AFTER submitting to an interview the sultan of Turkey has the discourteous habit of turning the interviewer over to the executioner.

THE Mississippi river has passed the 30-foot danger mark at St. Louis and is still rising. Extra precautions are being taken to prevent breaks in the levees, which would result in great damage.

WITH the limit for registration only fifteen days away, less than one-half of the legal voters have availed themselves of the opportunity. The registration has been extremely slow, but will likely be faster in the last two weeks.

SANTOS DUMONT is to marry the daughter of a millionaire. Then he will have plenty of money to experiment with airships. We suggest that congress appoint a commission to find an heiress for Professor Langley. Uncle Sam might make a money by it.

JAMES DUNN, ex-marshal of Corvallis, who was shot by Young Keady Sunday, died Monday from his wounds. The fatality of a combination of a reckless boy and had whiskey, with an equally reckless companion, who urged him on, was never more fully exemplified. Young Turner is morally as much to blame for the taking away of one of Corvallis' best citizens and the serious wounding of another, as is the misguided youth who paid for his crime with his life.

THE MAIL has mentioned before the candidacy of C. A. Dickison of Table Rock, for the Republican nomination for recorder. In our former issues we have favored Mr. Dicki-on's candidacy and at this time we see no reason why we should withdraw our support. He is qualified in every way to fill the position. He has always been a consistent Republican. He has given his time and influence always for the support of the ticket. This is the first time he has ever asked anything at the hands of the party, and it seems to us that recognition is due to the younger members of the party, of whom Mr.

Dickison is in a certain way a representative.

FRIENDS of T. B. Ellison, of Roxy precinct, are mentioning him in connection with the Republican nomination for county commissioner. Mr. Ellison has been a resident of Jackson county for the past nine years, and has made many warm friends. He is a veteran of the civil war, having served from 1861 to 1865. He afterward settled in Kansas, where he served as assessor, county commissioner and was a member of the state legislature. He is a strong advocate of good roads.

COMMENTING upon the execution of the Chicago carbarn bandits, a clergyman of that city remarked: "If all were in prison who deserve to be there, there would probably be a large increase in 'help wanted' advertisements and some painful vacancies in some social and religious gatherings." Possibly the minister is correct, but he hasn't discovered any thing new. In the minds of most people there is a settled conviction that others ought to be in jail who are not, and likely there is someone who thinks the same of each of us. This being true, if all were in prison that deserved it, the appearance of things wouldn't change much, we would just have to build a wall around the whole country.

Mr. Merritt Declines.

Several weeks ago THE MAIL announced the candidacy of Hon. J. W. Merritt for the Republican nomination for county judge. It is with infinite regret that we must state in this issue that Mr. Merritt positively declines to allow his name to come before the convention. We are doubly sorry, for we believe that Mr. Merritt would have been easily elected, and we know he would have made an honest, capable officer.

O. E. S. Entertainment.

Wednesday evening was the regular monthly social night of the Eastern Stars; also the occasion of the annual social given to the children of the members of the order. About thirty of the young folks gathered in the Masonic hall and until nearly 11 o'clock enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Not only the young, but children of older growth, participated in the pleasures of the evening. Of course refreshments were served, consisting of ice-cream and other dainties. Games of various descriptions were played. In the last game and the feature of the evening a number of candy canes were hung on a wire. The children were blindfolded, turned around three times and told to find their way to canes. Those who touched the two largest canes were entitled to draw for the first prize. Six of the youngsters reached the goal and then drew straws for the prize. Fern Hutchinson and Robert Strang were the fortunate ones. Afterward each of the children received a smaller cane as a souvenir.

The committee in charge was composed of Mesdames Vawter, Haskins, Strang, Lay and Isaacs.

Married—Lawrence—Eaton.

Tuesday evening, April 26th, Rev. E. A. Child spoke the words which made Mr. Frank Lawrence, of Gold Hill, and Miss Hattie Eaton, of this city, man and wife. The services were performed at the home of the bride, in West Medford, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few invited friends, after which a wedding supper was enjoyed at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Hall, in West Medford.

ADDITIONAL PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farrier, of Grants Pass, are visiting Medford friends.

Judge Thos. Burke, of Seattle, arrived in Medford Wednesday and will visit for a couple or three weeks with his brother-in-law, W. M. Scheuble, and family, out on Griffin creek.

Merchant and Mrs. O. D. Owen left Thursday for a week's visit in San Francisco and Los Gatos. Mr. Owen will attend a convention of retail grocers while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wilson and A. E. Wilson and family arrived in Medford Tuesday from New Rockford, North Dakota. One of these gentlemen was here during the past winter and purchased the Bjerregard orchard, in East Medford. Their household goods arrived the same day and they are now housekeeping in their new home.

James Shields and P. L. Simpkins, of Central Point, were in Medford Wednesday. These gentlemen spent the past winter in Covina, Calif., and returned to Oregon last Sunday. They are of the opinion that while California may be all right for a place in which to live during the winter, it does not begin to compare with Oregon in the summer.

Mrs. L. J. Sears and daughter, Miss Fay, returned Sunday evening from their three months' visit with Mrs. Sears' son, Mort Foster, at Spokane, Washington. Since their return Mrs. Sears has accepted a position as saleswoman in W. H. Meeker & Co.'s dry goods store—a position she is capable of filling with credit to herself—and with profit to the proprietors.

C. D. Hazebreg returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Redding, Calif., where he went to visit an old friend, who used to travel with him in the theatrical business. This gentleman is a toner of much ability and will sing one of the principal roles in the forthcoming production of Mikado, for the sake of old times and to appear once more with his old friends, Messrs. Andrews and Hazebreg.

Frank Miller, of Indianola, Iowa, is visiting his uncle, B. N. Butler and family, of Medford. Mr. Miller came from Iowa to California last fall, for the benefit of his health and will perhaps remain several months in Southern Oregon. He is engaged in the jewelry business in Indianola, but it is by no means uncertain that he will not become a permanent resident of this section in the near future.

To Whom it May Concern.

My wife, Jennie M. Gorsline, having left my bed and board without my consent and against my will, all persons are hereby warned and notified not to credit said Jennie M. Gorsline on my account, as I will pay no bills of her contraction.

Dated Medford, Oregon, April 25, 1904.
CHARLEY R. GORSLINE.

Will Locate in Medford.

Dr. A. T. Roberts, the eye specialist, who was in Medford for a short time one year ago, has returned from Los Angeles, and after looking the Oregon field over he has concluded to locate permanently in Medford. He says Bear creek valley is the most prosperous as well as the most beautiful spot in Oregon. He has rented a part of Mrs. Brooks' house for his home and until he can do better he will use her front parlor for his office where he will be pleased to meet all his old patients and friends.

—G. F. Merriman, the blacksmith, has put in a stock of Hanford's Baleim of Myrrh, a liniment that's good for man or beast. Mr. Merriman states that the success of this liniment is wonderful, and his reason for putting in a stock of it is to be able to supply his blacksmith customers, who are always asking for a good liniment for their stock. This liniment is guaranteed to heal all flesh wounds and cure lameness and sprains—and if it does not do all that it is claimed to do you can get your money back.
