Eagle Point Eaglets.

BY A. C. HOWLETT.

Wm. Holms and family, of Central Point, spent Sunday here.

Jos. Moomaw has taken a subcontract to carry the mail from Eagle Point to Climax.

Haying has commenced in this section of the country and consequently items of interest are scarce.

Mr. Root and family, who have resided here for about two years, sold their property to Jos. Moomaw and moved to Talent this week.

Mrs. Frank Tungate came out last week to visit her daughter, Mrs. E. Pool, and last Sunday the two visited Mrs. W. Pool and Mrs. John Rader.

Miss Anna Pankey, of Central Point, who has been visiting her many friends and relatives in this community for the past week, returned home Sunday.

J. M. Lewis and family, your correspondent and family and Miss Huffer all spent the day with John Rader and family last Sunday and had a very enjoyable time.

The traction road engine had a little trouble here last Saturday while crossing Butte creek and had to leave the wagons and go to the blacksmith shop for repairs.

After this week the people will begin to lapse into their normal state as election is over, and about three-fourths of the candidates will be casting around for something else to do.

Last week your correspondent made another trip to Gold Hill and while there closed the deal whereby he secured what is known as the Emery property in Eagle Point. Consideration $400.

Last Tuesday Miss Ollie Huffer, who is teaching in Rogue river district, had very appropriate memorial exercises in her school. About all of the patrons of the school were present and the children did fine.

Some of the Eagle Point ball players went to Brownsboro last Sunday and had a social game of ball. During the game Cefus Moomaw was run into by one of the Waltz boys and disabled so badly that he had to be taken home.

On Memorial day quite a number of the citizens of our neighborhood went to the Antelope cemetery and decorated the graves of departed loved ones. Quite a number also went to the Central Point and Mathews cemeteries for a similar purpose.

The many friends of Mrs. L. C. Stanfield, wife of the late W. W. Stanfield, formerly of Medford, will be pleased to learn that she is doing well. She is living in Kearny, Nebraska, and her daughter, Miss Daisy, is living in Hot Springs, S. D. Mrs. S. says in a letter that she longs to be back to Jackson County, Oregon, as it is the most desirable place she has ever found. Miss Daisy confided a secret to Mrs. H. but I am not at liberty to give it out just now.

"Of A Good Beginning

Cometh a good end." When you take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood you are making a good beginning, and the good end will be health and happiness. It never disappoints.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills. 25c.

Brownsboro Items.

BY REBECCA.

Dr. Madison, of Eagle Point, was in town Saturday.

J. W. Markeberry, of Gold Hill, accompanied by his son, Grover, spent Friday night in town.

Crops are looking well in this vicinity, and haying is the general work of farmers at present.

Geo. Brown, of Eagle Point, was the guest of Mrs. M. M. Brown Saturday. He also visited with friends in town.

Mrs. J. H. Tyrrell, of Lake Creek, accompanied by Miss Carrie Sackett, visited with friends here Sunday afternoon.

The men representing the Spaulding Manufacturing Company, spent Friday night in town. Geo. Stevens has bought one of their substantial hacks.

A large crowd witnessed the base ball game played here a few days since between the Eagle Point and Brownsboro teams. The score stood at the close of the game, 14 to 18 in favor of the Eagle Point boys.

Meadows Items.

W. O. Carter returned to Gold Hill last Monday.

Miss Cora Greninger made Medford a business call Friday.

H. J. Gardner made Central Point a business visit Saturday.

Miss Lila Sackett, who is teaching the Antioch school, spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bolls spent last week visiting friends near Eagle Point.

Mrs. P. Hull and Mattie Carter visited friends in the Antioch district Thursday.

Mrs. A. Pleasants, of Central Point, accompanied by her son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. B. Newbrey, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. Pleasants.

Street Incident.

"My dear sir," exclaimed Lawyer Bartholomew Livingston, meeting the Rev. Dr. Archibald Windham on the village street, "what does this mean? I thought you were laid up with all sorts of bad diseases!"

"And so I was," replied the reverend gentleman, "I had an attack of indigestion and from that time on my whole system has been in a disordered condition until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which has put me on my feet and cured all my stomach troubles."

"I don't doubt it," said the lawyer. "This same medicine cured my wife of rheumatism and my little girl of scrofula. When they say it's the best medicine money can buy, they only tell the truth."

"Yes, yes, so they do," replied the minister, and the two passed on.

Trail Creek Items.

(Crowded out last week.)

Mr. and Mrs J. G. Briscoe made a trip to Medford last week on business.

Charlie Briscoe and Robert Dawson were visiting with Harvey Inlow Sunday.

Mr. Owings, of Trail, has quite a nice stock of goods on hand now and seems to be doing a good business.

J. L. Ragsdale, the Trail creek nimrod, had the good fortune to kill three panthers; one measured eight feet and the other two seven feet each.

Our school is progressing nicely. The teacher, Miss Dora Lynch, and her pupils gave an interesting entertainment last Friday which was very much enjoyed by those in attendance.

