mer as well as for the more definite sea-sons of summer and winter. The Indisn summer gown to be worn in Octo-ber will follow the cut of the summer gowns now being prepared for shelving, but woolly stuffs, lovely albatross, cam-el's hair and French flannels will be used. Crepon is revived, too, for this purpose. Scarlets, brilliant greens and white will be worn, and also will all shades of brown, but the latter will not be so characteristically in fashion. Wools dotted with silk, sometimes in amooth polkas, often in loose knots, are most effective. Such materials are made up in combination with silk, often according to elaborate design, and are intended for a career later at theater and house wear.

Some of these dresses will be of little use except for the season, after which they are named. These are for wealthy folk. More sensible gowns are as well suited to this new fancy in names, and serve until worn out. One shows for In-dian summer only by its color-cut and finish being without striking features.

Its broadcloth was a deep red. Embroidery of white silk was used freely, black velvet supplied belt, collar and plping for both skirts, and white-cord-solvilly cases the Velvet. piping for both skirts, and white-corded silk gave the V-shaped yoke. Ruffles of the dress goods, edged with faint tracery of embroidery, were used as shoulder finish. In view of the unaulmity with which first-class dressmakers declare that such shoulder treatment is out of fashion, it is surprising to see it crop out in stylish gowns, frequently on the output of these same critics. That it is about past there is no denying. That it occasionally appears is because women insist that plain sleeve tops make them look narrow-chested, and there are really very few permissible ways of trimming the shoulders.—Chi-young southern housewife found last summer, when corn began to be scarce, that she could succeed in making a larger dish of corn if, when she cut it off the cob, she added half a cupful of hominy. It was not detected when the dish was properly seasoned with milk, butter, etc. The hominy with mik, butter, etc. The nominy served admirably, also, for corn pud-dings and fritters. This same house-keeper makes a delicious dish which she calls "Saving Jack." This is simply rice and green peas cooked together with two slices of breakfast bacon. When done she seasons it as she would stewed peas, with milk, pepper, butter and a pinch of salt to taste.—N. Y. Trib-

A TIGER WHITE AS SNOW.

Carious Feline Phenomenon That Was Recently Killed in Assam.

There are white leopards and black leopards, and neither is very common but white tigers and black tigers are the rarest of wild beasts. A white tiger was, however, shot in Assam in February last. The animal was shot by W. H. Greenish, manager of the Naharkutia tea estate in upper Assam, and the skin sent to Mr. Newing a Calcutta taxi-

Mr. Newing has given the following particulars to the Englishman, a Caicutta newspaper: "Under process of curing, in which stage it is at present, the skin measures nine feet six inches from the nose to the tip of the tail, but on completion of the process another ten inches will be added to its present length. The color of the skin is a beautiful white, while the stripes, though not very clearly indicated at present, establish its identity as a genuine tiger skin, even did its length fail to bear out

"When the skin is properly cured and dried the marks will show quite dis-tinctly."

Newing says that in the whole eighteen years during which he has ex-ercised his calling he has not only never seen but never heard of such a thing

A correspondent of the same Calcutta paper points out that, though extremerare, white tigers are not unknown. Early in the century a specimen was on at the Exeter change and was figured by Griffith for Cuvier. Another was obtained by Maj. Robinson, of the Lancaster fusiliers, near Poons, in the Bombay presidency, and either this one or another has been recorded by How Saunders. Col. Goodwin Austen was aware of yet another specimen Black tigers are still more rare, a single specimen seen by C. T. Buckland near Chittagong being the only one on rec-ord.—N. Y. World.

A New Dog Disease.

Some local doctors are treating a new trouble known as dog palsy. Most of the victims are women. Those troubled with the affliction are persons who have been traveling about the streets, each holding a chain or cord, to which is at-tached a dog. The lively fox terriers are responsible for the most aggravated cases of the palsy, as they jump about so much when out for an airing. The hand, usually the right, shakes and swings when free just as if a dog were pulling at it on the end of a chain. Bulldog palsy is less pronounced, though it is said the steady pull of that breed has lengthened many a pet own-The treatment for the palsy is absolute rest for the arm, and an admonition not to lead-or, rather, follow-the dog with a chain.-Philadelphia Record.

WAR IN THE TRANSVALL

Progress of the Fight Between Butt and Beer.

LONDON, February 14 —The war office has issued the following message from Lord Roberts, received this evening: "DEKIL'S DRIFT, February 14.—Gen-sral French left this point at 11:80 yea-terday morning with three brigades of cavalry, Horse Artillery and Mounted Infantry, including several colonial coutingents, in order to seize a crossing of the Modder, distant about 25 miles. He reports by dispatch dated 5:35 p. m. that he had forced a passage at Clip Drift and has occupied the hills north of the river. capturing three of the enemy's laagers with their supplies, while General Gordon of the Fifteenth Hussars, with his brigade, who had made a feint at Ron deval drift; four miles west, has seized it and another drift between it and Clip

Drift, together with two more largers.
"General French's performance is brilliant, considering the excessive heat and a blinding duststorm which raged during the latter part of the day.
"Owing to the rapidity of his move ments General French met with but slight opposition, his losses being small. Lieutenant Johnson of the Inniskilling Dragoons is the only officer reported severely wounded. "The Sixth Division was last night or the north bank of the Riet at Waterval Drift, and is moving to support the cav-alry. The Seventh Division is here and will go on this afternoon."

LONDON, February 13 .- The war office announces that General French reached Kimberley Thursday evening. Following is Lord Roberts' message to the war office: "Jacobsdal, February 14.-French with a force of artillery, cavalry and mounted infantry, reached Kimberley this evening, Thursday."

