The farmers and teamsters in this vicinity might just as well prepare to give half the road for when we overhaul our bicycles with a couple of new tires, fourteen new spokes and a few other needed repairs, pay a five dollar fine for riding on the sidewalk and one dollar and a quarter license, we will certainly be entitled to part of the public highway—and not commit a highway robbery either.

BEGGARS GAIN WEALTH.

A Number of European Mendicants Who Left Pretty snug Fortunes.

The wealthiest known living professional beggar, Simon Oppasich, an Austrian, was born without feet or hands, and sympathy for his infirmities brought him a large fortune in the shape of alms. In 1880, when he was 47 years old, he had saved $12,000, and in 1888 he had increased his fortune by speculation to $25,000 in cash and about $40,000 in Trieste and Paretzo estates. Since then he has quadrupled his wealth by speculation on the bourse, says the London Mail.

When Tori, well-known Italian beggar, died last year, bank books, securities, gold and silver and other articles, to the value of upward of $80,000, were found in his rooms. His heirs were two nephews, who had been existing in a state of miserable poverty for years.

A beggar who died in Auxerre, France, in 1895, was found to have bonds to the value of 1,000,000 francs in an old trunk and 400 bottles of wine of the vintage of 1790.

The French seem to be a generous nation, for in the same year an old woman, who lived in a wretched garret in the Rue de Sevres, Paris, died, leaving government securities representing an annual income of $21, all made by begging.

A beggar named Gustave Marcellin, of Avignon, died in November, 1892, and left $20,000 in French government bonds, to be divided equally between the city and the Bureau of Bienfaisance, the great French charity society.

FORMOSAN CITY ABANDONED.

Residents of Plague-Stricken Teckham Are Compelled to Leave It.

The Japanese government has ordered the destruction of the city of Teckham, Formosa, and the removal of all its inhabitants to a new location. The city is situated on the northwest coast of the island, and has been frequently subjected to pestilence. In 1896 and 1897 plagues visited Teckham with enormous fatality. This fact being called to the attention of the government, an investigation was ordered by sanitary experts, who reported that the city was built upon a swamp, where upon an order was issued to the governor to select a new location as convenient to the old as possible, where the natural conditions were healthful. A new city was laid out, and each property holder in the old one was assigned a site that corresponded in area with the one he occupied at Teckham and was given 12 months to move his buildings and belongings. Sewers, railroads and sidewalks, public buildings, water-works and all other public improvements were laid out by the government in the new city without expense to the people, but they were required to pay the cost of the removal of their own property. Most of the houses and other buildings in Teckham are built of very light wooden material.

It is said that the much-talked-of gold-bearing quartz mine in Ohio has turned out to be a humbug. Nothing strange in that. A state that can produce presidents and other great men on demand, and in apparently limitless quantity, may well be allowed to turn up a gold brick once in a while.

The police at Tacoma say that J. Schwartz, who according to Dawson advices has been sentenced to eight years imprisonment, is the "King of Diamond Swindlers," who is notorious in Europe and America. The offense for which he is being punished was committed last July in Dawson. He was in the habit of paying his bills with gold dust, in which a large percentage of brass filings was mixed, and was successful for a long time before his artifice was discovered.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia. SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.
