Synopsis of Preceding Chapters. CHAPTER I- The Sidas, baving

among her passengers Iras Deane, daughter of the owner of the ship, and Robert Jenks, who is working as a walter, is wrecked. II—All are lost seva Miss Deans and Jenks, who are cast ashore on an island in the Pacific.—I]Lienks recover stores and weapons from the wrecked vessel. He finds the skeleton of a European on the Island. IV—A cave on the island is fitted up as a habitation. A chart of the island mysteriously marked, is found on the skeleton. V. Jenks finds a hollow filled with human skeletons, the remains of a mining party. He is recovered from an octopus by Iris while recovering rifles from the wreck of the Sirdar. VI—Jenks tells Iris that his real name is Anstruther and that, through the muchinations of Jord Venturor, he has been unjustly dismissed in disgrace irom the English army, Lord Venturo has been mentioned on the Sirdar as affianced to Iris. VII—Iras is attacked by a party of flore Dyaks [Polynesian natives]. They are beaten off by Jonks, three, however, escaping in their boat. The castaways dread their return. VIII—Anstruther repears to defend Iris and himself, fortifying a ledge of the rock above their cave, IX—A rich gold mine, in dicated on the mysterious chart of the Island, among them is an escaped convier, an Indian Mussulman. They discover the hiding place, but are defented by the Englishman. XII—Aa unlucky shot cost Jonks and Iris their water sunply. A truce with the eavages; the Mussulman. Mid-Jan, the Indian, agrees to alid Anstruther and supply kilm with water. XIII—Iris and Robect, in the midds of peril, ayaw their love for each other. The fight continues XIV—Mir Jan is true to his word and alids the boleaguered couple. At the critical moment the three are recoued by the British warship Orient, which had been already and Lord Ventunor's chances for Iris' hand are rulned by the continues and Lord Ventunor's chances for Iris' hand are rulned by the continues and Lord Ventunor's chances for Iris' hand are rulned by the contension of the word and with the couple of the word and with the proposed that Iris shall wed him if rescued that the remaining of his himmer is and lord the rescued fro walter, is wrecked. II-All are lost seva Miss Deans and Jenks, who are cast ashore on an island in the Pacific.

CHAPTER XVII.

R ARTHUR DEANE was sitthe board! Fancy me, of all men, bestate of deep dejection when he was aroused by a knock, bert entered.

The thought was maddening. For a

"Can you give me half an hour?" he asked. "I have something to say to you before we land."

The shipperson."

The shipowner silently motioned him to a seat.

"It concerns Iris and myself," con-tinued Anstruther. "I gathered from your words when we met on the island that both you and Lord Ventner re-garded Iris as his lordship's promised bride. From your point of view the arrangement was perhaps natural and equitable, but since your daughter left Honskau, it hungess that she and. I Hongkong it happens that she and 1 have failen in love with each other. No; please listen to me. I am not here to urge my claims on you. I won her fairly and intend to keep her were here to urge my claims on you. I won life fairly and intend to keep her were the whole house of peers opposed to me. At this moment I want to tell you, her father, why she could never, even under other circumstances, marry Lord Ventnor."

Then he proceeded to pince before Then he proceeded to pince before "Your own little girl given back to won!"

At the concussion of this head between his hands.
"I cannot choose but believe you," he admitted huskily. "Yet how came you to be so unjustly convicted by a tribunal composed of your brother of months preceding the advent?

THE STOPK RDINGS IOV

The many mothers in the training of the advent?

The many mothers in the training of the advent?

The many mothers in the training of the analysis because they have been misadvised by well-meaning friends or maltreated by an inefficient doctor.

To all such here is the news that there is a remain that will heal and not hard. It was discovered forty years ago by Dr. Pierce who scarched Nature's laboratory—the carth, for the remedial agents to like all provided therein. He took Lady's Shipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, like Cohosh root, Golden Seal root, and by extracting combining and preserving without the use of alcohol, the giveric extracts of these natural remedies he has given to the world DR. Diemer's Favon'r Priescriptors, which has to its credit the envisible and unparalloled record of more than a half-million of curve in the last forty years.

