful.

Stan. Aiken is now looking for saws and other necessary machinery to add to his mill to equip said mill for sawing shingles and box timber. The boxes will not be put together here, but material baled, ready to be nailed together.

The following young men will not live single longer if they can help it. They desire to correspond with ladies matrimonially inclined. Will positively answer every letter received. Photos exchanged. Each of these young men have property and money. Perry Ellis—photographer; age 30, dark hair and moustache (Perry is almost a handsome man); 5 feet 9 inches; 150 pounds. Ren Green—wavy, dark brown hair, small moustache; age 22; weight 175; 5 feet 9 inches tall. George Stockton—light brown hair and small brown moustache; 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall; 138 pounds; prominent nose.

That Challenge.

Pardon you, sir, for your two months' delay in acceptance of my challenge! Why, of course, and all other sins save one—that of falsehood. We sympathize with you in all misfortunes. It is, indeed, a pity that your letter went the rounds of all "dead-beats," from town to town, and no one to claim the poor little cherub! We wonder that some keen-eyed Jesuit at the dead letter office did not confiscate your epistle for the honor of the wastebasket! Your acceptance of my challenge does not bear the stamp of integrity. You overlook deliberately one of my conditions, and in a general deceptive way the spirit and natural intent of them all. The fifth condition of my challenge was: "That the party against whom a final decision shall be rendered by a majority of the committee on this controversy shall forthwith forfeit one hundred dollars in gold coin for the sole benefit and use of the public school at Medford." How innocent and puritanical you are to over-rule that condition! You may try to "bluff" your readers, but as P. T. Barnum said that some people were easily humbugged all the time, it is no wonder that you can work your game with a certain class of devoted disciples. However, the enlightened class of Americans are not to be deceived by your tricks. Allow me to quote the Roseburg Review on A. P. A. and then you should blush for shame that you are, as a minister of the gospel, the so-called champion of the Medford A. P. A. council. "The A. P. A. movement has split a once peaceable community into warring factions and there is not a single excuse for its existence here. It has divided political parties, estranged friends, arrayed neighbor against neighbor, and carried dissent into fraternal lodges and church societies. It has been productive of not a single public or private good and breathes only the spirit of intolerance and bigotry." Now, Brother Fisher, I can not allow you to fish out of this money question, because your fame for slandering defenceless Catholic women and sisters is already gained, but your reputation for truth and honesty of principle in this controversy is forever lost. Money is the thing to corner all religious or political mountebanks. Therefore, be it understood, by all people of Southern Oregon, that you, Rev. Eli Eisher, having refused to accept my fifth condition, I, as an American citizen with all honor and dignity, deem it my imperative duty never to appear with you or your clan upon any public platform either in Jacksonville or elsewhere.

Yours in Xto Jesu,
L. P. DESMARAIS,
St. Joseph's church, Jacksonville,
Oregon, March 14th 1896.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Violent Acts of Lawbreakers and Losses by Fire and Accidents.
Simon Raten has been accused by a coroner's jury of Sacramento of the murder of two Japanese near Galt two weeks ago.

The bodies of an old man and a child which were found in a barrel in an alley at Chicago were placed there by medical students.

To escape arrest for embezzlement of government funds Frank Mapes, postmaster at Kansas City, Kan., committed suicide at his home the other night.

J. and P. R. Nicholson, the men who engaged in a fight with James Roop, and R. Conover, on the desert near Banning, are in jail at Riverside, charged with murder. They claim the shooting was done in self-defense.

Near Millersville, Md., two young children of H. Schultz were burned to death. The father and mother went out and locked the children in the house. In some manner the house got afire and was burned to the ground.

W. G. Mackay, a discharged employe of the San Joaquin county hospital, shot Bernard Cook when the latter's back was turned. The injured man will probably die. Mackay was incensed because Cook had taken his job.

"I cannot understand these stars. From their aspect it looks as if I would be blind before I die." Such was a remark by Dr. A. V. Burghill of Chicago, after making up his horoscope the other night, and the prediction was verified by a terrible explosion a few hours afterward in which he lost both of his eyes, and both of his hands were so mutilated that amputation was necessary.

The doctor was experimenting with some dangerous explosives with which he was endeavoring to compound a preparation for taking flashlight photographs.

