Ex-Governor Pacheco Dead

Ex-Governor Romualdo Pacheco, of the most picturesque characters in the history of California, died Monday at the home of his brother-in-law, H. R. Miller, on Boulevard terrace, in Oak-land. He had been ill for six weeks with liver trouble. After a weeks' illness he seemed to have recovered and There he was taken ill again, and three weeks ago was brought back to Oakland for better medical treatment. The trouble rapidly developed into Bright's disease. About ten days ago the trouble took an acute form and death resulted as stated.

Romualdo Pacheco was a native Californian, born at Santa Barbara October 1, 1831. His early education he received from private tutors and at a school in Honolulu. He followed the sea until 17 years of age, when he returned to his Southern California home and engaged in the stock raising industry.

After five years of rural life the youth turned his attention to politics and in 1857, at the age of 26, was elected senator for Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties and served in the legislatures of 1858 and 1859. In 1861 he wa elected again to the same office and served in the legislatures of 1882 and 1863.

In 1863 he was elected state treasurer for four years, and in 1869 was again chosen state senator for Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties and served in the session of 1869-70. In 1871 he was elected lieutemant-governor for four years and in February, 1875, on the resignation of Governor Booth became gov-ernor and held the office until the elec-

more can any woman anly woman ask? It is a boon that Heaven intended should be granted to every woman.

Thousands fail of this because they have neglected to look after their health in a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health during the period of prospective maternity. The prospective mother cannot be too particular about her physical condition. If she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or loss of vigor and virility, her children will be weak puny and sickly. Dr. Pierce's Pavorite Prescription is the only unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of maternity. It makes these organs strong, healthy, vigorons, virile and elastic. It makes the prospective mother strong and cheerful. It robs maternity of its perils. It insures a baby constitutionally strong. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful specialist, who has had thirty years' training in this particular branch, during which time he and his staff of physicians have prescribed for many thousands of women. Medicines dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge upon you an inferior substitute merely for the little added profit he may make thereon.
