VOL. XIV. MEDFORD, JACKSON COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1902. NO. 48.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

The Democratic Congressional campaign committee have decided to carry on "a permanent campaign," whatever that may mean. But this is not at all alarming, few people will pay any attention to what they say.

W. A. Laidlaw, selecting agent for the Three Sisters Irrigation Company of Eastern Oregon, appeared before the State Land Board Saturday and filed the balance of the papers completing the application for the reclamation of arid lands in Crook County, aggregating 27,684.83. A deposit of over $27,000 was made to cover the cost at a fraction over $1 per acre. The land, if sold, will be irrigated and developed for agricultural purposes.

Norman Gerke has a pet coon which he keeps at the Russ House, says the Albany Herald. The coon took a tramp around the neighborhood recently and killed $1.50 worth of chickens for a neighbor. Norman paid for the chickens and resolved to keep Mr. Coon at home, but yesterday it got its owner into trouble. It found an umbrella on a front porch and proceeded to make fancy ribbons of the rain protector. Norman paid the bill, amounting to $1. The coon is for sale, and if you want to have fun in your neighborhood, just buy it. Norman says he has plenty, "more as plenty."

A Boston attorney has filed a petition, asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of John Hancock, the Revolutionary patriot. John Hancock, late in the 18th century, was to some extent an underwriter, taking insurance risks on vessels out of the port of Boston at the time when relations between France and this country were strained. Some of the vessels so insured by Hancock were captured by French privateers and condemned in the French prize courts. The underwriters had to pay the insurance and Hancock, like many others, was a loser in this way. The purpose of the appointment of an administrator is to recover from the United States the money which John Hancock was compelled to pay.

The water of Silver Lake is quite low this season; in fact, there seems to be less water in the lake at this time than at any former season for years past, with the one exception of the dry Summer of 1889, when the lake was entirely dried up, says the Silver Lake correspondent of the Lakeview Herald. At present there is a large tract of fertile land lying between the lake beach and the water's edge, and extending the entire distance around the circular lake. On the lake bed thus uncovered are swarms of all kinds of water-fowl that find a rich feed ground covered with insects and fishes. Over the lake each morning hangs a heavy fog, which affords a good cover for the hunters of that section, and enables them to bag ducks and geese in great numbers, if they arrive on the ground before the fog begins to rise, about 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning. Silver Lake, which is quite shallow, will no doubt be drained at no distant day, and upon its fertile bed hundreds of valuable homes can be built.

Much of the romance and all of the mystery of the Orient is likely to disappear when the completion of through rail communication from Paris to Pekin, which is promised within a little more than a year, enables the traveler to take a sleeping car for the whole distance. This service is to be established early in 1904, and the annual sale of through tickets is estimated at 28,000. At the outset the trip will require about 20 days, but when everything is running smoothly, it is expected that it will be made in 14. The average speed per hour at first will be as follows: Paris to Berlin, 53½ miles; Berlin to Alexandrovo, 40 miles; Alexandrovo to Moscow, 34 miles; Moscow to Irkutsk, 23 miles; Irkutsk to Lake Baikal, 17 miles; Lake Baikal to Inkow, 20 miles; Inkow to Pekin, 23½ miles. Russian railroad building does not warrant confidence in the maintenance of high speed at present east of Alexandrove. It will be a journey of unusual interest whichever way the traveler goes.

As the result of being struck by a local train while walking along the Oakland Mole, Vadlemar Vogt, about thirty-five years old, who may be the robber who held up the Northern Pacific passenger train at Bear Mouth, Mont., on October 24th, lies dead at the Morgue, and his companion, Earl Smith, claiming to hail from Portland, Or., is at the Receiving hospital, suffering from a broken leg and other injuries. The men had beaten their way from the North and were run down while walking along the road. The thing which connects Vogt in some way with the robbery is that in his own handwriting in a notebook is a copy of the reward offered by the Northern Pacific. He also had two Northern Pacific money order receipts. He had sent $65 on October 12th to his sister. He formerly resided at 22 Ganson street, New York. He was at Butte, Mont., seventy miles from the scene of the robbery, three days after the hold-up. His companion at the hospital stated this afternoon that his father is F. W. Smith, of Hornbrook, Wash.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

[From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.]

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears, and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

A Big Reward.

How would you like to find a box of gold dust worth $20,000 lying on the street, return said box to its owner and for your trouble receive the munificent reward of $1.50? That is what happened in Seattle this week.

Some time ago a shipment of gold dust was received from the North on one of the steamers and was ordered taken to the United States Assay Office, on Ninth and Cherry streets. The Seattle Transfer Company undertook the job and, somehow, in the delivery of the precious metal, the driver lost one box of the dust. An advertisement was inserted in the papers, saying that a reward would be paid for the return of the gold dust.

A poor workingman found the box, which was heavier than he could carry and had it carted to the office of the transfer company. In his imagination there floated visions of the huge chunk of dust the owner would give him when he restored to him the box. The owner was notified, rushed breathlessly into the office, identified the box, opened it, found the dust all there, rammed his hand deep into his trousers pocket, and gave the finder—$1.50.

Shocked beyond description at the "big" reward, the poor workingman staggered out of the office, murmuring—

"Thank you!"

Klamath County Items.

From the Klamath Falls Express.

E. S. Terwilliger has bought E. C. Ball's ranch near Merrill and will move over there shortly. He paid $7000 for the place which contains 160 acres all under the Adams ditch.

In Dairy, Ore., Sunday, November 16, 1902, Miss Mattie Michael and Mr. Thos. Patterson were married. Both are well known people of Klamath County, Mr. Patterson being one of the successful farmers and stockraisers of this section. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Griffith. They will reside in Swan Lake valley at Edgewood ranch.

One of the largest deals in farm lands made in Klamath County, in recent years, has just been completed by F. H. Mills. The purchaser is Francis J. Bowne, from Pipestone, Minnesota, and formerly from Iowa. The tract consists of 2400 acres of sage brush land, commencing at the town of Bonanza and extending west three and one-half miles. It is all riparian to Lost river along the north side, with a small part lying south of the river, and consisted of fourteen different ranches, nine of which are improved. The purchase of these ranches removes an obstacle to the irrigation scheme of the Summit Lake Irrigation and Power Company, and about 1000 acres will come under its system and be developed next year. Lost river rises on the upper end of the land, bubbling out in monstrous springs, and 1000 acres more will be put under irrigation by another system from this point.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony, and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it, the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by Chas. Strang, druggist.

Went through Bridge.

A band of over two hundred horses being driven from the range in Lake County, Oregon, to the S. P. Co.'s railroad at Marysville, for shipment, met with dire disaster at a place known as Peck's bridge, which crosses Pit river. The bridge forms a part of the highway between Burney and Cayton valleys and has a length of over two hundred feet. The weight and tramp of the band of two hundred horses proved too much for the structure and it went down with a crash, tumbling the frightened horses into the swollen waters of Pit river. The frightened animals after striking the waters struck out for the banks and swam to shore, all succeeding in landing safely but three. Considering the confusion into which the entire band was thrown, that only three of the animals were lost is most remarkable.

Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at Chas. Strang's drug store. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Then their use is not followed by constipation, as is often the case with pills. Regular size, 25c per box.
