Do not forget that in this age of electricity, X rays and things there is no such thing as standing still in business. You must move one way or the other. Your business must either increase or decrease. You don't want it to do the latter. It is a demonstrated fact that advertising pays, if placed in a good medium. The best medium in Southern Oregon is THE MAIL. It has a circulation of 2200. This we guarantee to be true.

CITATION.

In the County Court of the County of Jackson, State of Oregon.

In the Matter of the Estate of Phoebe J. Bendure, a helpless child of John Bendure, Deceased.

The People of the State of Oregon, to George M. Love, Greeting:

BY ORDER of the Court you, said George M. Love, are hereby cited to appear before the Hon. Charles Prim, Judge of the County Court of the County of Jackson, State of Oregon, at the court house at Jacksonville, within four weeks after the date of the first publication hereof on to-wit: The 9th day of July, 1901, at ten o'clock of that day, to show cause why you, the said George M. Love, should not be removed from your office as guardian of the said Phoebe J. Bendure, and for the further purpose of fully accounting for all the assets and property of your said ward that you have now in your possession.

In testimony whereof, I, Gus Newbury, ex-officio clerk of said Court, do hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of said Court at office in Jacksonville, said county and state, this 4th day of June, 1901.

GUS NEWBURY, Clerk.

Birds cannot open the foot when the leg is bent; that is the reason they do not fall off their perches. If you will watch a hen walking, you will notice that it closes its toes as it raises its foot, and opens them as it touches the ground.

The enormous growth of the orange cultivating industry in California in recent years is demonstrated by the fact that in 1880 81 a total of 15 cars laden with the fruit were shipped east from Riverside, Calif., while in the season of 1897-98 the shipments amounted to 4,7000 cars.

A new gun now being constructed by the War Department is expected to send a projectile weighing 2,380 pounds a distance of twenty-one miles, and should further improvements be made in that line we may eventually have a gun that we can put up on the coast and fling a shell over to Europe whenever we wish.

The word "gazette" is from the name of an old Venetian coin worth about one-half cent of our money. The name is applied to newspapers because it was the sum charged for reading the first written journals that made their appearance in 1550. After the paper was read it was handed back to the owner, who charged the next comer a gazette for taking a peep at it.

The Engineer Corps of the United States army will explode 7200 pounds of dynamite in the Narrows of New York harbor, shortly. The dynamite was used as a defense of the harbor during the Spanish war, being connected with the shore by electric wires. After the war closed it was taken up, and as the government has failed to find a bidder it is proposed to make one grand display.

West Point authorities have issued a manifesto defining the rules as to hazing, threatening all sorts of punishment to the cadets who engage in the pleasant pastime of making life miserable for, and mutilating new cadets. Very likely that will be the last heard of the regulations until some notorious haze reminds the authorities of the rule.

One of the most prominent Baptist preachers in the vicinity of New York has made it a practice in all his pastorates to write his resignation within a week of his entrance upon a new field, sign, seal and deliver it to the proper official with the remark: "There now! Never ask me for my resignation. Whenever you want me to go just break open the envelope write in a date to the document and offer it to the congregation."

A notable feat of engineering is the driving of the Great Northern Railway tunnel through two and a half miles of solid granite in the Cascade range. Boring was started at both ends toward the center, and so accurate were the engineers' calculations that at the meeting point the difference of alignment was scarcely one inch. This cutting through refractory material was accomplished in 45 months by 800 men.

Miss Francis L. Calveard, a stenographer in the employ of the Western Union office in Louisville, Ky., has suddenly made a patent. She found in transferring the ribbon of a typewriter that it was a disagreeable task, leaving the fingers badly stained which could be removed only with great difficulty. She contrived a little device by which she could make this change without touching the ribbons. It was found to be such a success that she sent it to Washington and had it patented. A few days ago Miss Calveard received a letter from a concern dealing in such novelties, offering $10,000 for her rights.

Bartholomew Moriarty, aged 65, fell from scaffold and broke his neck with consequent local paralysis, says the Philadelphia Medical Journal. He walked six miles to St. Joseph's hospital, Yonkers, New York. The X-Ray made a diagnosis of fracture of the cervical vertebrae and the broken fragment was removed by surgical procedure. A plaster dressing was applied, union was perfect and recovery prompt. Patient was discharged cured in six weeks after the injury. Quick work. Next.

George Cooper, who for some years was organist of St. Stephen's Church, London, at the city end of Holborn viaduct, once ventured on a prediction which is interesting to recall today. Sir Arthur Sullivan and Sir John Stainer were friends when they were boys of 12 or 14, as indeed they have been ever since, and Stainer was a pupil of Cooper's. He chanced to meet his friend one day when he was going for his lesson on the organ and took him with him. They were both organ students, and the teacher put them in competition with each other, giving them themes upon which they were to extemporize. Apparently he thought highly of them both. "I should like to see the race you two boys will run together," he said when they had done. "You ought to do something in the world." There are plenty of prophets in the world, but true prophets are something of a rarity and especially when their predictions take this double barreled form.

