THE MEDFORD MAIL

Published Every Friday Morning.

A. S. BLITON.

MEDFORD, FRIDAY, NOV. 16, 1900.

MAN WAS BORN TO HUSTLE.

He is of few days; but quite a plenty.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

Entered in the Postoffice at Medford, Oregon as Second-Class Mail Matter.

The witty cynicism of the modern Frenchman is displayed in the following unique advertisement in a Parisian paper: "A young man of agreeable presence, and desirous of getting married, would like to make the acquaintance of an aged and experienced gentleman who could dissuade him from taking the fatal step."

ACCORDING to a report published by the Home Office in London, showing the mineral productions of the world for the last year, the United States easily leads all its rivals in this form of wealth. Great Britain ranks second, but far behind the leader, the total output of United States having been about $720,000,000, while that of Great Britain was $400,000,000. Germany stands third, with nearly $250,000,000.

IT MADE Democrats tired when the Examiner came out the day after election and said, editorially, that free silver and anti-expansion was a fake and a delusion—and had been a Jonah to democracy all through the campaign. These two issues were played for all they were worth for votes during the campaign but when they didn't win the Examiner was honest enough to admit that it had been jollying its readers with fake issues.

THE Democrats are fixing up a new democracy. They don't seem to like the old one, notwithstanding the fact that they have been telling the people all along that it was the original Jeffersonian article. The new organization, at the head of which is Willie Hearst's yellow journals, will need to set their pins upon a very solid rock foundation, if they expect them to stand the hammering which our hero statesman, Mr. Teddy Roosevelt, will give them in 1904.

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER. Use Acker's English Remedy in any case of coughs, colds or croup. Should it fail to give immediate relief money refunded. 25 cts. and 50 cts. Sold by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Echoes From the Street.

W. H. Meeker:—"I tell you business is good. We never before did the amount of business we are doing this fall. Why is it? Well, I couldn't tell you exactly how it does come about. I might say it was because we are carrying a better line of goods—that would be true, but it might not be the real cause. I might say the people had more money—but it might be said that that was political talk, and since election is over I don't care to continue the war into an issue that's past and gone. However, business is good. We had a letter from Bert Brown a few days ago. He is a traveling salesman for the same firm in whose wholesale establishment he began work when he left here. He is getting along finely and likes his work."

J. W. Ling:—"I have been out at Fred Furry's place a few weeks painting his residence. Mr. Furry has recently finished a new 16x26 two-story addition to his residence and I want to tell you it makes him a splendid home. I painted the old and new buildings and they look all right. D. L. Day, the painter, and myself will go to Jacksonville this week and paint banners and transparencies for the jollification at that place Saturday night."

U. S. Bartholomew:—"I came up from Roseburg Monday evening. We organized a splendid lodge of Fraternal Brotherhood there. We opened it with forty-seven members—and all good fellows. While I have no reason to complain of the treatment I received there, and I'm not saying a word about the town, but I want to say that I think a good bit more of Medford than I did before I visited several towns down the line."

Jake Huger:—"Mr. Voorhies had the finest crop of prunes this year I ever saw put up. I delivered 32,000 pounds to Mr. Osenbrugge recently and I would not be afraid to bet the value of them that three-fourths of the whole amount would grade 40's. Yes, we are getting the work pretty well shaped for winter. Mr. Voorhies and family left last week for Kentucky, where they will spend the winter."

Joe Olwell:—"We are very busy engaged packing and shipping apples. Our early estimate of our crop was sixty carloads but the wind shook off a great many of them, since which time we have dropped the estimate to fifty. Yes, I think it will hold out that many—and all good, sound fruit. We are shipping to Chicago and several points east, and to Los Angeles and San Francisco."

D. T. Lawton:—"Business is all right—doing lots of it. There is a new drummer's buggy I just sold H. E. Ankeny. No, he is not a drummer, neither is he going to start out peddling spavin cure or Wizard oil, but those drummer buggies are just the article for these mountain roads."

J. A. Whitman:—"I was in Roseburg this week and while there met my friend Roach, one of the publishers of the Plaindealer. He has a very nice office and newspaper plant and, seemingly, is doing a good business."

Hon. Carl T. Jones:—"My daughter, Miss Mabel, found her lost purse. A gentleman in Portland, a Mr. Wright, found it in a car seat and returned it to her. She thought she lost it at the depot."

School Superintendent Daily, by phone:—"I wish you would say in your paper, this week, that eighth grade examinations, for county diplomas, will be held in the various school houses of the county on November 22d and 23d."

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. B. Phipps, of Potomac, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

—If you can't find what you want go to G. L. Davis—he's got it.

Death of Salon Colver.

Salon Colver was born in Ohio, March 5, 1849, and died at Salem, Ore., Nov. 6, 1900. He crossed the plains with his parents in the year 1850. They came to The Dalles, and down the Columbia river, stopping at Silverton and Eugene until the year of '52, coming afterwards to this valley.

The deceased joined the Presbyterian Church at Phoenix about the year of '70, his name still appearing on the roll of membership. All the family are deceased excepting Mrs. Foudrey and Mrs. Farlow, the family originally comprising of two brothers and three sisters.

The interment took place on Nov. 5th, in the Colver burying ground, near Phoenix, after service at the residence of Elbert D. Foudrey, which was conducted by Rev. Wm. Clyde. The singing was led by the Presbyterian choir. The townspeople indicated their respect for deceased by their attendance and floral offerings.

Union Missionary Meeting.

The third missionary union of Medford was held in the Christian Church last Thursday, Nov. 8, 1900, with the president, Mrs. Root, in the chair, and Miss Lillian Rhinehart presiding at the organ. Mrs. G. L. Webb delivered a few words of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. Davis. Pearl Webb sang a solo, "The Holy City," which is always a favorite and was especially well rendered. The remainder of the time was taken up with reports from the different societies and showed them all to be in active working condition and accomplishing a great amount of good.

The time from 12 until 2 p. m. being the social hours, was spent in social intercourse and luncheon, which was served by the ladies of the Christian Church.

The afternoon service consisted of praise service, led by Mrs. J. Merley, and a solo by Miss Rhinehart, which was very nicely rendered.

During the president's hour a number of excellent papers were read by Mesdames Van Dyke, Bennett and Moore. Mrs. Gist was appointed to fill the secretary's chair at the next meeting in February, which will be at the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Pierce was appointed press correspondent. A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of the Christian Church for their hospitality, and the meeting closed with the Doxology.

MRS. G. L. WEBB, Sec'y.