"Only those who have given Dr. Pierces Parorise Prescriptions in the last forty years." "The two men looked into each other's site one. It is to suffering women, writes what a boon it is to suffering women, writes misc Vinna Seasons of 3 kin si. Toronto, in the case of the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands. For the several remedies hat obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the state of the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands. For the several remedies and obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands. For the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands. The several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands. The several remedies but obtained no relief until 1 beriands in the sev an important government mission, no to mention some bought Chinese evi can hardly hope to have your case re fools in London should so destroy my credit and their own; that not a bank will discount our paper unless they are assured Lord Ventnor has joined little while he yielded to utter despond ency. It was quite true that a compar-atively small amount of money would restore the stability of his firm. Even without it, were his credit unimpaired he could easily tide over the period of depression until the first fruits of his enterprise were garnered. Then all men would half him as a genius.

Wearily turning over his papers, he suddenly came across the last letter written to him by Iris' mother. How she doted on their only child! He recalled one night shortly before his wife died when the little Iris was brought into her room to kiss her and lisp her ou, her father, why so on, her father, who is the her from the accounded baronet a detailed history of his recent career. It was a sordid story of woman's periody twice told. It carried conviction in every sentence.

Sentence.

Given back to him: For what—to marry that black hearted scoundered whose pastime was the degradation of women and the defaming of honest men? That settled it. Instantly the cloud was lifted from his soul. A great peace came upon him. The ruin of his tensa he might not be able to aver, than all peace came upon him. The ruin of his business he might not be able to avert, but he would save from the wreck that which he prized more than all itors from fling a bankruptcy petition. In the local banks the baronet had about a thousand to his credit. Surely among the rich merchants of the port men who knew the potentialities of his scheme, he would be able to raise the money needed. He would try hard.

Robert, I will explain matters to you more fully. Just now I wish only to tell you that where Iris has given her heart, I will not refuse her hand."

She took his face between her hands and kissed him. Lord Ventner, wonward.
"What has bappened, Miss Deane?

he inquired. "Have you just discovered what an excellent parent you pos-ally. "'Pon my honor," he cried, "you could not have hit upon a happier ex

His lordship was not quite satisfied. "I suppose you will take Iris to Smith's hotel?" he said, with cool impudence. Irls answered him, "Yes. My father has just asked Rob the sworn testimony not only of my colonel's wife, but of the civil head of ert to come with us-by inference, that is. Where are you going?"

The adroit use of her lover's Christian name goaded his lordship to sudden

"Indeed!" he snarled. "Sir Arthu Denne has evidently decided a goo many things during the last hour."

"Yes," was the shipowner's quiet retort. "I have decided that my daughter's happiness should be the chief con-sideration of my remaining years. All else must give way to it."

The earl's swarthy face grew sallow with fury. His eyes blazed, and there was a tense vibrate in his voice as he said:

said:
"Then I must congratulate you, Miss Deane. You are fated to endure adventures. Having escaped from the melodramatic perils of Rainbow Island you are destined to experience another variety of shipwreck here."

He left them. Not a word had Robert spoken throughout the unexpected scene. His heart was trobbing with a tremendous loy and his loriship's.

a tremendous joy, and his lordship's sneers were lost on him. But he could not fall to note the malignant purpose of the parting sentence.

In his quietly masterful way be placed his hand on the baronet's shoulasked. asked.

Sir Arthur Deane answered, with a calm smile: "It is difficult to talk openly at this moment. Wait until we reach the hotel."

The news flew fast through the set The news new fast through the set-tlement that her majesty's ship Orient had returned from her long search for the Sirdar. The warship occupied her usual anchorage, and a boat was low ered to take off the passengers

The boat swung off into the tideway Her progress shoreward was watched by a small knot of people, mostly Among then loungers and coolies. however, were two persons who had driven rapidly to the landing place when the arrival of the Orient was reported. One bore all the distinguishing marks of the army officer of high rank, but the other was unmistakably a globe trotter. The older gentleman made no pretense that he could "heathe east a-callin'." He swore impar-tially at the climate, the place and its inhabitants. At this instant he was in a state of wild excitement. He was very tall, very stout, exceedingly red vainly endeavored to balance it on the shoulder of a native servant.