A tray of diamonds was stolen from the jewelry store of P. Gottlieb at Denver on a recent afternoon. The proprietor of the store says the value of the stolen gems was $15,000. The thief managed to escape, after being followed and shot at by C. H. Leppia, the clerk. A Greek candy seller also tried to stop the thief, who turned and shot him in the wrist. It is evident that an experienced gang of diamond robbers has been operating in Denver, as valuable gems have been taken from shirt fronts of guests at the prominent hotels within the past week.

A crazy man, named La Pointe, appeared with a gun on a street at Brockville, Ont., and fired at people in the vicinity. He first shot and killed an old man, Peter Moore. Chief of Police Ross next appeared and was fatally shot by the madman. Then he shot and wounded an Indian, and next Constable Lindsley shot at the maniac, who returned the fire and fatally wounded the officer. By this time the town had become aroused and people got out of reach of the crazy man's gun. A man in a house fired at La Pointe from an upper-story window and the lunatic was wounded and taken to jail.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Interesting Items Picked Out from the Daily Dispatches.
President Cleveland has appointed John J. Brice of California to be fish commissioner, vice Marshall McDonald deceased.

In speaking on the Cuban resolutions in the senate the other day Senator Sherman paid high tribute to the courage of President Cleveland, which he said could not be doubted.

Senator Morgan has drafted a bill for the settlement of the Pacific railroads' debts. The measure prepares the way for the government to foreclose the second mortgage bonds and operate the Union and Central Pacific lines. It also provides for the refunding of the first mortgage bonds.

The senate joint resolution, directing the secretary of agriculture to purchase and distribute seeds, etc., as in preceding years, has become a law without the president's signature. Secretary Morton refused to carry out the old law and vigorously opposed the passage of the present mandatory act.

The senate has passed a curious bill which provides that no license for any marriage shall hereafter be issued to any citizen of a foreign country in the United States unless such citizen shall certify that the conditions as to the validity of the marriage according to the laws of such country have been complied with.

A Washington special says a report is current that President Cleveland has sent an officer of the army to Cuba as a special secret agent of his government to supplement the reports of the consular officers by professional reports on the military operations in the island and the condition of the insurgents as viewed from a military standpoint. It is said that reports from this officer have already arrived; that more are to follow and that the president will make use of the information they contribute in deciding upon the course to be followed by the administration, or in framing any message he may send to congress.

The supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of the people of California against the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific companies, involving the right of the state to tax the franchises of those roads. The railroad companies resisted this taxation on the ground that their franchises were derived from the national government as well as from the state authorities, and were inseparable. The court decided against this view, holding that the railroad companies owe their existence as corporations to the state, and are subject to state laws in respect to taxation.

The chief justice said that the state franchises have never been merged in the federal franchises and that they were as legitimately subject to taxation as the roadbeds of the companies. Justice Field wrote a dissenting opinion in which he said that the position taken by the majority opinion was absurd and unable.

ELECTRIC INCUBATOR.

A German Has Invented One Which Is Said to Be Successful.
The idea of an electric incubator has long been looked upon by poultry farmers as too theoretical to be of any real service. Herr Otto Schulze, who has been steadily striving to perfect such a system in Germany, has, it is said, at length succeeded in constructing an apparatus operated electrically, which overcomes the ordinary difficulties of the artificial hatching of chickens. The apparatus is easily manipulated, and needs a small, but constant, supply of current. Automatic attachments regulate both temperature and moisture, the adjustment working with such delicacy that a temperature is kept within one-tenth of a degree of the normal heat of incubation. From 90 to 100 eggs are hatched at one time. Herr Schulze is said to have remedied certain points in the electric "mother," which were found to interfere with its effectiveness. This contrivance, which is a box, in which freshly-hatched chicks can find heat and protection, while they are free to run about on the ground when they choose, has been devised as an accompaniment to the incubator.

TO GAIN WEIGHT.
Pale, Thin People Usually are Diseased.
The First Step Necessary to Gain Flesh is Health, then Proper Food for both Body and Nerves.
An Old Soldier's Clear, Straightforward Statement.

Florence, the cozy little suburb to the north of Omaha is agog with excitement. The older generation, of which the population of Florence is mostly composed, are apparently getting young again, and vie with the younger generation in feats of strength and agility.

A World-Herald reporter was attracted by the evidence of renewed activity of some of the older inhabitants of the village and enquired the cause. Mr. Andrew Finkenkel, who was a member of Company B of the First Iowa Volunteers during the war, made the following explanation of his strong, healthy appearance, when for years he had been crippled or compelled to lie on a sick bed with a complication of disorders resulting from the hardships which he was compelled to endure.

