

Don't overlook the representative ticket. Vote for two. There are only two names printed—J. W. Perkins and H. D. Kubli, but vote for them anyway.

The registration books for the general election on June 4th, will be opened April 25th and closed on May 15th. Those who have not registered heretofore will have an opportunity of doing so.

Attorney-General Crawford has given an opinion to the effect that a person of one-quarter Indian blood is considered white, and entitled to vote and that a half-blood is considered an Indian.

You can't pick out a better man for county surveyor than Carl T. Jones. He is a thorough master of his profession and his experience, gained in previous terms of office, will be most valuable to the county.

Look for Sam Van Dyke's name on the official ballot and then make a cross in front of it. In that way you will help nominate a first class man for sheriff. One who will serve the people honestly, faithfully and competently.

W. R. Coleman's friends are all sanguine of his success in his race for the Republican nomination for clerk and why shouldn't he win? He has every qualification, makes friends wherever he goes. Of course he'll win.

O. D. Owen has made a host of friends during his campaign for the Republican nomination for treasurer. Quiet, gentlemanly and unassuming, at the same time he gives an impression of ability and integrity that has won many advocates for his cause.

Hon. W. I. Vawter stands upon his record in the legislature in seeking a re-nomination, and if the people of Douglas and Jackson county are wise they will again select him as joint representative. He will be able to do good work better than ever—in his second term.

Honest lawmakers and honest courts will make short work of any trust or other combination in restraint of trade. It is up to the people therefore to provide these necessary agencies instead of contenting themselves with howling and complaining while neglecting to do their duty at the polls.

W. H. Gore is one of the most competent men in Jackson county for the office of state senator. His wide acquaintance with the resources and needs of the county, his knowledge of affairs and his all-around ability and clear-headedness fit him for that office. He is first-class senatorial timber.

Willis Dunaway, candidate for the Republican nomination for state printer, pledges himself to an economical administration of the office, and to care for the interests of the state in every way. Mr. Dunaway is a life-long Republican, a practical printer and an honest, upright citizen. He is deserving of the nomination.

Today (Friday) is primary day. The total registration shows 3320 voters who have registered. About ninety per cent have declared their politics. The records show two and one-half times as many Republicans as Democrats, and a small percentage of Socialists. According to this, if too many voters do not change their politics before June, it looks as if the Republican candidates had a walk-over.

Joshua Patterson, for county commissioner, and Alva Kellogg, for coroner, haven't anyone opposing them for the nomination—no are sure of success, but we feel like saying something good about them anyway. All who have resided in the county during Mr. Patterson's term as county commissioner are aware of the record he has made and for that reason wish to retain him in office. The indirect result of his efforts, and those of his colleagues, has been the offer by the government to build the half mile sample highway. Mr. Kellogg has been a worker in the party and is thoroughly competent to fill the office of coroner.

WM. S. CROWELL, President F. K. DEUEL, Vice-President FIRST NATIONAL BANK, MEDFORD, OREGON Paid Up Capital, $25,000 Stockholders' Liability $50,000 FAIR DEALING, SAFETY, SECURITY DIRECTORS: WM. S. CROWELL, F. K. DEUEL, E. V. CARTER, CHAS. STRANG, GEO. W. DUNN, M. L. ALFORD, Cash

Last week The Mail published a list of the candidates for whom it had a preference for the offices to which they aspire. This action must not be construed to mean that if the gentlemen named should not be successful that this paper will "lay down" on the ticket which the people of Jackson county do choose. We do not set our judgment up against that of the whole people, and whatever action the Republicans of Jackson county take in the primaries, The Mail will be found loyally and earnestly supporting the ticket. The men who are asking for the various nominations for county offices at the hands of the Republicans are all good and competent men, but there is always a choice to be made between all men, and we picked what, in our judgment, was the best ticket.

plains, the snow-clad mountains and unfavorable streams to win this great state to the Republic, was asking for your suffrages. "Evil to him who evil thinks," is an old French axiom. Mr. Potter has thought evil where no evil was intended and has made prominent a fact which Mr. Coleman's supporters have never made a point of, for the reason that everyone realizes that there are no better nor more loyal Americans than the citizens of the United States of German birth. The evil the Tribune thinks—reading between the lines—is that a disgrace attaches to foreign birth. Not so with The Mail. "By their works ye shall honor them." If they are good citizens we honor them, and the bad citizen is bad whatever may be his nationality.

Judge E. H. Watson is the man whom Oregon should send to the United States senate. He has the ability, experience and knowledge of national affairs to make him one of the prominent members of the national senate. Judge Watson is closely identified with the progress and prosperity of the state and if elected will serve the people with zeal and honesty.

