A rather novel wager has been made between a young lady and gentleman, of this place, on the result of the coming presidential election. The agreement is that if McKinley is elected the gentleman is to take the young lady in a wheelbarrow, from her parents' residence in Eagle Point, and wheel her across the county bridge to Brown & Sons' store and then back home; and if Bryan is elected the aforesaid young lady is to take the young gentleman over the same route on the first Sunday after it is definitely known which is elected. Your correspondent is to announce in THE MAIL the week before who the parties are and the time when the ride is to take place.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumber," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Chas. Strang's drug store.

TO PREVENT DECAY.

Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolineum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolineum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national governments both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay. Following their example cities and counties have also adopted Avenarius carbolineum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventive against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ Avenarius carbolineum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities. Private individuals desiring to lengthen the life of wood work and the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with Avenarius carbolineum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of third street in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge. The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The gentlemen in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying Avenarius carbolineum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individually or officially responsible.

Fisher, Thoreson & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for Avenarius carbolineum, and it can be found at D. H. Miller's, Medford, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.

Played Out.

Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it became so it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixir has never failed to cure scrofulous or syphilitic poisons or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Sold by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Wherever Mrs. Browning trod, whatever she touched, became endowed with the sacredness of her presence. When Mr. Browning returned with her on a visit to England, after an absence of several years, he repaired to the little church in which they had been married, and there, at the entrance, he reverently knelt and kissed the paving stones upon which she, the light of his being, had stepped. And in after years, when the light had gone from his life, he sought this sacred spot on the twelfth of each September, and in the dusk of the evening shadows passers-by might have seen a white-haired man kneeling for a moment as if in prayer before the doorway of the dark and silent church. Yet little would they have thought to recognize in this man the poet Browning; he whose mystical writings had led the world to regard him as a man of austere nature.—Clifford Howard, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Removes everything in sight; so do drastic mineral pills, but they are mighty dangerous. Cures headache, constipation. Only 25 cents at Chas. Strang's drug store.

CATARRH: FORERUNNER OF CONSUMPTION.

Few realize what a deep-seated, obstinate disease Catarrh is, regarding it as a simple inflammation of the nose and throat, little or no attention is given it. But, however insignificant it may seem at first, it is serious and far-reaching in its results. The foul secretions entering the circulation poison the entire system. The stomach, kidneys—in fact all the organs—feel the effect of this catarrhal poison, and when the lungs are reached its progress is rapid and destructive, and finally ends in consumption. It frequently happens that the senses of hearing and smell are in part or entirely lost, the soft bones of the nose eaten into and destroyed, causing intense suffering and greatly disfiguring the face. While sprays, washes and salves may give temporary relief, no permanent benefit can be expected from such treatment.

CATARRH IS A CONSTITUTIONAL OR BLOOD DISEASE,

and far beyond the reach of mere local remedies. Those who rely upon them for a cure lose valuable time, meet with disappointment and allow the disease to take firmer hold. Only a real blood remedy can reach this troublesome and dangerous disease. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it first cleanses and builds up the blood, purifies it, makes it rich and healthy, stimulates and puts new life into the sluggish worn-out organs, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous accumulations.

Mrs. Josephine Polhill, of Due West, S. C., writes: "I had Catarrh, which became so deep-seated that I was entirely deaf in one ear, and all inside of my nose, including part of the bones, sloughed off. When the disease had gone this far the physician gave me up as incurable. I determined to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and began to improve at once. It seemed to get at the seat of the disease, and after a few weeks' treatment I was entirely cured, and for more than seven years have had no sign of the disease."

S. S. S. is made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful tonical and purifying properties. It is the only vegetable blood purifier known, and a certain and safe cure for all blood troubles. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and at the same time write our physicians about your case. They will cheerfully give you any information or advice wanted. We make no charge for this.

SEEKS WATER, GETS GOLD.

Rich Strike of a New Jersey Farmer While Digging a Well on His Farm.

Joseph Fritts, a farmer living near Woodglen, in New Jersey, thinks he has struck gold and silver ore on his farm in what he believes paying quantities. Fritts had a well on his farm which lately became dry. Two weeks ago he and his two sons began to dig another well. Eight feet under the surface they found small rocks flecked with spots that looked like gold and silver.

On Thursday Farmer Fritts went to Trenton and placed the ore in Prof. Lombard's hands, with instructions to make an assay at once. This was done and on Friday night a report came back showing that both gold and silver were contained in the specimens in paying quantities.

Just what the assay showed Farmer Fritts would not say, but he intends working his newly found mine for all it is worth.

BIG DEAL BY TELEPHONE.

Business Negotiations Concluded Between New York and St. Paul Involving $600,000.

In closing a business deal between New York and St. Paul two men carried on a telephone conversation for one hour the other day. The distance from New York to St. Paul is 1,322 miles by rail, and a letter would be nearly two days getting there. Telegraphic correspondence covering the same transactions would have consumed nearly a whole day, the telephone people say, and the delay would have killed the deal. It cost $120, or $2 a minute, to carry on the long distance dialogue. The amount involved was $600,000.

A St. Paul agent was ordering goods to that amount from a firm in lower Broadway. The induction on the wire made it impossible for either party to the deal to understand the other, but one girl in New York and another in St. Paul were able to understand because they were experienced operators.

DON'T KNOW HOW TO EAT.

Both Beauty and Health Are Lost to Women by Ignorance in This Respect.

If women realized how important to beauty is the food they eat they would not be so careless as they notoriously are as to what they consume and the manner in which they dine, lunch and sup. A physician of large practice declares that drink and hurry and worry send most men to the insane asylums, but love affairs, combined with a lack of food, throws most of the women off their balance. The love affairs would have but little influence over them if they were properly fed, but among the illusions in which girls and women indulge in is that, as they care very little about their food, so the lack of it cannot have much effect upon them. They rather despise men for being careful to have regular meals, whether business presses or not, and are inclined to vaunt their own superiority in such respects. But if this disregard of the natural instincts of hunger leads women in the same path as "drink and hurry and worry" lead men, and if they are to be humiliated and hypersensitiveness in love affairs, how preeminently does male common sense stand out in the matter.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.
