Mr. Neuber has recently had a large enclosure built over which is wire netting which will protect the birds until spring when they will be liberated in the valley.

There was a man in town Tuesday in distress, or in other words his property has been levied on for delinquent taxes. He called on the republican officials and told them a pitiful story. He had spent his last cent trying to elect the republican ticket in June and therefore would like a loan of a few dollars to square himself with the county. Just what success he met with is not recorded, but he hailed the democratic officials with the same story. Only made a change from republican ticket to democratic to suit the occasion.

J. K. Carpenter, superintendent of the Swayne mining property on Applegate, was here Tuesday. He reported that some party or parties had blown up a part of his flume Monday night and the damage is estimated at several hundred dollars. The flume which was five or six feet wide was suspended across Big Applegate on an iron trestle like the Rogue river bridge. The supposition is that a stick of giant powder may have been thrown in the ditch. The entire flume fell into the waters of Applegate. No clue to the perpetrators has been found at this time.

Obituary—Mr. Wm. Turner.

Our lamented, but well known fellow townsman, Mr. Wm. Turner, passed away on Wednesday night of last week and was buried in the Odd Fellows circle of the Medford cemetery. Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Adolph Haberly officiating. Mr. Turner was an elder of the Presbyterian Church. The local G. A. R., of which Mr. Turner was a member, took charge of the interment at the grave.

Mr. Turner was of English descent. He was born at Whitney, Oxfordshire, England, Oct. 17, 1828, and emigrated to America and settled in Chadron, Georgia County, Ohio, in 1852. The following year, 1853, he married Miss Harriet Smith, eldest daughter of Horton and Caroline Smith, of Chadron, Ohio. His wife and a son and daughter survive him. His son is now in Honolulu, enlisted in the government service. His daughter lives in Cuba, Mo., with her husband and family. Two daughters died in 1861. In 1862 Mr. Turner enlisted in Co. E, Ohio Volunteers and served for about nine months, when an exploding shell wounded him in his hand, hip and ankle, and a limb of an oak cut off by a cannon ball, fell upon him with almost fatal results. After his discharge he sought to restore his health by change of climate. After seeking in vain for health in Missouri, California and Texas he came to Medford in 1887 and settled here to spend his last days.

Mr. Turner was a man of singular purity of life and probity of character. He gave largely of his small income for the support of the gospel and to relieve others who were in distress. He was frequently seen with a basket of fruit or vegetables on some errand of mercy or charity. As a Christian he was very faithful and conscientious, attending every meeting of his church, unless absolutely hindered. An example of his faithfulness may be seen in an incident which occurred just before he fell into a sleep which was to end in death. It was prayer meeting night and he longed to be at the meeting. This, however, was impossible, so he spent his last hour of consciousness in a little prayer meeting with a neighbor who was visiting him at the time. A few hours later he quietly breathed his last and went to the great prayer and praise service above. Verily, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a regular meeting of Chester A. Arthur Post, No. 47, department of Oregon, G. A. R., the following resolutions were, on motion, unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED, That the charter of this post be draped in mourning for thirty days in memory of our well beloved comrade, Wm. Turner, who was released from duty and called to report to the Supreme Commander of the Universe on the 19th day of October, 1898. Comrade Turner was one of our most faithful and loyal members. He was born in England and at an early age he came to this country. He enlisted in Company B of the 105th Ohio Infantry and served faithfully through the war. He died at the age of seventy years, at his home in Medford, Oregon. By his death this post loses one of its most faithful members, the family a devoted and loving husband and father, and the county one of its most loyal and upright citizens. It is further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the city papers and the family of the deceased, and also spread upon our records.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhinehart, of Medford, spent the afternoon with Table Rock friends Wednesday, after looking over the dredger and Tolo mining property.

Dillon Hill came out from Medford Sunday and took back with him a fine Tokio colt that he had bought. He expects to make a "flyer" out of his late purchase.

Wm. Bybee was here Monday looking after his farm and stock interests. He has already seeded quite a large piece of land and will continue farming as long as weather is good.

Chas. Dickison and family spent Saturday and Sunday with friends near Medford. From him we learn that it is a question whether his parents return this winter or remain east to enjoy the hospitality of old friends.