Mrs. G. W. Owings and daughter, Madge, accompanied by several young people of the neighborhood, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. F. Hunter, of the Elk creek hatchery, and all seemed to have enjoyed their visit very much.

Dr. Ray, of Gold Hill, and his brother, from New York City, accompanied by several other prominent gentlemen, stopped at Trail one night last week on their way to the Elk creek mines and Crater lake, as well to other prominent parts of Southern Oregon.

A Monster Devil Fish

Destroying its victim, is a type of constipation. The power of this murderous malady is felt on organs and nerves and muscles and brain. There's no health till it's overcome. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Only 25 cents at Chas. Strang's drug store.

Kanes Creek Items.

BY SINE DIE.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Higinbotham visited with Mr. Knotts and family last Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor, of Galls creek, spent a day last week with Mrs. Annie Higinbotham.

Mr. and Mrs Elmer Nichols spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Witcher, of Rogue river.

Mrs. Way, who has been very ill, is now greatly improved. Dr. Chisholm, of Gold Hill, was the attending physician.

Mr. Miner is having an addition built to his residence, on Kanes creek. Mr. Higinbotham is doing the carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, who have been visiting relatives at Grants Pass, returned home Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. Jackson's sister, who will remain here during the summer.

There was preaching at the Dardanells school house last Sunday afternoon. A Sunday school was also organized and the following officers were elected: Mr. Jackson, Supt.; Mr. Nutt, secretary; Mr. Householder, treasurer.

A Frightful Blunder

Will often cause a horrible burn, scald, cut or bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures old sores, fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, all skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. Only 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Forest Creek News.

BY OPERA.

Mr. and Mrs. Armpriest were trading in Medford one day last week.

V. Hamlin, of Grants Pass, is visiting his uncle, James Armpriest, and family.

Miss Minnie Winningham, who is stopping at the Ish farm, visited the home folks last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Hoxie, of Williams, Josephine County, visited friends on Forest creek a few days this week. Rev. Hoxie preached at the school house Sunday, both morning and evening.

James Armpriest and John Winningham spent last week with friends and acquaintances on Rogue river.

The members of Wm. Bostwick's family, on the upper creek, are all down with malarial fever and whooping cough.

The Forest creek Sunday school will be reorganized next Sunday. All are invited to attend and assist in the work.

Wm. Bostwick and Jas. Davis have finished their clean ups, with very satisfactory results. Other miners will be heard from later.

Mining Locations.

F W Bush and J O Walker located May 23d, a quartz claim in Lucky Hollow district.

E A L Smith and L C Parrish located May 29, a quartz claim in Sams Valley district.

E D Brisco located May 23d, water right, tributary to Trail creek.

Orrin Thompson located May 29, 2 water rights on right hand fork of Pleasant creek.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Odd Effect of Electric Currents.

In a Brussels street traversed by an electric tram car line, it has been noticed that the trees on one side of the way begin to lose their foliage early in August, the leaves turning brown and dropping off. But in October the same trees begin to bud again, and sometimes even blossom. Meanwhile the trees on the opposite side of the street are unaffected, losing thir foliage late in the autumn and budding only in the spring. The cause of the anomaly is supposed to be leaking electric currents, which stimulate the growth of the trees affected.—Youth's Companion.

Plaster Casts and Statuary.

The ordinary plaster casts that are made with plaster of Paris cannot be washed, as the smooth white glaze with which they are covered is very thin and easily washed off. The safest treatment for the white plaster cast, when soiled, is to dust it thickly with either powdered starch, whiting or flour, and then rub it gently with cotton batting. Plaster casts that have been oiled or waxed may be covered with damp fuller's earth, starch or whiting, which must remain on until dry and then be gently rubbed off, using cotton batting for this purpose.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

All About Fence Posts.

EDITOR MEDFORD MAIL:—So many farmer friends speak to me about the irritating decay of fence posts that I venture, through your columns, to tell you how it can be avoided. Coating with carbolineum avenarius, the German wood preserver, will absolutely arrest decay from soil, climate and vermin. It hardens the fence posts, hop poles, house supports or other wooden fixtures treated and adds many years to their usefulness. I have saved time, work and money by using this compound and think no thrifty farmer should be without it. I see from articles published in the Oregonian that they are employing carbolineum avenarius in Portland for paving blocks, the Madison street bridge timbers, etc., with excellent results. What it accomplishes for city folks on a large scale, it will certainly accomplish for country people on a small scale when used for domestic purposes. No expert knowledge is required in using it. I have applied it with a brush the same as I would paint; or in treating fence posts or hop poles simply dipped them in a carbolineum avenarius bath. I have yet to record an unsuccessful trial of this preparation, and can cordially recommend it as a sure preserver of wood for whatever purpose used.

Carbolineum avenarius not only saves time and money by its preservative qualities, but its economic merits are augumented by the low price at which it is sold in this territory. If others reap the benefit of my experience this letter will not be wasted, but prove an absolute benefaction to our farming community.

I understand this compound can be procured at D. H. Miller's Medford, Oregon. I bought mine direct from Fisher, Thorsen & Co., at Portland, Oregon, who represent the German manufacturers.