"Can't you stand still, you bilthering idiot," he shouted, after futile attempts to focus the advancing boat, "or shall I stendy you with a clout over the

His companion, the army man, was looking through a pair of field glasses.
"By Jove," he cried, "I can see Sir Arthur Deane and a girl who looks like his daughter! There's that infernal scamp, Ventnor, too."
The big man brushed the servant out of his way and brandished the telescope as though it were a bludgeon.

"The dirty beggar! He drove my lad to misery and death, yet he has come back safe and sound. Wait till I meet him. I'il"—

"Now, Anstruther! Remember your promise. I will deal with Lord Vent-nor. My vengeance has first claim. What! By the jumping Moses, I do believe— Yes, It is. Anstruther: Your nephew is sitting next to the

The telescope fell on the stones with

The telescope fell on the stones with a crash. The giant's rubicund face suddenly blanched. He leaned on his friend for support.
"You are not mistaken?" he almost whimpered, "Look again, for God's sake, man! Make sure before you speak. Tell me! Tell me!"
"Calm yourself, Anstruther. It is Robert as sure as I'm alive, pon't you.

They were entering the harbor of Singapore. In a few hours the worst would be over. If Ventnor telegraphed to London his withdrawal from the board nothing short of a cabled draft for £10,000 would prevent certain creducts. wife-would concect such a hellist

The boat glided gracefully alongside the steps of the quay, and Playdon sprang gracefully ashore to help Iris to alight. What happened immediately afterward can best be told in his own words, as he retailed the story to an appreciative audience in the ward-

"We had just landed," he said, "and jumped down the steps, and a most fiendish row sprang up—that is, there Costobell, grabbed Ventner by the shirt front and threatened to smash his face in if he didn't listen then and there to Costobell's opening words. After that I would gladly have seen the beggar chucked into the harbor. We never thesi him, did we?"
"Ask no questions, Pompey, but go shead with the yarn," growled the first

"Well, it seems that Mrs. Costobell dead. She got enteric a week after the Orient sailed and was a goner in four days. Before she died she owned

He paused, with a base eye to effect.

Not a man moved a muscle.

"All right," he cried. "I will make ne more false starts. Mrs. Costobell begged her husband's forgiveness for that she and Lord Ventnor planned the affair for which Austruther was tried up emotion mastered him, and by court martial. It must have been spoke as one who could no lensee a beastly business, for Costobell was sweating with rage, though his words were ley enough. And you ought to have seen Ventnor's face when he have seen Ventnor's face when he heard of the depositions, sworn to and signed by Mrs. Costobell and by several Chinese servants whom he bribed to give false evidence. He promised to marry Mrs. Costobell if her husband died, or, in any event, to bring about a divorce when the Hongkong affair had blown over. Then she learned that he was after Miss Link and there is no was after Miss Iris, and there is no doubt her fury helped on the fever. Costobell said that, for his wife's sake, he would have kept the wretched thing secret, but he was compelled to clear Anstruther's name, especially as he came across the other old Johnnie"— "Pompey, you are incoherent with excitement. Who is 'the other old Johnnie?" asked the first luff severely. "Didn't I tell you? Why, Anstruther's uncle, of course, a heavy old swell with just a touch of Yorkshire in his tongue. I gathered that he disinherited his nephew when the news of the court martial reached him. Then he relented and cabled to him. Getting no news he came cast to look for him He met Costobell the day after the lady died, and the two vowed to be revenged on Ventnor and to clear An struther's character, living or dead. Poor old chap! He cried like a baby when he asked the youngster to for-give him. It was quite touching.

"Well, Costobell shook Ventnor off at last, with the final observation that Anstruther's court martial has been quashed. The next batch of general orders will reinstate him in the regishall be issued against his lordship for conspiracy."
"What did Miss Deane do?"

