A HEALTHY OLD AGE OFTENTHE BEST PART OF LIFE

for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs.MaryKoehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth. When everything becomes a burden and you eannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne. 371 Garfield Avenue, Chiego, Ill., writes:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was mearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my beck and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive today. It is splendld for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

Known by Instinct.

To understand war, says the author of "A People at School," is an instinct. To illustrate the aphorism he tells a story of an English general whose understanding of sounds was phenomenal. One night, he says, after dinner they were all sitting talking at head-quarters. They were expecting an at-tack, and sentries and pickets were posted far out beyond the stockade. Buddenly we heard one shot. Of course every one jumped up. The bu-gles sounded; the men fell in; the officers ran to their posts. General Symons alone had not moved. After listen ing intently for a moment or two he had sat down again. I myself was between two minds whether to go out with one of the parties hastly assembling outside or to stay with the general. So I stood irresolutely by the

"You can sit down," said Symons. "It is nothing. A sentry has let off his rifle by accident. That is all." So it proved. While he was leaning upon his rifle it had gone off, and so

A NOBLE ENEMY.

The Fate of Mokraul, a Moslem Chie of Africa.

France was never in greater danger losing her colonies in Africa than during the war with Germany in 1870. The troops were recalled from Africa to take part in the conflict that was going of against France, and Algeria was left almost defenseless.

The hour for which the conquered races had long waited had come, and if a holy war had been proclaimed it is probable that the French would have hear driven from parthers Africa.

been driven from northern Africa.

But the tribes did not rise while the French had their hands full on the other side of the Mediterranean, and other side of the Mediterranean, and the fact was due to their fidelity to a solemn pledge.

When the war broke out a chief of great influence among the tribes, Morrani, gave his word to the governor general of Algeria that there should be no insurrection while the war lasted. That word was faithfully kept. Disaster after disaster followed the French arms. The defeats of the war culminated in the surrender of Paris. arms. The defeats of the war cul-minated in the surrender of Paris. But not a man of the tribes of Kabylia stirred, The Moslem's faith was plighted; the Moslem's faith was kept.

When, however, the last battle had been fought and the treaty of peace signed, Mokrant, then released from his word, gave the governor general notice that in forty-eight hours he would declare war. The French armles, released from duty at home hurrled across the Mediterranean. The end was inevitable. Mokrani, seeing that all was lost, put himself at the head of his warriors and fell fighting in the front rank. The French erected a monument to mark the spot where their noble enemy perished

The symptoms of the atliner times to doctors as "caterpillar rash" are intense irritation on the pulsas and sometimes on the face accompanied by a number of blisterlike swellings which number of blisterille swellings which when they occur round the eyes, som times have the effect of obstructing vision. The preventive is to let hairy caterpillars alone. As the "palmer worm," the hairy caterpillars of the gold tall moth, one of the component was the state of the solutions. monest and most beautiful objects of the country at midsummer, passes from hand to hand, it leaves on every palm a few of its loosely attached hairs, and those hairs are possessed. for the protection of the caterpillar against birds and browsing animals of what scientists call "urricating prop-erties.", "Urrica" is the Latin for "not tle." The Benefit of Exercise Exercise does for the body what the mountain side does for the stream of water. When the water runs down the mountain side it is a babbling brook, leaping out into the air now and then, throwing itself into spray, exposing itself to the air and sunshine and the self to the air and sunshine and the waters are crystal pure. In the valley or on a level plain the waters may form stagnant pools and get covered over with slime of all sorts and inhabited by all kinds of fitthy creeping things. Some people let themselves get into the condition of that stagnant pool and then wonder why the frogs croak in their brains and why the birds do not sing instead. When a person sets into sing instead. When a person gets into the condition where the body is like a stagnant pool a radical change must be made in his life. He must begin by getting vitalized, new blood into all his cells and tissues.—Good Health,

Sweetheart of "Robin Adair."
"Robin Adair" was written by Lady Caroline Keppel, the daughter of the Earl of Albemarie. Robin was a real character, a young Irish doctor who had been forced by a scandalous ad-venture to leave Ireland and seek his fortune in England. Chance threw a rich patient in his way, a indy of qual-ity, and at her house he met Lady Caroline, and the result was a case of love at first sight on both sides. Her parents objected and sent her away, and during her absence she produced the song.

disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acrid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotious etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.