Don't "Knock."

An exchange says that a new order, the Don't Knock Society, has recently been organized in Buffalo. "Knock," in this sense, is a familiar slang word that will be in the dictionaries pretty soon, if it isn't already. It means, don't spitefully injure, detract or hinder others. The constitution of the Buffalo Don't Knock Society declares:

We believe that the practice of speaking ill of our fellow-men, otherwise "knocking," is detestable, unbrotherly and uncharitable.

We believe that many lives are ruined daily, that many hearts are made miserable and many men and women driven to desperation by the despicable practice of "knocking."

Every one caught "knocking," saying something ill about anybody else, is fined 1 cent. And if every one who does this had to pay 1 cent for each offense, the accumulated sum would soon be large. There must be criticism, censure and reproof; but "knocking" is an evil habit. Some people "knock" their neighbors, some their acquaintances, behind their backs, some the city or state in which they live, and some are such chronic "knockers" that nobody nor anything suits them. They always pull back, never push; always hinder; never help.

There are orders and societies enough, goodness knows, but an order of "Don't Knockers," if it could keep from "knocking" one another, ought to be beneficial.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured. "At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Printing

Is both an art and a science. An art in the beauty and symmetry of the finished work and a science in the exactness of the details which go to make up the finished whole. To do artistic printing requires good material, new type faces and careful, skillful workmanship. THE MAIL Job Printing department turns out this class of work—no other. If you are in need of any kind of printing, from a calling card to a poster, give us a call and you will get a job that is neat, tasty,

Oil Fever Rampant.

An Ashland correspondent to the Portland Telegram, in speaking of the oil excitement in Jackson County, says: "Save at Gold Hill where some phenomenally rich strikes in the gold veins have been made during the past six months, oil is talked of to the exclusion of the precious metal, and the oil fever appears to pervade all classes. Dreams of a forest of derricks near by along Bear creek valley are indulged in by men of conservative temperaments and solid holdings in this favored region of gold mines, rich farms, fine orchards and pretty women. The faith of many is being backed by their money; nearly everybody buys oil stock, and oil-boring projects are being promoted by the most substantial citizens, measured in the dollars and cents of their belonging. Let it be said the oil excitement was a case of rationalism; there is really a chance to strike oil here, and this view is supported by the best intelligence employed in the geological reconnaissance which have been made of the country. Six months ago a California company placed a man in the district south of Ashland. His operations were well screened until he had acquired extensive land holdings; then it was learned that his employers were large operators in the Southern California oil fields, and directly it was known they were looking for oil. Then the Southern Oregon Oil Company came into being and proved to be a thing of such rapid growth as to astonish its sponsors. Fifty thousand shares were early taken up in Ashland, and since that time the stock is being bought daily all over the country. Boston and other towns in Massachusetts have recently bought a large block. Other states taking stock extensively are Wisconsin, Iowa, Colorado, New York, California, Missouri, Washington, and also British Columbia. In Oregon, Portland, Salem, Albany, Grants Pass and several eastern Oregon towns are prominent buyers. This company has purchased a fine new boring plant in Chicago which is warranted for capacity to bore 5000 feet deep, and barring accidents, will begin boring the first well within three weeks. F. M. Cates, who comes recommended as an experienced well-borer from Bakersfield district, California, has been employed to handle the machinery."

Didn't Marry For Money.

The Boston man, who lately married a sickly rich young woman, is happy now, for he got Dr. King's New Life Pills, which restored her to perfect health. Infallible for jaundice; malaria, biliousness, fever and ague and all liver and stomach troubles. Gentle but effective. Only 25c at Chas. Strang's drug store.

Smallpox at Yoncolla.

ROSEBURG, June 11, 1901.—It has been reported for several days past that smallpox exists in Yoncolla, but nothing definite was known regarding it. Now, however, the reports have been confirmed and it is known that some four or five typical cases exist there and as many more have the disease in a light form. Doubtless many other persons have been exposed to the contagion.

Judge Thompson sent Dr. Twitchell yesterday in response to the request of the citizens there, to investigate the rumors of smallpox. The doctor found nine cases of the disease existing, five of which are in a very severe form. Seven cases are within the corporate limits of Yoncolla and two just outside. Judge Thompson went to the afflicted locality this morning to personally investigate the condition and will in all probability recommend rigid quarantine, and that all trains be not allowed to stop there for a time.