"Clung to Austruther like a weeping angel and kissed everybody all round when Ventnor got away. Well-hands off. 7 mean her father, Anstruther and not on in that scene. But for some reason they all nearly wrung my arm off and the men were so excited that they gave the party a rousing cheer as their ickshaws went off in a bunch !

first opportunity to explain the predic nor yet had it in his power to deal. Mr. William Anstruther was an in terested auditor. Robert would have spoken, but his uncle restrained him. "Leave this to me, lad," he ex claimed. "When I was coming here in the Sirdar there was a lot of talk about Sir Arthur's scheme, and there should not be much difficulty in raising all the brass required if half what I beard be true. Sit you down, Sir Arthur, and tell us all about it." The shipowner required no second bidding. With the skill for which he was noted be described his operations in detail, telling how every farthing of the first installments of the two great deficit in capital value caused by the loss of the three ships and how in six months' time the leading financial houses of London, Paris and Berlin would be offering him more money than he would need.

To a shrewd man of business the project could not fall to commend it-self, and the Yorkshire squire, though a triffe obstinate in temper, was singu-larly clear headed in other respects. He brought his great fist down on the table with a whack.

"Send a cable to your company, Sir Arthur," be cried, "and tell them that your prospective son-in-law will pro-vide the £10,000 you require. I will see that his draft is honored. You can add, if you like, that another ten will be ready if wanted when this lot is spent. I did my lad one deuced bad turn in my life. This time, I think, I am doing him a good one." "You are, indeed," said Iris' father enthusinstically. "The unallotted capi tal he is taking up will be worth four times its face value in two years."

"All the more reason to make his holding twenty instead of ten," roared the Yorkshireman, "But, look here the Yorkshireman, "But, look here. You talk about dropping proceedings against that precious earl whom I saw today. Why not tell him not to try any funny tricks until Robert's money is safely lodged to your account? We have him in our power. Dash it all, let us use him a bit."

Even Its laughed at this naive sur-

Even Iris laughed at this naive sug gestion. It was delightful to think that their arch enemy was actually helping the baronet's affairs at that very moment and would continue to do so until he was flung aside as being of no further value. Although Ventnor himself had carefuly avoided any awaiting the shipowner at Singapore showed that confidence had already been restored by the uncontradicted use of his lordship's name.

Robert at last obtained a hearing. "You two are quietly assuming the attitude of the financial magnates of this gathering." he said. "I must admit that you have managed things very well between you, and I do not propose for one moment to interfere with your arrangements. Nevertheless, Iris and I are really the chief moneyed persons present. You spoke of finan-cial houses in England and on the continent backing up your loans six months hence, Sir Arthur. You need not go to them. We will be your bankers."

The baronet laughed with a whole hearted gayety that revealed whence iris got some part at least of her bright disposition

Iris could wheedle any one into buy-

"But, father, dear," interrupted the girl earnestly, "what Robert says is true. We have a gold mine there. It is worth so much that you will hardly believe it until there can no longer be any doubt in your mind. I suppose that is why Robert asked me not to said her lover, and the elder men felt that more than idle fancy inspired the astounding intelligence that they had just heard. Your love was more to me than all the gold in the world. I had won you. I meant but I refused to buy you." I meant to keep you.

He turned to her father. His pent

"I have had no chance to thank you STOP. for the words you uttered at the mo-scent we quitted the ship. Yet I will treasure them while life lasts. You gave Iris to me when I was poor, disgave Iris to me when I was poor, disgraced, an outcast from my family and my profession. And I know why you did this thing. It was because you valued her happiness more than riches or reputation. I am sorry now I did not explain matters earlier. It would have saved you much needless suffering. But the sorrow has sped take an evil aream, and you will perhaps not regret it, for your action to a woman whose extra the professional state of the profession and the profession of the like an evil aream, and you will perhaps not regret it, for your action today binds me to you with hoops of steel. And you, too, uncle. You traveled thousands of miles to help and comfort me in my anguish. Were I as bad as I was painted your kind old heart still pitted me. You were prepared to pluck me from the depths of despair and degradation. Why should I hate Lord Ventnor? What man could have served me as he did? He has given me Iris. He gained for me at her father's hands a concession such as mortal has seldom wrested from black browed fate. He brought my bad to worse, knowing full well that black browed fate. He brought my uncle to my side in the hour of my adversity. Hate him! I would have his statue curved in marble and set on high to tell all who passed how good may spring out of evil-how God's wisdom can manifest itself by putting even the creeping and crawling things of the earth to some useful purpose." "Dash it all, lad," vociferated the elder Anstruther, "what alls thee? I never heard you talk like this before?" The old gentleman's amazement was so comical that further tension was out of the question.

