A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

Each year 1,095,000 persons succumb to consumption.

Contagion from books exposed to infectious diseases is common indeed; sometimes it occurs after 50 years.

Of the suicides last year 3106 were by poison; 2446 by shooting; 614 by hanging; 513 by drowning; 356 cut their throats, 58 jumped from heights, 55 used moving trains, 27 stabbed themselves, 23 threw themselves into fire, 11 used dynamite and 6 starved; making in all 7245.

There are between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 brands of cigars sold in this country, and the average smoker thinks that every brand means a different kind of tobacco. As a matter of fact, 150 is an outside estimate of the different kinds of tobacco that can be produced from all sources, and even experts can't tell some of these apart.

Galveston, Texas, is bankrupt, the result of the great storm that drove the waters of the Gulf of Mexico into and over it last year. The Texas legislature has provided for a commission, in other words receivers, to take charge of the city and pro rata debt payments. It is not unusual for corporations and individuals to go the bankrupt route, but seldom is the fate of a city.

A Republican newspaper controlled by Americans will be established in Manila. At present there is not a single American newspaper in the islands, the Daily American having been sold recently to an English syndicate. It is probable that one or two pages of the newspaper will be printed in Tagalog. Present plans are to have this department edited by some well known educator, and it is to consist largely of lessons in American history.

The city council of Chicago has refused to permit the erection of seven sixteen-story buildings and one fourteen-story building in the business portion of the city. Capital aggregating about $12,000,000 was represented in the project. There is an existing ordinance forbidding the erection of structures more than ten stories high, and consequently the city council was asked to grant a special permit. The opposition came from the outlying districts of the city, who contended that the building of lofty structures in the downtown district had a tendency to congest the business of the city within a limited territory, to the injury of property holders who, in the ordinary course of growth, would come within the business district.

The history of the slow but steady progress of medical science records many noble sacrifices by members of the profession, life itself having been yielded up in the quest of more exact knowledge of human ailments with remedies for their alleviation. But a New York doctor goes farther. He offers to submit his person to vivisection, claiming that notes he might be able to make during the cutting as to sensations would add to the other knowledge gained. He concludes: "The experiments are to continue until I am too exhausted to be of further value as a subject, or until I succumb. Should I survive at the end of a year of observation and experiment, I stipulate that I may elect to be released from further service should I so desire."

Although no official statement can be obtained, it is practically decided that Miss Alice Roosevelt will accept the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, to be their guest in London during the ceremonies incident to the coronation of King Edward VII. Miss Roosevelt will have no status in the ceremonies, however, except that of a visiting American girl.

His Majesty Chulalongkorn, King of Siam, is desirous of visiting America, and President Roosevelt has been asked to invite him. The King rules over about 5,000,000 subjects. His Majesty may send the Crown Prince to America first, and if the boy gets back alive his father would feel more sure of the security of his own royal personage on such a trip.

Since the outbreak of the troubles in the Philippines there has been a great demand for maps showing the resources of the west, the routes to the Pacific coast, and to the islands of the Orient. Last summer one railroad company had 15,000 of these maps printed at a cost of $10,000. They cost 65 cents each, but were sold for 25 cents each, barely enough to pay the express charges.

Lord Thurlow, of England, who has been spending the last year in California in the interest of English investors, investigating the best railroad route from Eureka to Redding and thence on to join the Northern Pacific, announces that the road will soon be built. The capital will be furnished, half by English and half by American investors. Lord Thurlow spoke enthusiastically of the rich country which will be tapped by the new line, but refused to say exactly what route it will follow.

The New York statute against prize-fighting was passed by the Legislature on the express recommendation of Governor Roosevelt in his annual message of 1900, and the bill was approved by him as Governor. In his message Governor Roosevelt said: "Athletic sports are excellent when treated as what they should be, that is, as healthy pastimes; they become harmful if indulged in to excess, and if their importance in relation to the serious work of life is misestimated; and still more harmful when twisted into adjuncts of brutality or gambling."

A teacher in a Texas public school received the following letter the other day: "Sir: Will you in the future give my son easier home to do at nites? This is what his bro' home two or three nights back: If fore gallons of bere will fill thirty pint bottles, how many pint and half bottle will nine gallons of bere fill? Well, we tried and could make nothing out of it at all, and my boy laugh'd and cried and sed he didn't dare to go back in the mornin' without doin' it. So I had to go and buy a nine gellin keg of bere, which I could ill afford to do, and then he went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles. We fill them, and my boy put the number down for an answer. I don't know whether it is right or not, as we spilt some while doin' it. P.S.—Please let the next be in water, as I am not able to buy more bere."

The Last Heard of It.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds Mansfield, O. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable? One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. Chas. Strang.

The Steamship Knight Companion, one of the regular line of steamers of the Portland and Astoria Steamship company, went ashore in the China sea, near Izumi, Japan. All the crew and passengers were saved. The vessel is a total loss.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Monday.
In the senate consideration of the bill to increase the salaries of judges of United States courts was resumed. Stewart's amendment to increase the salaries of senators and members of the house of representatives to $7,500 annually was rejected. The Philippine tariff bill then came up, and Carmack of Tennessee, a member of the Philippine committee, delivered a speech in opposition to the measure. Beveridge, a Republican member of the committee, challenged the statement of Carmack that the bill had not been well considered. After further discussion the senate adjourned.

In the house the day was devoted to general debate upon the oleomargarine bill.

Tuesday.
The senate, by a vote of 28 to 21, passed the bill providing for a 25 per cent increase in the salaries of United States judges. During the discussion of the urgent deficiency bill Hansborough of North Dakota defended Judge Arthur H. Noyes of the district court of Alaska and Alexander McKenzie, upon whom Tillman made an attack the previous day.

Wednesday.
The senate passed the urgent deficiency bill substantially in the shape in which it was reported to the senate by the committee. McCumber of North Dakota spoke in defense of Judge Noyes and McKenzie, incidentally criticizing the circuit court of appeals of San Francisco for permitting itself to be influenced by prejudice. Stewart condemned Judge Noyes's methods of conducting his office.

The debate on the oleomargarine bill was continued in the house without any special incident.

Thursday.
In the senate the Philippine tariff bill was under discussion, and the measure was completed so far as the Philippine commission is concerned. The session laws enacted by the Philippine commission were read, and drew the fire of the opponents of the government's Philippine policy. Hoar, Foraker, Tillman and others participating in a very interesting debate. After a speech by Scott of West Virginia in favor of the adoption of the San Blas route for an isthmian waterway, Hansborough of North Dakota spoke on the bill introduced by him, which has for its object the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands.

The house spent the day on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Friday.
The senate passed the pension appropriation bill. When the Philippine revenue bill was called up Turner of Washington attacked the Philippine policy of the government, which he charged with concealment and duplicity. He had not concluded his speech when the bill was set aside for the day. After a short executive session the senate adjourned till Monday.

The house passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Smith of Arizona assailed the appropriation committee for discriminating against Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma and in favor of Hawaii in the matter of salaries for executive and judicial officers.

Saturday.
The house, after some routine business, paid tribute to the memory of the late Representative Robert E. Burke of Texas.

Clerk's Wise Suggestion.

"I have lately been much troubled with dyspepsia, belching and sour stomach," writes J. S. Mead, leading pharmacist of Attleboro, Mass. "I could eat hardly anything without suffering several hours. My clerk suggested trying Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which I did with most happy results. I have had no more trouble and when one goes to eating mince pie, cheese, candy and nuts after such a time, their digestion must be pretty good. I endorse Kodol Dyspepsia Cure heartily." You don't have to diet. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests your food. Chas. Strang.