LONDON, Feb. 17. - General Cronje. with a start of a day or two, is seem-ingly in full retreat from Lord Roberts, moving northward. General French, with the cavalry, simply stayed over night in Kimberly and then pushed on to get in touch with the retiring enemy.

A long Boer wagon train is moving toward Bloemfontein, followed presuma-bly by a large force of British infantry. In their hasty departure the Boers lost quantities of supplies and ammunition.

A fire in the buiness district of Bowle,

S. D., caused a loss of from $115,000 to $120,000, partially insured. The postoffice, People's bank and seven business firms were burned out.

LONDON, February 19.— The correspondent of the Times at Modder river, wiring yesterday, says:

"General Cronje's army of 10,000 men, with 1000 wagons, is in full retreat toward Bloemfontein, hotly pursued by General Kelly-Kenny. It will probably be a rear-guard fight all the way to Bloemfontein. Our cavalry has already returned from Kimberly to join in the pursuit."

LONDON, February 19. — It is now amply confirmed that General Cronje escaped. Every detail received, how ever, proves how admirably Lord Rob erts' plans were conceived and were suc ceeding. But for the unexpected delay at Dekiel's Drift, which was almost im-passable for wagons, the whole Borr delay of one day there gave them their chance for a hasty retreat.

All the other movements of Lord

Roberts were executed exactly as to time. Apparently General Oronje is retreating with the main army, and even if he escapes altogether he will probably lose all his baggage.

PEKING, February 16 .- An imperial edict just issued commands Li Hung Clang to desecrate and destroy the tombs of the aucestors of the Chipese reformer, Kang Yu Wei, and offers 100,000 taels for the capture of Kang, dead or alive. Though the edict pur ports to eminate from the emperor, it is evidently the work of the Dowager Empress, whose bitterness toward the reformer is thus further evidenced.

The India office at London has received a dispatch from Lord Curzon, the Indian vicercy, in which he says that he distress arising from the famine is steadily increasing and that those now in receipt of relief number 8,784,000.

The adjutant-general received the following cable message from General Otis:
"MANILA, February 15.—Bates left today with two regiments and a battery of artillery, on transports for San Miguel bay, province of Camarines Sur, to move on Nueva Caceres and towns in that section. The road east from Antimonan, through the province of Tayabas, is not practicable for troops.

"The insugents in Camarices show considerable activity and make attacks on our troops along the southeastern coast of Luzon island. It is reported that they hold several hundred Spanish and a few American prisoners in the vicinity of Nueva Caceres. A cable from Manila says: During the night of February 5, 3000 insurgents bolomen who had been armed with Mauser rifles, attacked the American garrison at Daraga, in Southern Luzon. Re-enforcements were sent from Albay, whereupon the main body of the enemy made an attack on Albay and burnvolunteer infantry, which was stationed at Albay, retired to a convent and fired attempted to set it on fire, but were have been fighting his power for years, routed by shrapnel thrown by mountain and the dispatch announces his overwere worked from the throw. windows. An expedition commanded by General Bates and consisting of the Fortieth and Forty-fifth Volunteer Infantry Regiments and Keiley's battery, with pack animals for transport purposes, sailed Thursday for the island of Camarines, southeast of Luzon. The expedition, which required six transports, was convoyed by the cruiser Baltimore and the gunbont Marietta. Will Burts, a negro, was lynched near Baskett Mills, S. C., by a mob of 250 men. Last Mouday night Burts attempted to assault Mrs. C. L. Weeks, a planter's wife. He escaped and a posse captured him. Burts confessed to attempt-ing to cut Mrs. Weeks, throat and said he told her he would kill her. A re-ward of $100 was paid to the man who eaptured him.

Florida orange growers are threatened with another loss, their new groves being in danger from the cold wave prevailing throughout the state. Early Sunday morning the mercury registered 16% degrees above. Sunday it was freezing, and that night was even colder. For a few weeks since the January cold wave the weather has been warm, and many groves have loaved out and began to show signs of spring life. Growers are fearful that these groves will be utterly killed or badly injured if the cold continues.

Frank G. Simmons, postmaster at Seward, Neb., was arrested and taken to Lincoln, charged with a shortage of $330. Simmons, who has long been prominent in state politics, admitted his shortage. David Figard, one of Simmon's bondsmen, when informed of the shortage and asked to take charge of the office, dropped dead. The St. Petersburg correspondent of

Carbolineum Avenarius.

The most radical remedy against chicken lice and the best wood-preserving paint is carbolin-cum avenarius, manufactured in Germany only. The farmers all over the country count amongst their heaviest expenses to run the farm, the lumber bill. All are undoubtedly interested to learn of a medium to reduce the same at least to half its former cost. This medium is carbo-lineum avenarius, a wood preserving paint based on 29 years' experience. Many are of the opinion that paint, tar and linseed oil will pre-serve the wood against ret and dreay. These, coatings only form an air tight cover, but do not destroy the albuminum parts of the wood, which always start the rot. The coatings with above mentioned materials prevent the evapo-ration of the wood and the consequence is dry rot. Carpolinium avenarius, on the contrary penetrates deeply into the wood and destroys all present decay matters. The carbolineum avenurius is applied with a brush and imparts a nice nut brown color to the wood. It is used on the farm for painting barns, granaries, silos posts, shingles, bridges, chicken soops, etc., and all woodwork above and below the ground. Carbolineum avenarius is also the most radical romedy against chicken lice. If you want plenty of eggs and healty chickens, the chickens must be free from lice and mites. Carbolineum avenarius will keep your henhouse free from this plague. One coat applied to the inside of the chicken coop will keep it clean from vermin. Kerosening and whitewashing, which has to be repeated every month, is done away with and expenses for suiphur and insect pow-der are saved. Whoever desires further information about carbolineum abould write to D. H. Millen, Agent, Medford, Oregon