Robert, in calmer mood, informed them of the manner in which he hit upon the mine. The story sounded like vildest romance—this finding of a vol ranic dyke guarded by the bones of "J. 8." and the poison filled quarry— but the production of the ore samples changed wonder into certainty.

Next day a government metallurgist estimated the value of the contents of the two oil tins at about £500, yet the specimens brought from the island were not by any means the riches

And now there is not much more to tell of Rainbow island and its cast-On the day that Captain aways. On the day that Captain Robert Austruther's name appeared in rank and regiment. Irls and he were married in the English church at Hong kong, for it was his wife's wish that the place which witnessed his igno-miny should also witness his triumph.

Soon afterward Robert resigned his commission. He regretted the neces-sity, but the demands of his new sphere in life rendered this step imperative. Mining engineers, laborers stores, portable houses, engines and equipment were obtained with all haste, and the whole party sailed on one of Sir Arthur Deane's ships to convoy a small steamer specially hired to attend to the wants of the miners.

At last, one evening early in July, the two vessels anchored outside Palm Tree rock, and Mir Jan could be seen running frantically about the shore, for no valid reason save that he could not stand still. The sahib brought him good news. The governor of Hong-kong felt that any reasonable request made by Anstruther should be granted if possible. He had written such a strong representation of the Moham-medan's case to the government of India that there was little doubt the re turning mail would convey an official notification that Mir Jan bad been granted a free pardon. The mining experts verified Robert's most sanguine views after a very brief examination of the deposit. Hardly any preliminary work was needed. In twenty-four hours a small concentrating plant was erected and a ditch made to drain off the carbonic anhy-dride in the valley. After dusk a party of coolies cleared the quarry of its former occupants. Toward the close of the following day, when the great steamer once more slowly turned her bead to the northwest, Iris could hear the steady thud of an engine at work on the first consignment of ore.

Robert had been busy up to the last done in a short space of time. vessel carried a large number of pas-sengers, and he did not wish to de-tain them too long, though they one he approached and told them that his last instruction ashore was for a light to be fixed or Summit rock as soon as the dynamic was in working order.

weather," he explained gleefully, "we will not imitate the Sirdar by running

Want your moustache or beard

a beautiful brown or rich black? Use bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a wo-man whose knowledge from actual ex-perience is great.

AND CONSIDER

THE ALL-

IMPORTANT FACT

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation,

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation, Women suffering from any form of female weaknessare invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn. Mass., for special advice.
When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it,
"I do not believe it will help me."

on to the reef should we arrive by Iris answered not. Her blue eyes iris anawered not. Her blue eyes were fixed on the fast receding cliffs.

"Sweetheart," said her husbend,
"why are you so silent?"
She turned to him. The light of the setting sun illumined her face with its golden radiance.
"Because I am so happy," she said.
"Oh, Robert, dear, so happy and

THE END.

OURED OF BRIGHT'S LISEASE.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills,
N. Y., writes; "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years, had taken a well known kidney medicine nd other remedies that were recomemended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured meof this terrible disease.
Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." Scid at Medford
Pharmacy. CURED OF BRIGHT'S LISEASE.

