Frank Ward, of Rockford, Ill., and his sister, Mrs. S. G. Wortman, of this city, left Tuesday morning for an outing at Coolestin.

Merchant D. H. Miller and Fred Barneburg were up near the ferry, on Rogue river, last Friday and Saturday on a fishing tour.

The family of Liveryman F. T. Goodwyn left Wednesday for the Elk creek country, at which place Mr. G. has been camping for a few weeks.

Miss Isabella Butler, of Palo Alto, Calif., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pierce in this city for a few weeks, left Tuesday evening for a visit with Portland friends.

Misses Mary and Esther Silsby, of Ashland, and their niece, Miss Ellen Silsby, of Stanford university, were in Medford this week upon a visit to Merchant I. A. Webb and family.

L. O. Brown and family and Miss Florence Simmons, of this city, and John Brown and family, of Central Point, returned last week from an outing in the Dead Indian country.

Merchant W. T. Kame and family, S. L. Bennett and family, Rev. Cradall and Mr. McKinney left Tuesday morning for a several days' outing at Crater lake and the huckleberry patch.

S. Bradbury returned Tuesday from Klamath and Lake Counties, whether he went a few weeks ago in quest of heavy draft horses for shipment east. He reports that he did not find any that suited his fancy—hence did not buy.

G. H. Fleming, the gentleman who pitched for the Medford ball team last Sunday, returned to his home at Portland Monday evening. He is a very fine young man—quiet, pleasant and gentlemanly always—and a good ball player.

O. C. Crawford, of Gold Hill, was in Medford Wednesday upon business. Mr. Crawford is S. Rosenthal's trusted store manager at Gold Hill and he was here looking over the Harbaugh stock of merchandise, which Mr. Rosenthal has purchased.

L. P. and F. W. Klippel returned last week from Nome, Alaska. They probably will not return, although it is possible L. P. may return, he having been in Alaska three years and has interests there. Henry, who went to Alaska last spring in company with Fred, did not return.

Attorney A. S. Hammond and family returned Tuesday from their two weeks' camping out in the Steamboat country. They report having had a delightful time—plenty of fish and small game, and deer tracks, but no deer, they presumably having been driven further back in the mountains.

Mrs. L. B. Littlefield, of Sacramento, Calif., is here upon a visit to her brother, B. N. Bunch, and family. It has been twenty years since brother and sister had met, hence it can be easily guessed that the visit is enjoyed by both. The lady will leave next week for Cottage Grove to visit another brother.

Uncle Thomas West returned Monday evening from a five weeks' stay at the Hurley place, on Anderson creek.

He reports having had a most delightful time and that he gained nine pounds in flesh during his stay there. There has been several families of campers there all summer and a new crowd came in the day he left.

F. M. Wilson, proprietor of the Vienna bakery, H. W. Stevens and T. G. Spangler were up in the Rogue river tall timber this week in quest of deer and fish. It goes without saying that they got what they went after with Mr. Spangler to guide them to the haunts of big game and Frank and Herb to lay them low.

A. Jackson and family left last week for Oakland, Calif. Mr. Jackson is the gentleman who was taken ill in Medford a few months ago while en route from California to Washington. The nature of his trouble, that of diseased bone in the leg, made the amputation of that member necessary, and it was taken off by Dr. Stephenson, since which time he has improved in health generally.

Mrs. Ira Phelps and sons, Earl and Francis, arrived in Medford Saturday from Scio, Oregon, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Tice, and many Medford friends. She says they are doing well at Scio and that Ira weighs over 200 pounds, and that he has given up all notions of going to Texas—the people of Scio wouldn't have it that way.

Merchant F. L. Cranfill, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edith, returned last week from a visit to his son, Charlie, who lives at Lookingglass, Douglas County. He reports that Charlie is doing fine on his farm. Aside from raising grain he has delved a little in stock raising and when work is slack on the farm he turns his hand to carpentering for his neighbors.

H. A. and H. G. Meyers, of Lake Creek, were in Medford Tuesday upon business. These gentlemen brought in twenty-four head of hogs (feeders) which they sold to J. W. Wiley at $4.65 per hundred weight. They have several more hogs for sale but they are not offering them at the above price, but expect to feed for a while and sell for the block. They also have a fine band of cattle to turn off this fall—for which they are assured a good price.

E. E. Van Antwerp was a Medford visitor Sunday. He is still in the employ of the Oregonian, as subscription solicitor, and is making all kinds of money. He was here only for a day, having been summoned by his paper to go up into Washington and "do" the Sound cities and towns. Earl is a MAIL student in the line of work he is now following—and he was an apt student—and he is now quite apt—to climb a good bit higher in newspaper work—and all his Medford friends are glad thereof.

Rose Cardwell Fitch Married.

