ten years, the goose sometimes lives to 50 years. The chances at birth that a baby will eventually marry are nine in twenty, or rather less than one-half. This result may seem surprising, but it is largely accounted for by the great mor-tality of persons under marriageable age, especially of infants up to the age of five.

Dentists in Germany are using false teeth made of paper, instead of porce-lain or mineral composition. These pa-per teeth are said to be very satisfac-tory, as they do not break or chip, are not sensitive to heat or cold or to the action of the moisture of the mouth, and are very chesp.

A Russian officer has been making experiments, with very successful results, in the use of falcons instead of pigeons as carriers. It seems that they can fly very much faster. A pigeon covers ten or twelve leagues in an hour, whereas a falcon can do 15. It can also carry with case a fairly heavy weight.

A German doctor, who has been collecting information about the habits of long-lived persons, finds that the majority of those who attained old age indulged in late hours. Eight out of ten persons over 80 never went to bed till well into the small hours, and did not get up again till late in the day.