Titus, the Roman emperor, was enti-tled "the delight of mankind." Titus' be refleence was unbounded, and it so happened that during his brief reign there was the most urgent need of its exercise. In the first year occurred the great eruption of Vesuvius, over-whelming Herculaneum and Pompell and ruining numerous other towns and vilinges. The next year a fire broke out in Rome, which raged three days. causing great destruction, and in the tracks of these calamities followed a dreadful pestilence. Titus dealt out gifts with lavish hand to the houseless and ruined sufferers. He even despoiled the palaces of their valuable ornaments to obtain money for distribu tion and schemed and planned to fur tion and schemed and planned to firmish occupation for them. He was now the idol of his subjects, the "love and delight of the human race," but, unfortunately for that part of the human race over which he ruled, in the commencement of the third year of his reign he became suddenly ill and died this actions are the sattinguish villa in the Sobine at his patrimonial villa in the Sabine In the County Court of the State of Oregon for

NEGLECTED COLDS. Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subject to disease and blight from neglected colds. Bullard's Horehound syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. 25c 50c and $1.00 W. Akendrick, Valley Mills, Texas, writes; "I have used Bailard's Horehound Syrup and for coughs and throat troubles, it is a pleasant and most effective remedy," Sold by Chas. Strang, Tipstaves.

Tipstaves, otherwise known as "old barlies," "Bow street runners" and "Tom tits," were formerly used in England by officers of the law, or po-lice in private clothes, to show their authority. They were generally carried up the sleeve or in a pocket con-veniently at hand, and the officer would draw his tipstaff and touch the person osition.

a sell your island, Robert?"

"I am afraid that not even wheedle any one into buy.

"I am afraid that not even wheedle any one into buy.

"Arthra and his uncle were gathered in Arthra and his uncle were gathered in a corner of the promenade deck when a corner of the prome When we all come back in the cold survivor dled in 1804 at the age of Act directly on the liver. They cure constipation.

I. O. O. F.—Lodge No. 83, meets in I. O. O. F hall every Saturday at 5 p. m. Visiting broth ers aiways welcome. J. L. DENMER, Rec. Sec. MARK BAKER, N. G

Societies of Medford.

I. O. O. P.—Rogue River Encampment, No. 30, meets in I. O. U. F. hall the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 8. p. m.
II. H HANNEY, Seribe.

Redmen-Medford Westonks No. 30, meets very Thursday in Redmen's Hall, Angle blk. Lak Jacons, Chief of Records, C. C. Radshalk, Bachem.

Modern Woodmen - Meets first and third Fridays of every month, Garnett Committee-man, Duncan Secretery. Meets in Redmon shall. Olive Rebeksh Lodge No. 28, meets in I. O. O. F. hall first and third Tuesdays of each month. Visiting sisters invited to attend sharps HASKINS, N. G. BIRDIE HALL Rec. Sec.

A. F. aun A. M.—Meets first Friday on or ce fore full moon at 8 p. m., in Masonic hali, M. Pundin, W. M J. W. Lawton, Rec. Sec.

K. of I—Talisman lodge No. 31, meets Mon-lay evening at 8 p. m. Visiting prothers al, ways welcome. Fract Lev. C. C. Mantios Pusdis, K. of R. and S.

Knights of the Maccabees.—Trium; bTest No. 14, meets in regular review on the 1st and 3d Frienzy of cond-mouth in A. O. U. W. Hall a 7,2a p. m. Yisting Sir Knights cordially tabled to attend. A. B. Ellison, Commander. W. T. Yong, R. K.

A. O. U. W.—Lesing No. W., meet. every first and third Wendesday in the movit. at 8 p. m. in their hall in the Opera block. Visiting brothersinvited to attend. LOREN DAMON, M. W. ASHAEL HUBBARD, Recerder.

F J. of A.—Mediord Lodge No. 421, meets the second and fourth Tuesday evenings in each mouth in the Redmens hall. VLifting Fraters invited to attend FRANCIS JOJUAN, F. M. L. A. JORDAN, Sec.

Woodmen of the World-Cump No. 90, meets every Thursday evening in K. of P. hall. Medford Oregon. W. R. JACKSON, Clerk.

Chrysunthemum Circle No. 84, Women of Woodcraft—Meets second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:39 p.m. in K. of P. hai. Visiting sisters invited.

PRUE ANGLE, Clerk

W. R. C.—Chester A. Arthur corps No. No-meets first and third Wednesday of each mointh at 2 o'clock p. m., in Woodman's hall. Visiting sisters invited. MRC IVAN HUMASON, Pres. MRS. HENTER HANTEELL, Sec.

