Farmers have about finished seeding, except corn, which will be a little late, owing to the soil being too wet for early cultivation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks have become residents of our neighborhood, having rented the Helms 100 acres. For the present they will occupy rooms in the Dr. Ray house.

Eph Chapman has returned from Bakersfield, Calif., and will engage in carpenter work with his brother-in-law, Mr. Wilson, of Central Point, who has several contracts on hand, and is rushed with work.

S. K. Adams has just received a cream separator from Portland. It is of the United States pattern, and is much more simple in construction than any other we have seen. So far it has given perfect satisfaction.

Nothing Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for Bowel Complaints in Children.

"We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in one family for years," says Mrs. J. B. Cooke, of Netherlands, Texas. "We have given it to all of our children. We have used other medicines for the same purpose, but never found anything to equal Chamberlain's. If you will use it as directed it will always cure." For sale by Chas. Strang, Druggist.

Provolt Items.

Chas. Field, of Provolt, made a trip to Grants Pass Saturday.

L. W. Smith, the Provolt merchant, made a business trip to Grants Pass Saturday.

Mrs. Anna Vinson, of Gold Hill, and Mrs. M. Bick, of Grants Pass, were visiting relatives on Applegate and in Provolt the first of the week.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Flossy Rexford, of Applegate, is very ill with the la grippe; but her recovery will be soon. Dr. Cameron was called and relief was soon given.

Applegate, was at Provolt Tuesday, on business. The hop sets which he ordered some three weeks ago have been received all right and are ready to distribute.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Georgie Stevens, of Grants Pass, is very ill with typhoid fever. Her home is at Williams. The young lady will be removed soon from Grants Pass to her home.

Hay is on the boom. There are hay buyers on Applegate and at Provolt, buying all they can find. The Provolt hay farm sold twenty-three tons last week at $15 per ton, which is as unusual as the taxes are in Josephine county.

This spring is one of the springs that have never been seen by the old settlers of Southern Oregon. April 20th there was a very hard shower of snow, which covered the ground and layed on for some two or three hours. On the 23d of April it followed with a hard frost, which killed the early beans and corn, and also the tomatoes which were growing in boxes in the hot houses; but most of the fruit is uninjured.

Your correspondent has been traveling the last week up and down the Applegate river, taking in all the things and looking at the new improvements which have been made the past few months. It is pleasing to see how the farmers have awakened from their slumber and are improving their places. There have been three new ditches dug in the last five years, which covers several thousand acres of fertile soil, which is being cleared and put to alfalfa and other tame grasses. The Applegate valley is noted for water in abundance. The river is ninety miles in length and is fed from the Siskiyou and Grayback mountains, where snow can be seen the year 'round. There is also the Williams valley, which is noted for cattle raising and mining. This valley is six miles in width and sixteen miles long, with the finest of soil that can be found in Southern Oregon.
