HOMELIFE OF A NAVAL WOMAN

She Has a Peculiar Faculty for Making a Home on an Hour's Notice.

One of the hardest questions a naval woman must decide is where exactly her duty lies, between her husband and her children, writes Anna A. Rogers out of her own experience in Woman's Home Companion. Poverty generally decides it in favor of the latter, leaving her no choice but to stay with her family during the three years of his cruise. At such times the wife remains in entire eclipse save for the letters, many and long, that strive to bridge the separation, and it is in these letters and the companionship of her children that she finds her chief consolation. But should there be that desirable thing, a source of private income, the wife is apt to hold different views, and she goes to the station where her husband's ship comes to a given port every six months for the necessary preservative docking. Wifehood is ascending, and the children are those of hotels, steamers and railways; little peacocks, nervous, overwrought, enervated, prematurely knowing as to the world and its ways, strangely ignorant as to what is called education. Then there is the third type, the childless wife, who scampers about merrily from port to port, and who has a consequent and sufficient accumulation of "experience" to make envy epidemic among the departed saints. This very homelessness leads to a specialized faculty among women of the navy for making a home anywhere and at an hour's notice. A wife will arrive perhaps a day, perhaps two hours before her husband's ship reaches a given port. She immediately finds a house or a room, wires the address to the husband, so that the message will go off with the mail-orderly in the first boat ashore after the ship's arrival. Then out of perhaps one trunk will come forth a marvelous international medley of little wall-hangings, a mantel-drapery, sash-curtains, table-covers, a vase or two (for flowers already bought on the way from the railway station), some photographs, a few books and the usual dainty toilet paraphernalia of the modern woman. When at last the longed-for step hesitates outside her door, and an experimental rap is heard, it is a freshly arrayed, radiant wife and hostess in her cozy little home who cries: "Come!" and springs to the door.

China's Undeveloped Resources. An indication of some of the important industrial effects which may be expected to follow the opening up of China, is given in recent reports concerning the Chinese tree called the "y-chung." Both French and English botanists assert that this tree contains a valuable substance resembling rubber, or gutta-percha. Mr. Weiss, of Owens college, believes that the substance is a true caoutchouc, and that the tree will become of great economic importance.—Youth's Companion.

County School Notes.

By Supt. G. A. Gregory.

Mary Dawson has the summer term in No. 78 and will begin next Monday.

Frances Barnes was found as busy and interesting as ever among her pupils, last week.

Audra Greninger is teaching her first term in No. 41 and is rapidly acquiring the methods that win.

Miss Griffiths in No. 48 has pupils in attendance who walk five miles and are punctual in their attendance.

May Sutton will close a very successful term in No. 44 this week, Friday, with an evening entertainment.

Corta Masterson closed his term of school last Tuesday and has another term for the summer offered him.

We have at last received some record books for school clerks, which may be had by dropping a line to the superintendent.

Olah Mickey is teaching in a romantic spot on the mountains, near Asbestos. Though her pupils are few she is busy with them.

Friday of this week the Dewey school will close with a literary program and a picnic in which parents and friends will unite with the children.

Lora Colton, in charge of Footh Creek school, has a full attendance and lively interest among her pupils. She will soon have a literary society in working order.

We had the pleasure of visiting the school in No. 27 last week, where Miss Bernice Cameron has one of the most interesting groups of pupils in the county.

Pupils in No. 58, Steamboat, were found wide awake and at their work with an earnestness that speaks well both for themselves and their teacher, Miss Day.

A. J. Hanby has taken possession of the school in No. 36. His family are with him and they are camped in a fine grove near the school house. School began May 21st.

Directors of No. 73 have again exercised good judgment and engaged Miss Susie Homes for next year's school. Keep the same teacher as long as good work is done is a safe policy.

It is quite certain now that the teachers' registers will not be ready during this term, so the best that can be done is to keep the record on blank paper and have it transferred when the registers are received.

During the past week we have enjoyed meeting and talking to the patrons along educational lines, in districts 3, 21, 40 and 60. In each case the teachers had prepared a good program by the pupils. Parents are manifesting great interest in all that pertains to the building up of our schools.

Many schools are planning to have some kind of special feature during or at the close of the spring term. Three schools united in a picnic last week at Kingsbury springs, bringing friends and acquaintances together for a pleasant holiday. Parents can well afford to drop their work and help the scholars enjoy an outing. School life will be brighter for it.

Educational meetings have been held recently in the following districts: 14, 17, 18, 48 and 52. In each case there was a good attendance of parents and patrons. Pupils enlivened the program with appropriate selections and the superintendent gave a talk along the lines of development and progress in rural schools. The interest shown by patrons is very commendable.

Mother's Love

Is boundless. Yet it is utterly helpless to give strength to the child born with a low vitality. The time to give strength to the child is before birth and to impart this gift the mother herself must be strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives strength to mothers. It preserves them in robust health in the months before baby comes. It practically does away with the pains of motherhood, and enables the mother to endow her child with a healthy body and a happy disposition. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium and cocaine. "I consider Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the best medicine made," writes Mrs. Mary Murdock, of 22 Taylor St., Topeka, Kansas. "I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty. Of my other babies, some were born at right time, but dead, others were premature births, one lived to be one year old but she was always feeble. Three different doctors but none of them could tell what my trouble was. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong. I did not know what to do, so I thought this last time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl and I can not praise your medicine enough for the good it did me." Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure heart-burn.

Beyond the statement that the department is still pressing the indemnity claims against Turkey the state department officials decline to indicate the character of the last instructions to Ohango d'Affaires Grissom. It is to be assumed that the Constantinople dispatch accurately sets out the character of the information. It is certainly not an ultimatum. It is probable that before taking this step the president might call upon congress, the war-making power, for an indication of its wish in the matter, so as to insure full support in the execution of any policy which he may feel called upon to adopt.

Attorney General J. C. Davies of New York, announced his decision in the proceedings against the American Ice company. He decides that the American Ice company is an unlawful combination, conducting its business in restraint of trade, in violation of law and against public policy, and he will commence proceedings against the company to prohibit it from doing business in that state.

Congress will soon adjourn. The senate may close on June 9 and the house is figuring to quit on the 6th.

Skin Diseases

When the excretory organs fail to carry off the waste material from the system, there is an abnormal accumulation of effete matter which poisons and clogs the blood, and it becomes sour and acid. This poison is carried through the general circulation to all parts of the body, and upon reaching the skin surface there is a redness and eruption, and by certain peculiarities we recognize Bozema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Brysipelas and many other skin troubles, more or less severe. While the skin is the seat of irritation, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and burning, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated and skin permanently injured by their use.

The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

The many preparations of arsenic, mercury, potash, etc., not only do not cure skin diseases, but soon ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

S. S. S., nature's own remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, of great purifying and tonical properties, quickly and effectually cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions. S. S. S. cures permanently because it leaves none of the original poison to re-form in the blood and cause a fresh attack.

Healthy blood is necessary to preserve that clear, smooth skin and beautiful complexion so much desired by all. S. S. S. can be relied upon with certainty to keep the blood in perfect order. It has been curing blood and skin diseases for half a century; no other medicine can show such a record.

S. S. S. contains no poisonous minerals—it is purely vegetable and harmless.

Our medical department is in charge of physicians of large experience in treating blood and skin diseases, who will take pleasure in aiding by their advice and direction all who desire it. Write fully and freely about your case; your letters are held in strictest confidence. We make no charge whatever for this service. Our book on Blood and Skin Diseases will be sent free upon application.
