To send out of town for articles that can be procured at home.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

The golf playing that goes on in the United States costs $15,000 a year.

Two Strike, the old Sioux chief, so long the implacable foe of the white man is reported to be dying

Kansas has abandoned the sub-treasury scheme and is going after a U. S. mint to be established at Kansas City.

A New York party claims to have secret information of the death of Aguinaldo, which, he says, occurred six weeks ago.

Another instance of growing is the fact that postal receipts have passed the $100,000,000 mark. The deficit is reduced to less than $6,000,000.

Trade with Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines has reached $50,000,000 or about three times what it was formerly. In a few years it will be in the hundreds of millions.

Pouring oil on troubled waters isn't always what it is cracked up to be. Down in Southern California trouble over rival oil claims gives excellent promise of ending in an amateur war.

St. Joseph, Mo., and Boston, Mass., have adopted a novel plan of having portable school houses to move about to take care of the overflow from the schools. It is a good idea and might be adopted in the country in some districts.

It is almost certainly decided that Paul Kruger will visit America in February. He will probably be accompanied by W. T. Stead, who will make a ringing campaign in favor of stopping the war.

Preparations for making the second inauguration of President McKinley a memorable event are being rapidly pushed in Washington. A guarantee fund of nearly $50,000 has already been subscribed.

Chicago must look to her laurels if she wants to keep up with New York. A thirteen-year-old boy has just been sentenced to the Juvenile Asylum in the latter city on the charge of being a professional gambler.

A land dispute now pending in the Russian courts is said to have been begun five hundred years ago. Some men when they once begin a fight, never give up, but the original plaintiff and defendant in this suit must surely be a little weary of it by now.

At the close of business hours for the nineteenth century and the year 1900, Assayer Fred A. Wing, of the United States assay office, at Seattle, said that in the past twelve months his receipts have been forty-six and one-eighth tons of gold and silver.

Russia is said to have a war fund of $500,000,000 in gold and France $600,000,000, while other European countries have large sums accumulated for the same purpose, which is a little disquieting to those who look for an era of universal peace early in the twentieth century.

Fire broke out in the Rochester Orphan Asylum, in Rochester, N. Y., at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning in Hubbell Park and the flames spread rapidly to other sections of the institution. It is known that twenty-one of the children perished and it is feared that many more victims may be reported later. Twenty-five were injured, some doubtless fatally.

The postmaster-general's report shows that there are 76,688 post-offices in the country. For the year ending June 30th last there was $102,354,579.29 of gross revenues, and a loss of only $12,518.78 from insufficient bonds. There were 510 notices sent to sureties notifying them of delinquencies of postmasters. There were 18,386,332 pieces of registered mail handled; 1704 pieces were lost, of which all but 355 were recovered.

An actor has brought suit against a mining man of Spokane for $50,000, cold cash, for alienation of his wife's affections. It happens that the defendant is the son of a millionaire, hence the big damage suffered. If he was a poor devil, without property, it might happen that the despoiled husband would give him a bonus for taking the woman off his hands.

There is in Paris a hotel which has 4000 employes. The smallest kettle in its kitchen will hold 100 quarts, and the largest 500. Each of the 50 roasting-pans is big enough for 300 outlets. Every dish for baking potatoes will hold 225 pounds. When omelets are on the bill of fare, 7800 eggs are used at once. For cooking alone, 60 cooks and 100 assistants are always at the ranges.

President McKinley declined to pardon the notorious Capt. H. W. Howgate, whose prison sentence for embezzlement of government funds expired December 29, and the president was right. Howgate escaped deserved punishment for many years through "pull" with those who probably shared in his stealings, and when at last he was put on trial was clearly proven guilty. He has no just claim for restoration to citizenship.

In a recent address to the students attending his course of gynecology, Professor Friedrich Schanta, of Vienna, expressed the opinion that law and other professions should be thrown open to women, because at present too many of them crowd into medicine, for which few are fitted. Of every 100 female medical students, he said, only 33 became physicians, the others being incapacitated by the horrors of the dissecting-room and other impediments.

President Hays, of the Southern Pacific, arrived in San Francisco, this week, and formerly took charge of the management of the road. He states that the company will take no part in politics, neither state nor national, and that it will be conducted squarely upon business lines in the interests of the stockholders and the patrons of the road. The new president receives a salary of $55,000 a year. When he started out as a boy he worked for $40 per month.

The total quantity of gold for the year was 1,345,123.41 troy ounces, with an assayed value of $22,038,755.12 and it represented the individual deposits of 7,106 persons. Over $16,900,000 came from the Klondike, and the remainder from other parts of Alaska, British Columbia, Washington and other states. The highest mark was reached in July 1st, when over four-tenths of the yellow metal was deposited in the assay office in twenty-six working days. Nome's output was $3,723,271.14.

In a letter written from the Philippines just before election, to his folks in West Superior, Wis., Capt. Harry W. Newton says that at that time the encroachments of the natives were worse than they had been at any time during the year previous. As one instance of their ferocity, he writes: "The other day they jumped a detachment of our Twenty-fourth, numbering about twenty-two men, and captured six teen of them. One of them was found terribly mutilated, showing sign of being skinned while yet alive."

The postmaster-general estimates that 31,000,000 of the 96,000,000 people in the United States now of today require a complete and neatly printed line of stationery. Your business should be represented in an attractive manner upon every piece of stationery you send out. It costs but little more in the long run and carries with it an air of propriety. THE MAIL job department is replete with facilities for printing letter heads, envelopes, cards, etc.

That Win.

have the benefit of the free mail delivery. A few years ago none but those "well-healed" could afford a daily paper, now nearly all—even in the country—are in a position to have the morning daily placed at their doors before the sun sets. The postoffice department machinery runs smoother than that of any department of the government, and the United States postal service is incomparably superior to that of any other country.

The annual sale of articles accumulated in the dead letter office began on Monday in Washington and the catalogue which had been issued listed more than 4,000 lots, ranging from false teeth to diamond rings. It is a miscellaneous collection of small articles which have gone astray in the mails. It is noticeable that nearly every other package on the list contains some article of a woman's wardrobe. Among other things there is a collection of "false switches" which is comprehensive. The catalogue does not offer any explanation of the reason for sending "false switches" through the mail. One would suppose that the sender of such an article would be particularly careful to direct it properly.

Mr. Rockefeller's latest gift to Chicago University makes a total of about $9,500,000 which he has given to that fortunate institution, which he founded in 1890. This makes an average of nearly $1,000,000 a year for each year of the decade. Nor have his gifts been confined to that university. A year ago he gave Brown University $250,000, and he has added large sums to the endowment funds of Newton Theological Institution, Wellesley and other colleges. In addition, he has been generous in his gifts to church, charitable and missionary enterprises. If all his benefactions during the past three years were summed up, it is calculated that they would exceed $15,000,000.

Phillip Danforth Armour, philanthropist, financier and multi-millionaire, and head of the vast commercial establishment that bears his name, died at his home at 2115 Prairie avenue, Chicago, at 5:45 Monday evening. A muscular inflection of the heart known as aortic stenosis was the immediate cause of his death. He had been slowly recovering from pneumonia, that for three weeks had threatened his life. At 9 o'clock Monday morning his heart gave way under the strain of his recent illness, his pulse running up to 103. That was the beginning of the end. Mr. Armour has been the head of the greatest pork packing establishment in the United States for many years and had amassed a fortune estimated at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. He was also heavily interested in other great public enterprises, such as bank, railroads and insurance companies. He was well known for his charitable bequests and was highly honored and respected by his business associates and employees.