PERHAPS SHE'LL "FERGIT IT"

But Willie Jones Will Get No More of the Suburban Girl's Nickels, Deaf and Dumb or Crushed.

When the suburban trains come in of a morning there is a real, deep pleasure in watching the throngs they bring to this large city, says the Chicago Tribune. Some find it comforting merely to gaze and ponder on this leaven which goeth forth to leaven the whole city—it is such a nice, cleanly, self-respecting leaven. There is none of the helter-skelter, unseemly haste with which the cable car throngs go to their daily toil. Here all is serene and elevating. It is charming and comforting. It makes one think of newly-paved streets, and pretty little rows of newly-fledged trees, and clean, proper houses that you buy at so much a month, and many things good for a hardened denizen of the city to think on.

In the spring they wear little bunches of flowers—violets, and cherry blossoms, and johnny-jump-ups, and others. It is touching, especially when they bestow the woodland wealth on hungry-eyed newsboys and their ilk. And the girls are tenderhearted in this respect.

There is one comes in every morning from Bloomdale, or Mossy Dell, or some sylvan nook around Oak Park. She is such an "altogether darling" that even the cob horses smile when she goes by. And she believes in human nature, and had a fervent faith in the charity that never faileth—the kind of charity represented by a nickel or dime dropped in every open palm between the bridge and State street—that is, until a recent Saturday.

On every other weekday she takes the 6:15 train westward, but on Saturdays it is the 3:10. Now it came to pass that for many days a sadeyed youth had haunted the cars of the 6:15. He is pale, and of a Smikelike slenderness, and he wore a little black painted tin sign with words to the effect that Willie Jones had been born deaf and dumb, had only been out of the state asylum a month, and would the kind-hearted public extend its assistance in getting Willie food and lodging?

The kind-hearted public, in the person of the suburban girl, donated regularly to the worthy cause of Willie Jones, and Willie Jones smiled faintly, and lifted his hat with humble grace in voiceless gratitude, and a tender feminine heart fluttered with the happy consciousness of easing the woe of the world by her mite.

Then came the shock. She was sitting in the train about three o'clock that Saturday, reading her paper, when suddenly a wistful voice murmured at her elbow:

"Pardon, lady, but would you kindly spare a nickel to help a poor fellow in trouble? I've been working in a factory, and got my arm badly crushed. Just out of hospital, lady—"

She turned impulsively, caught a full view of the speaker's face, and gasped. It was Willie Jones. There were only a dozen people in the car, but they got the full benefit of the scene that followed.

"Why, I think you're perfectly awful!" she cried, her blue eyes wide with horror at the depravity of the case. "I see you every single night, and you're deaf and dumb, and I've given you ever so many nickels. And now you've crushed your arm and talk. The idea! I think you're just terrible. I—I'm going to report you to the police."

She was almost crying, and Willie was touched by her evident disappointment.

"Aw, say, don't yer care," he said, comfortingly, as he backed himself against the opposite seat and arranged his bandage more effectively. "Us guys have ter live, yer know, and yous folks from the country are easy. You're all right, lady. Even if I ain't deaf and dumb I get hungry, and your nickels bought me many a red-hot on a cold day. Don't yer care. I won't strike yer for any more. Fergit it, fergit it. Bye-bye."

And she hadn't got over it by the time they reached Austin.

AMBIGUOUS NATIONALITY.

The Clever Scheme by Which His Friends Got Votes for Julius Kahn, a Hebrew.

Representative Julius Kahn, of San Francisco, is, as his name implies, a Hebrew. When he was a younger man in the Golden Gate city he was just as popular with every class as he is now in the halls of congress. In the last election, however, the chances all favored the success of a democrat, and it was necessary to leave nothing undone to insure a good showing.

Mr. Kahn and his American, Irish and German friends of the younger set knew that there would be a little prejudice against a Hebrew among the older men of the different races, especially among the Irish in the section of San Francisco south of Market street. Something had to be done to get every Irish vote. The young Irishmen had played and fought and swam with Julius Kahn, but if they told some of the old fellows that Julius Kahn was the man they should vote for there might be a rebellion in a few quarters because of his name and creed.

So the young Irishmen went among the old fellows and said: "Pap, vote for Jerry Kane, sure. He is the only real thing and the finest Irishman that ever crossed the green sea." The name accomplished the work, and Mr. Kahn carried everything south of Market street. It was funny, it is said, to hear voters asking for ballots with Jerry Kane's name on them.—Washington Star.

Tobacco a Necessity.

One of the few things of which the Boers have an inadequate supply is tobacco. While spending millions for guns and ammunition, they neglected to provide themselves with an abundance of the soothing weed. Soldiers positively cannot get along without it. They can easier in many instances dispense with food. An editor in Pretoria, the capital of the Transvaal, appreciates the situation. He has made an appeal to the citizens who remain at home to deny themselves tobacco in order that the supply of the men at the front may not be restricted.

Bad Roads in China.

Lord Charles Beresford says that the roads in China are very bad. When he was in that country he complained of them one day to an American resident, who replied: "Yes, a mule was drowned the other day in the road outside my house."
