We want would violate the game law.'

D. R. Andrus:-"I have just taken out 400 bushels of very fine lime from my kiln on Coleman creek. Am I through burning? Well hardly. shall burn at least one more kiln this fall. There has been quite a demand for lime in Medford this season and I figure that the demand is not nearly upplied. Everybody is well satisfied with the article I put up."

Rev. Wilfred Smith, son of Wm Smith, of Eden precinct, left Tuesday evening for Althouse, in Josephine County, at which place he is to take his first ministerial charge, he having been appointed to that position by the conference of the M. E. Church, recently held in Ashland. He has been preach ing at various places in this county. but was not admitted to the ministry until the meeting of the last conference

H. G. Shearer: -"Where's the street sprinkler? Was that what you asked? Well, it's been retired for the season Some of the patrons pulled off from the list of contributors and we just naturally pulled the sprinkler off. The streets wont need sprinkling any more this fall anyhow, and we figured it would be an act of charity to the contributors to quit. It's a big job, this street sprinkling, and requires a great amount of time.

C. Carey, Phoenix:-"Real estate up our way is having quite a boom these has. I have a cracking good crop of and some of the land will turn out 200

J. E. Toft:-"Where have I been all summer? I have been attending strictly to business-and I've had lots of it Been out in the country most of the time. I painted J. McDonough's new residence, down at Tolo, also Col. Maury's, between Jacksonville and Central Point, and now I am at work painting Dr. Jones' fine East Side residence, also his new barn. There has not been any scarcity of work in any line this season."

Ed. Bodge :- "Say, Bilton, what do you know about the irrigating canal? Is is going to go, do you think? You think it will; well, I hope you are guessing correctly. W. H. Hembree:-"Almost daily I am asked if the poultry show is going all. My landlady thought she had this tree cards. Not only local breeders but us with cold water and let us stand for fanciers from Willamette valley points, twelve hours, then add a little sliced and as far north as Spokane, are writing for space. From the outlook there will be in the coops of the show as fine a lot of birds and hares as were ever exhibited in the state. Oregon is comslow but sure. We expect the coming show to advance poultry and pet stock the farmers' hearty co-operation in this affair. There will be no fair in Southern Oregon this year and we want this show, to a great extent, to take the place of one. The name "Fruit and Poultry Show," does not express all we mean to make of it. The coel and gold miners have promised to make an ex hibit, and we want the ranchers big squashes, turnips and cabbage. His mammoth stalks of corn, sorghum, wheat, oats, etc. We are arranging fo suitable prizes for vegetables, grains and fruit. Can't you take hold of this and help give the show and Southern Oregon a boost? For further information apply to any member of the association.

Buying Petite Prunes.

F. Osenbrugge is doing a little business in buying dried fruits in Medford. He has already purchased 40,000 pounds and is still buying. Mr. Osenbrugge is but recently from St. Paul, Minnesota, and, having seen and tasted the quality of propes in the markets there, he has concluded that the choice varieties of prunes of the Rogue river valley, Medford who were so very kind and especially the petite, will find a ready and profitable sale in the cities of Min nesota, and he is arranging to supply them with several carloads. In each box packed he is having placed several printed slips, of which the following is home.