Miss Olive Gregory, our popular teacher, left last Wednesday evening to attend the teachers institute at Jacksonville. She returned Sunday well pleased with what she had seen and heard, and pronouncing the session a grand success.

Judging from the way G. K. Walker is rushing goods into his Sams Valley store he must be counting on a big trade this winter. He has proved to a certainty that square dealing and small profits will bring customers, even to Moorville.

We had the pleasure of a visit for a couple of days last week from Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Dodge, of Grants Pass. Mr. D. has been doing quite an extensive life insurance business in the valley lately, but a few days ago met with an accident by his buggy being overturned, which practically laid him on the shelf for a time with a badly sprained foot.

Serious trouble is brewing among the Comanche, Kiowa, and Apache Indians in Oklahoma territory. For 30 years, since the Medicine Lodge treaty, the government has fed these Indians, but the treaty expired on July 1st. They have commenced killing cattle belonging to Texas cattlemen, and a crisis is near. These Indians have no crops, few cattle, and have had no money for months. Men who know predict famine among them this winter, and serious trouble. There are 1500 Comanches, 1300 Kiowas, and 600 Apaches.

Relations between France and England are seriously strained at present. England demands that France withdraw from Fashoda and France refuses. Both nations are busy making preparations for war. From information obtained of the mineral land office it appears that there was an increase of nearly 400 mineral entries during the fiscal year 1898 as compared with 1897. This, it is said, indicates a marked revival of the mining industry, which had fallen to its lowest ebb in 1895, when but 757 entries were made.

Great havoc has been caused by floods in the low lying quarters of Fiume, Austria, which have been submerged. The flooded parts of the city include a large portion of the British section of Fiume. Large numbers of animals have perished. The damage done is estimated at 2,000,000 florins.

William A. Nebel, assistant superintendent of mails in the postoffice at Milwaukee, was arrested and charged with tampering with the mails. He was released on $1000 bail. Nebel denies that he ever took any money.

The city of San Juan, Porto Rico, remains orderly and all is quiet elsewhere. Major-General Brooke is installed in the palace, and Brigadier-General Henry remains as commander of the district of Ponce.

A strange series of fatalities occurred in Butte, Mont., one day last week. Mrs. Christina Andrews, a divorced woman, fatally shot herself because John McLeod refused to marry her. Andrew Richter, a miner, was crushed to death in the Stewart mine. Enail Flankrey and Herman Heekle were killed in the Otisco mine, and word was received that John Raley, a well-known citizen of Butte, was killed by a train at Crete, Neb., on his way home.

Charles G. Henning, a bookkeeper at the Bank of Louisville, Louisville, is reported to be a defaulter in a sum ranging between $8,000 and $10,000. He has fled from the city. Henning's downfall is said to be due to wine and women.

Several weeks ago a daughter of John Black, a prominent Barry county farmer, living near Aurora, was taken ill and her case pronounced typhoid fever. Other members of the family soon became ill. Mrs. Black, a son and two daughters died, and John Black and another daughter are now seriously ill. Physicians are convinced that the trouble is not typhoid fever, but that the well from which this family obtained their water is poisoned, but how and by whom is a mystery.

A freight train on the Rock Island road broke in two on that of a steep grade near Fort Worth, Texas, recently. The rear portion crashed into the front section, wrecking and derailing several passenger cars. In one of the wrecked cars were ten men, evidently stealing a ride. Five of them were instantly killed and three are dying. Two escaped fatal injury.

There is a flywheel in Germany made of steel wire. The wheel is 20 feet in diameter, and 250 miles of wire was used in its construction.

Delicate Children

They do not complain of anything in particular. They eat enough, but keep thin and pale. They appear fairly well, but have no strength. You cannot say they are really sick, and so you call them delicate.

What can be done for them? Our answer is the same that the best physicians have been giving for a quarter of a century. Give them of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It has most remarkable nourishing power. It gives color to the blood. It brings strength to the muscles. It adds power to the nerves. It means robust health and vigor. Even delicate infants rapidly gain in flesh if given a small amount three or four times each day.