"In July, 1868, while my company was on the march through Austin, Texas, my leg troubled me considerably. But I thought that it was nothing but a recurrence of the effects of a sprain I had received during the war by my horse falling on me, but the pain soon increased to such a degree that I was compelled to ask for medical treatment. The surgeons pronounced the cause rheumatism and that of the worst order. At Alexandria, Louisiana, I was in such a weak condition, though I continued to march with my company, that the excessive heat overcame me and I was sunstruck, remaining unconscious several hours. As a result of the sunstroke, I was unable and have ever since been unable to remain in the glare of the sun, even on a moderately cool day, and every summer I have been overcome by the heat so that I would be compelled to give up my work. The feeling that experienced was a sort of bearing down on my head, as though a heavy body was resting there and at times it would come quickly, like a blow and I would unconsciously stoop as though involuntarily avoiding an obstacle presenting itself to my head. This bearing down gradually grew into a steady pain which increased until it seemed as though my head would burst over."

"There was also a constant ringing in my ears rendering it very difficult for me to hear. Coupled with this, palpitation of the heart caused me great trouble, and this grew so that the slightest shock to my nerves from a slight noise or other disturbance would set my heart to thumping against my chest and I would tremble from head to foot as though I had St. Vitus' dance. Three times from slight circumstances the palpitation was so great that I fainted and remained unconscious for from seven to ten hours, at which times my relatives despaired of my life. In addition to this the rheumatism, which had been felt only in my ankle, began to work up my right leg until the whole right side of my body was affected by it, so much indeed, that my head was drawn down to my right shoulder. I was totally unfit for work, lost my strength and flesh, and I tried every physician who was reported to me to have a special knowledge of my case, but after long trials, I only experienced temporary relief from the pain. I was confined to my bed during the greater part of the cold weather of each year.

"For twenty-eight years I have consulted physicians and taken their prescriptions without deriving any material benefit. My ailments increased in intensity until I was assured that there was no hope for me. During last year I went into the butcher business, but the dampness from the ice used increased my rheumatic pains to such an extent that I was not only compelled to quit the business, but was confined to my house and bed for nearly six months.

"I had given up all faith of being a well man again, when in November last I read in the World-Herald a case of a man who had been entirely cured from the ailments from which I was suffering, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Though the name did not at first strike my fancy, on November 28, I purchased a box. In a week I was astonished to know that I felt better than I had for six months past, and before I had used half a box I was sure that I had found a cure for my ailments. The ringing in my ears began to lessen in volume and finally left me almost entirely. I experienced aside from an increased appetite. The pain from the rheumatism gradually left me, so that within one week from the time I took my first pill I was able to sit up in bed. On January 1st, I was able to go out and walk around a little. The palpitations of my heart entirely ceased. On February 9, I was so thoroughly cured, that I accepted a position as night watchman in the Forest Lawn Cemetery, remaining out of doors from 6 P. M. until 6 A. M. I have gained in weight from 144 pounds which I weighed in November last, to 172 pounds which I weigh now.

"The rheumatism has entirely left me, except when I have too much walking to do during the night, my right ankle pains me a little, but only when I do too much walking. I now feel like a well man and am good for forty years yet. I am fifty years old and have resided in Florence nine years, having come to Omaha in 1881. I have recommended the pills to nine people in this village all of whom are taking them and experiencing the same beneficial effects which I have received. I used nine boxes of the pills."

Mr. R. W. Cowan, keeper of a general store at Florence was also seen by the reporter. Mr. Cowan is also an old soldier, having been a member of the 14th Infantry, Company C, and the latter of Company M of the First Minnesota Cavalry. Mr. Cowan stated that he had recognized the name while he was in the army and has never until within the past few months, received any relief. He stated that he had taken two boxes of the wonderful Pink Pills and was now almost thoroughly cured, so much so in fact that he has discontinued their use. He was also paralyzed in the left side of his face, the mouth being drawn up at the left corner, and he was entirely unable to move the muscles of his forehead or to close his left eye. He stated that he believes it is owing to the use of the Pink Pills that he has recovered the use of his left eye-lid, which, prior to his taking the pills had been flattened down by a physician so that the sight would not be destroyed from the eye filling with pus, and ascribes the recovery to the Pink Pills. He has gained fifteen pounds in weight since last October, and feels healthier and stronger than at any time since the war. He intends to recommence using the pills with the expectation of a complete recovery from the paralysis.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are considered an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over-exertion, or excess of whatever nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post-paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