"The mountain labored and brought forth a mouse," and, after consultation with his mentors, the pseudo-editor of the Tribune, evolved the idea that The Mail's editorial of last week in support of W. R. Coleman's candidacy for the Republican nomination for county clerk was an innuendo directed at Mr. von der Hellen, his opponent, on account of the latter's foreign birth—because it was stated that Mr. Coleman was not only a native American, but a native of Jackson county as well—and cited the incident of President Roosevelt addressing in cordial terms a delegation of German citizens upon the same day. The simile quoted at the beginning of this article is not just exactly appropriate, but it will do. Somewhere someone has said something about making a "mountain of a mole hill" and again of looking for the "beam in thine own eye before seeking the mote in the eye of thy neighbor," either of which might fit the present case. In the editorial complained of by the Tribune there was no intention to cast any reflection upon Mr. von der Hellen or anyone he had not been born in America, the state of Oregon or Jackson county, but simply to call the attention of the voters to the fact that a descendant of one of the men who braved the dangers of the trackless

Hawley Will Win. Willis C. Hawley, candidate for Congress, is being widely advertised by his opponents as a crank, a preacher, a prohibitionist, a fool, a dummy, a dunce, a theorist, a plagiarist, and an enemy of the G. A. R. His supporters are denounced as sore heads, ringsters, sulkers, grafters, thieves, machine politicians, old political hacks and members of that dark and mysterious aggregation known as the gun-shove brigade. A few more choice epithets are now being coined for use in the last stages of the campaign. In the face of certain defeat men often lose their heads, grow desperate, become abusive and forget their better nature. Meantime the hop grower, the rural mail carrier, and G. A. R., "the laborer and producer," and all the special interests whose votes are badly wanted are doing their own thinking and refuse to bite at bare hooks. WILLIS C. HAWLEY HAS NEVER BEEN ANYTHING BUT A THOROUGH-BRED REPUBLICAN AND A OLEAN MAN. Marion county, where he has lived nearly twenty years, will give him more than one thousand majority and his nomination is assured.

Shows Where he Stands. In the issue of the 12th inst. the Tribune takes up the matter of the state treasurership and incidentally exposes his position and his animus toward Hon. E. V. Carter. R. W. Hoyt, of Multnomah, and George A. Steel, of Clackamas, are named as the leading candidates for the Republican nomination. This statement is not only misleading, but is an intentional blow at Mr. Carter's candidacy. As a matter of fact Mr. Carter is admitted by all to be one of the strongest candidates in the race, which has indeed narrowed down to a contest between Hoyt and Carter. The article referred to bears the earmarks of having been written with the idea of turning votes from Mr. Carter to one or the other of his opponents, and the interests in which it was written is shown in the following telegram: Portland, Ore., April 15, 1906. REV. C. W. McPHERSON: Liquor dealers are supporting Hoyt for state treasurer and bitterly fighting Carter account of latter's vote against Jayne amendment. Do all you can in church tonight and through the primaries for Carter. CLARENCE TRUE WILSON, President Anti-Saloon League.

The Real Situation. The office of state treasurer carries with it responsibilities in connection with the management of state affairs of paramount importance. Two other state offices only are in the same class with it, measured by the influence and the opportunity for the exercise of executive ability on the part of the incumbent in behalf of an honest and business like administration of state affairs. The governor, secretary of state and treasurer comprise under our laws a board endowed with important powers of administration. Southern Oregon desires recognition and a voice in the conduct and direction of state affairs and admittedly has a right and just claim thereto. The only candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer from this section at the primaries, Friday, is the Hon. E. V. Carter, of Jackson county, who is acknowledged to be a leader in the race. Mr. Carter and a Portland candidate are coming down the home stretch neck and neck, as those closest in touch with the situation view it at this time, with a fine chance for Mr. Carter to finish a winner. The most prominent Portland candidate himself refers to the Jackson county man as "one of his most dangerous opponents." Mr. Carter is bound by the closest ties with the interests of Southern Oregon. He is the peer of any of his competitors for the place. He is a Jackson county candidate, the only one for that or any state office on the Republican ticket at this election. A vote for Mr. Carter is a vote for the recognition of Southern Oregon in the conduct of state affairs. Do you believe in helping to get this recognition and maintaining it? On this ground alone Mr. Carter is entitled to every Republican vote at the primaries, not only in Jackson county, but in Josephine, Lane and Linn counties, with which this county is most closely allied.—Ashland Mailings

SENSATIONAL CIRCUS NOVELTY. 'Tis Good to be Here. While the great east and middle-west is being swept by blizzards and cyclones, lightning and blizzards, while the laboring man and capital are clashing as to the future and while old Missouri is burning negroes while the old country people are running from anarchists and huns, while California with her towering climate is being shaken by earthquakes, these are the conditions of things in general. While here in the beautiful, fertile Rogue River Valley we are blessed with sunshine and showers, peace and plenty, health and wealth, brains and interest, and should be the happiest people on earth, what can we ask? Could there be a place more blessed? We say nay, Medford, the very hub of the center, is being talked all over the coast as the coming town, and why? Because in Medford, around Medford her people have their shoulders to the wheel and by a united effort are pushing her to the front. Every business is fully represented and does a daily business of which a town twice her size would be proud. At "Shortie" Garnett's store in particular you can find the most up-to-date ideas in building hardware. Those "toilet ranges" can't be surpassed anywhere. They have been tried, tried by stinky people who are hard to please, but with one accord the 75 or more now in use in and around Medford are satisfied. Quantities of cooking vessels, in three or four grades from the best to the cheapest, and paint is perfect. Carried in all colors and shades. Poultry wire, incubators, churns, wash machines, bicycles, garden hose, spray hose, water tanks made by our tinner—Is German and knows his business. So get wise and come in and look over things and see if you can't get what you want and get it a little cheaper than Sears Roebuck can send it to you. I am yours for business, H. C. GARNETT.
