Editor S. A. Brown, of Bonnettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. SLEEPING APART.

A Great Mistake Made by Married People.

Married people sustaining the monogamic relations, especially, make a great mistake in allowing themselves to sleep together. This practice, in a measure, leads to uncongeniality. From five to eight hours' bodily contact every 24 with one person not only causes an equalization of those magnetic elements which, when diverse in quantity and quality, produce physical attraction and passionate love, but it promotes permanent uncongeniality by making the married pair grow alike physically. The interchange of individual electricities and the absorption of each other's exhalations lead directly to temperamental inadaptation, and to this cause may doubtless be ascribed one of the chief reasons why a husband and wife manifest such a tendency to grow alike after many years of companionship. There is nothing that will so derange the nervous system of a person who is eliminated in nervous force, as to lie in bed all night with another person who is absorbent in nervous force. The world is overrun with afflicted people from the effects of nervous exhaustion and physical decay. To such Dr. Darrin invites them to try his electric treatment, so successfully applied to thousands of our citizens who have languished in the throes of disease and now enjoy the blessings of health and happiness.

Electricity is a force resulting from the vibrations of other waves. Owing to the fact that life force is also vibratory ether, the effect of electricity on the human body is very pronounced. If, from any cause, the vibratory rate of the ethereal life waves in the human body is lowered, vitality is weakened and sickness is the result. An application of electricity by a skillful physician who understands the laws governing its action is the most powerful healing force that can be applied. It raises the vibratory rate to its normal condition and health is restored.

Unseen forces are more powerful than seen ones. Electricity performs cures silently but surely. To this many thousands that have been cured can testify. Many who know nothing of it oppose it; but truth always meets with fierce opposition, which in the end only hastens on the victory. We do not profess to understand the unseen power, but joyfully accept the great boon of health, feeling that Dr. Darrin is ahead of the age, and is showing to the world this new method of cure. As an example, we append Mrs. Dewey's card:

To the Public: I was a patient under Dr. Darrin's cure eight years ago, and wish to relate my experience, that others may benefit by it. For many long years I had been afflicted with diseases peculiar to my sex, accompanied with pain in my chest, heart and stomach. I had lost flesh until my weight was 105 pounds. After a few months' electrical and medical treatment by Dr. Darrin, I recovered my health and gained 40 pounds, and am now enjoying good health.

A few days ago, on Big Otter creek, in Clay county, W. Va., reports the Letter Day Cincinnati Enquirer, Mrs. Boggs, Superstitious, over 70 years old, was mysteriously murdered. She lived by herself, and was sitting at a window when a shotgun charge entered her body, killing her instantly. The mystery surrounding the murder, it is claimed, has been partially cleared away by the arrest of a man named Cottrill, who is now in the county jail on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder. It brings to light a genuine case of witchcraft superstition. Cottrill is under the impression that he has suffered from supernatural power exercised by Mrs. Boggs. He claims that at times during the last three months he has been ridden by her all over Clay and Calhoun counties, in witch fashion. On one occasion the old lady's house appeared to him to be a blacksmith shop, and he was shoeing his horse there at night, when the witch appeared and told him that that would be the last night he would ever shoe the horse. Within a day or two the horse died. It is said that other neighbors of the old lady were affected with the same hallucination, and that threats were previously made to kill her. Cottrill refused to talk about the murder, but talks freely on the wrongs he thinks he suffered at the hands of the aged woman. Many cases of sickness in the neighborhood were attributed to her supernatural influence, and on several occasions it is claimed a lynching was threatened, but no one could be found with sufficient courage to lead those who fancied they had been wronged.

TATTOOED WITH PORTRAITS.

Many Soldiers Have Portraits of Their Sweethearts Pinned into Their Backs.

The American soldiers leaving San Francisco for the Philippines are responsible for an entirely new lover's idea, says an exchange of that city. They have the portraits of their sweethearts skillfully tattooed upon their backs. "Prof." Jake Londella is the man who makes a living by tattooing the faces of infatuated folks upon each other's backs. Londella's business brings him in contact with men, women and children. Women are his best customers. Says he, regarding his peculiar mission:

"During the war I tattooed many a soldier's photo upon his sweetheart's arm, and the soldier often had her picture or name written by herself reproduced upon his breast. Many British soldiers have had the portraits of their wives or sweethearts tattooed on the back before going to South Africa. It is a fat with the officers especially. I know one who has the portraits of two girls tattooed upon his breast with their names beneath them.

"You would be surprised to know how many women bare their necks and arms for the needles. It is becoming a fad here just as it did in London years ago.

"Yes, a woman is usually scared when she sees the instrument and ink, but she gives me less trouble than a man when she discovers that tattooing does not hurt much after all. Last week I spent a half day working on the arm of a bride-to-be. Years ago she had a man's name placed there. I had to obliterate it by filling in with a flower design. She said it would never do for the groom to know about the other man.

"Here is a list of the designs I tattooed upon the limbs not long ago of Mrs. Frank Caldwell, the actress: Snake, horses, peacock, butterflies, flowers, anchor, parrots, cockatoo, checkered stockings, necklace, eagles, stars, flag, hearts, shields, leaves and fan."

PLAN YALE BI-CENTENNIAL.

College Will Hold Elaborate Celebration November 20 to 25.

President Hadley and the members of the Yale faculty announced the other night that the plans for the bicentennial celebration of Yale on November 20, 21, 22 and 23 were about completed and that Yale is to have a celebration in which the graduates and undergraduates will take prominent parts.

The most important announcement in connection with the celebration is that by the finance committee. This committee has been occupied with collecting funds primarily for the purpose of erecting the new memorial buildings on Grove and College streets. The total amount of subscriptions up to October 26, 1900, is $603,474.79. Of this amount $244,069.84 has been paid for land on which to erect the buildings, while $99,110 is assigned by the donors to special purposes.

A total of $282,404.10 has been paid out for site, plans and construction to date. Three additional subscriptions of $100,000 each have been made on condition that three other subscriptions of similar amount are secured. One of the gentlemen making this conditional promise has made one-half of his gift outright, so that the total amount definitely in sight at present may be increased by $50,000, that is raised to $653,474.79. The number of subscribers to the bicentennial fund is 607.

The Boston Herald Chatterer and the lady in pursuit of a cook: "A few days ago a lady in pursuit of a cook was interviewing and being interviewed at a certain employment bureau. 'I shall want you to go into the country with me,' she remarked to the mighty personage, who was eyeing her from head to foot. 'Yes, ma'am; and do you have low-neck dinners, ma'am?' Mrs. Cook inquired. 'Low-neck dinners!' What do you mean by that?' said the lady. 'Well, ma'am, do you eat dinner in low-neck dresses?' I have a friend who says she'll not take no place unless the family eats in low-necks, and I thought I wouldn't, either.' So this is what we are all coming to! Not even our domestics will endure 'plain living,' and if one wants a six dollar cook she can't have her without promising to 'eat in low-necks!'"