The lady whose name appears in the above headline was a former Jackson County girl, having lived at Jacksonville for many years, and is a sister of attorney W. W. Cardwell, now in Alaska, and Mrs. Francis Fitch, of this city. The following is taken from the San Francisco Call, of August 10th:

VALLEJO, Aug. 9.—A most remarkable sequel to the Marcorae-Hall wedding of yesterday occurred at Mare Island today, when Rose Cardwell Fitch and Lieutenant Commander Walter S. Hughes, U. S. N., were married at the home of Colonel Muse, of the Marine Corps. The story runs that the couple were engaged before and had become estranged, parted and had no held any communication for more than a year. They met, however, at the wedding of Miss Macrae and Lieutenant Hall, and a reconciliation was effected, which resulted in the wedding of today, all of which happened inside of twenty-four hours.

The bride wore a handsome gown of gray and the groom was attired in full uniform, as were the many officers who were present. The bride was given away by Colonel Muse; the best man was Lieutenant Commander W. H. Shuetze, U. S. N. The wedding was necessarily informal on account of the exceedingly short notice. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Boorim, of the Philadelphia. The reception was held immediately afterwards in the beautifully decorated parlors of Colonel Muse. The decorations were roses and greens.

The bride is a strikingly handsome woman and a native of Oregon. The groom is well known in San Francisco and along the coast, having for a long time had charge of the Hydrographic office in San Francisco. The couple took the 4:20 train to San Francisco.

MOUNTAIN WATER FOR MEDFORD.

A special session of the city council was held on Tuesday evening of this week at which a resolution was introduced, and passed favorably upon, which virtually binds the town to purchase water from the ditch company provided it constructs the proposed Butte creek-Medford ditch.

The resolution in brief is to this effect: The Town of Medford, Oregon, to purchase from the Southern Oregon Irrigating & Power Company the required amount of water for all purposes of the town at these figures: Four cents per thousand gallons for the first 250,000 gallons used per day; two cents per thousand gallons for the next 350,000 gallons, and one and a half cents per thousand gallons used over the last named amount. The irrigating company binds itself to furnish the water in our eight-inch main at the west side of the Bear creek bridge. The vote on the resolution stood—Bradbury, aye; Lindley, aye; Erford, no; Jones, absent.

The first proposition made the town by the company was the same as above except that the water was to be delivered at the reservoir about two miles east of Medford.

It has been figured out that the town is now using over 300,000 gallons per day, and it has been estimated that the amount used daily during the year will average 250,000 gallons. This estimate THE MAIL believes to be large, as during five months of the year there is no water used for irrigating purposes or sprinkling.

Now that Medford has done its share toward securing the much needed water supply for the valley the matter rests entirely with the farmers who have land to irrigate—land which can be covered by water from the ditch. If enough land is contracted for the ditch will be built with a capacity sufficient to supply water for all these needs. If not enough is secured it is possible a ditch will be built only large enough to supply water for the town's use, together with the amount it is expected will be required for power in operating manufacturing plants in the town.

Mr. C. B. Williams, a member of the company, is now here ready to enter into contracts with as many farmers as wish to arrange for water. Mr. McCray, engineer for the company, is expected here this week and other members of the company will be here within the next ten days. If enough inducement is offered work on the project will be commenced at once.

Clerking

Looks more attractive than housework for a woman, but it is also even more exhausting. The work is often done under high pressure, and the brightness of the eyes and the flushed cheeks of the attentive clerk indicate nervousness rather than health. If this is true under most favorable conditions, what shall be said of those who suffer from womanly diseases, and who endure headache, backache, and other pains day after day?

No sick woman should neglect the means of cure for her womanly diseases offered in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, dries encumbering drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"A heart overflowing with gratitude, as well as a sense of duty, urges me to write to you and tell you of my wonderful recovery," says Miss Corine C. Holt, of Longwood, Orangeburg Co., South Carolina. "By the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am entirely a new being compared with the poor miserable sufferer who wrote you four months ago. I could scarcely keep up to walk about the house, and yesterday I walked four miles and felt better from the exercise. I now weigh 125 pounds. Mine was a complicated case of female disease in its worst form."

C. P. HUNTINGTON IS DEAD.

RACQUETTE LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 14.—C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, died at his camp, Pine Knot, in the Adirondacks, at about midnight. Apparently well on retiring at 11 o'clock, he was taken suddenly with a choking spell, which was quite common with him and was not thought to be serious, but he became worse.

As soon as the seriousness of the attack was realized, a messenger was dispatched to the camp of Governor Lounsbury for a doctor and he was on hand in half an hour. Mr. Huntington died without gaining consciousness, not more than three quarters of an hour having passed between the attack and his death. Mrs. Huntington and Mr. Huntington's secretary, G. E. Miles, were at his bedside at the time of his death.

Early in the day of Monday Mr. Huntington appeared to be enjoying the best of health, walking about his preserve and taking a trip on his private steamer, the Oneita, and he remarked to his friends that he was feeling unusually well.

Mr. Huntington's wealth is estimated at from $50,000,000 to $70,000,000.