G. A. S.—Chester A. Arthur Post No. 47, meets in Woodman's hall every first and third Wednesday night neach month at 7,20 Visiting Comrades cordially invited to attend. F. M. STEWART, Ad utant.

W. C. T. U.—Meets every other Thursday at the Prosbyterian church, Mas. Buck, President, Mas. J. Mongan, Secretary.

Fraternal Brotherhood—Meets first and third Friday evenings at 7:50 p. m., in their hall in K, of P. building, McGord, Oregon, Vestting Sisters and Brothers cordially invited. O. W. MURPHY Pres, W. J. HOCKENYON SCCRETARY.

O. A. S.—Reames Chapter, No. 68, meets second and fourth Wednesday's of each month at Masonie Hall. Medford, Gregon. Visiting Sisters and Brothers always welcome.

MATTER HUTCHISON, W. M.
HATTIE WHITE Secretary. Uniform Rank, K. of P.—Meet at the call of the captain in K. of P. hall. E. L. RI.WOOD, Recorder.

A. O. F.—Court Medford, No. 8885, meets every Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in A. O. U. W. Hall, Angle bios, Medford, Oregon. Visiting Foresters conditally welcomed. L. E. Hoover, C. R. FRANK H. HULL. Rec. Sec.

CHURCHES OF MEDFORD.

Methodist Episcopal Church R. C. Ill-ckwel Methodist Episcopal Church R. C. Ill-ckwel-pastor. Preaching every Sabbath at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m., B. T. Lawton, supt. Class meeting follows preaching service Sunday morning, Julius Meeker, loader. Epworth League at 5:30 p. m. Sunday Sunday Company and Sunday and ings every Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. Ladior Aid Seciety overy Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 Mrs. E. J. Fratt, president. W. F. M. S. meets first Friday in each month. Mrs. Mary Fleider, president.

Presbyterian Church—Rev. W. F. Shields paster. Preaching every Sabhath at 11 a. m. nand 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m., Jas. Martin, Supt. Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m. Junior Christian Endeavor, 3 p. m. Every Taursday prayer meeting, 8 p. m. First Tuesday evening of every month church social. Second Tuesday every month processes with the second Tuesday every month 2:30 p. m., Mission society. First and third Tuesdays every Shields, Pastor: Miss Beulah Warner, Supt. S. 8; Miss Edith Van Dyke Superistendens 1. C. E.; David M. Day, Fres. 8, C. E.; Wr. G. V. Can Dyke, Pres. Ald society; Mrs. J. W. Cox, Pres. Mission Society.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

s In the Sounty Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Jackson. In the maiter of the Guard, tanking of P. H. Oviatt, an Order to show incompetent person.

It appearing to this Court from the petition presented and slied on the Sth day of July. As person and estate of P. H. Oviatt, an incompetent person, praying for an order of sale of an Minterest in and to the Constock of Oregon and Morning quarts mines located in the Willow Springs Mining District in Jrekson County, Oregon, belonging to said incompetent, that it is for the best interest of said ward and all persons interested in said estate, and the constant of the court of the court at Jackson County, Oregon, the court at Jackson County, Oregon, the court at Jackson County, Incompare the Court on Thursday, the first thay of the Court on Thursday, the state of the Court on Thursday, the state of the Court of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear before the Court on Thursday, the state of the Court of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear before the Court on Thursday, the state of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear before the Court on Thursday, the state of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear before the Court on Thursday, the state of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear to the Court of the Said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear before the Court on Thursday, the said ward and all persons interested in said estate, appear the Court at Jackson Court should not be granted for the sace v. which property:

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least once a week for four successive weeks prior to the hearing hereof, order be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in Tim Mgp. FORD MAIL a newspaper published in Jackson County, Oregon, and also that a copy be personally served upon add ward and his said guarding at least ten days before the said hearing.

guardian at least ion days before the said hearing.

Dated at Jacksonville, Oregon, August 1, A D. 1905.

To the Unfortunate. Dr. Gibbon

BUCKINGHAM'S

billiousness, sick-headache