CITY HAPPENINGS.

The small boy, ably assisted by his elders, did his level best to perpetuate the time-honored, and, perhaps in some instances, "dis-honored" observance of Halloween in this city, and a number of anxious householders mourn the loss of gates, vehicles and other things portable that have disappeared from their customary locations. A meek family milk producer was the victim of a laughable prank which seemed to give "bosny" no uneasiness. A pair of gum boots, supported by a back strap, covered her fore feet and a large pasteboard star covered her flank. Thus adorned the patient beast was found by her anxious owner quietly gnawing her breakfast off the sooty fringe of vegetation along a west side street. No malicious acts have been reported and the enthusiasm incident to the occasion appears to have exhausted itself in harmless pranks.

34 acres, 12 in alfalfa, two miles from railroad, 29 acres in cultivation, with irrigation for two crops, for $3400. For sale by W. T. York.

F. Osenbrugg has his new home nearly ready for occupancy. He has moved the dwelling which was formerly the W. B. Roberts home a couple or three hundred feet to the north from the old site and has built to it, on it and under it—making of it a very modern residence. He expects, another season, to build another dwelling on the site of the old house. Mr. Osenbrugg has, since buying the Roberts property, added material to the worth of that street and as well to its beauty. He has built four new dwellings—all large and modern in architecture—and he is keeping them in splendid shape, and when he shall have secured city water fine lawns will be put in.

If your watch or clock is out of order, take it to B. N. Butler. He has all the necessary tools, material and experience to do good work, and he does it.

We detest shouting and "Blowing Your Own Horn," but we can't help feeling a sense of pride at the Superior Merits possessed by the Groceries we handle. If you wish to purchase Groceries that are fresh, wholesome and appetizing, we have every reason to believe that this is the place to get them. Let us supply you daily—you will find our prices very reasonable.

Rev. Francis Smith, pastor of the Free Methodist church in Medford, was very agreeably surprised on the evening of the 18th by about twenty-five of the members of his congregation who visited him in a body, each of them carrying some substantial token of their high appreciation of his pastoral labors. The evening was spent very pleasantly and concluded with a short speech of the pastor's ministerial life by Elder W. E. Goode. An appropriate expression of thanks by the pastor followed, and after that singing and prayer. Rev. Smith is a young man who seems to have the faculty of winning the hearts of his hearers and under his earnest labors his congregations are steadily growing larger.

Ask your grocer for Kogue River Creamery butter—70 cents per square.

A. E. J. Percival, proprietor of Hotel Percival, at Elleen, near the Blue Lodge mine, was in the city over Sunday. He reports that things are bumping themselves out at the mine and that it is bothering some of the fellows to keep pace with the swift doings. Mr. Percival and Landlord McMahon of the Nash, in Medford, are putting up a new, two-story hotel and they are anticipating a big run of patronage, which even the winter weather will not stamper for other camps. The postoffice of Elleen is one recently established about half a mile from the mines and it is there Dr. Reddy and his associates expect to establish and build up a thriving mining camp.

Through a peculiar coincidence Frank Hull's birthday and that of his better half occurs on the 28th and 30th of October, while their wedding anniversary is sandwiched between those two dates. "The Holy City."

If half that may be read is true Le Comte & Flesher's latest production is one of unusual beauty. It is generally conceded that the performances of Miss Moray in "Cleopatra" were superior, but there has been provided for "The Holy City" dramatic embellishments and stage accessories of even more remarkable magnificence. The powerful story, voiced by these forming one of the largest and most talented companies traveling, is so aided by allegorical, musical and spectacular effects that astonishment and delight is manifested in every mention of this play. In the complete satisfaction that each production of the capable and praiseworthy management in the past successes are understood and future confidence is inspired. To the lavish expenditure necessary to the presentation of "Cleopatra" theatrical pessimists shook their wise heads and predicted failure. The managers paid their bills and banked their surplus. The much greater expense attending representations of "The Holy City" is met in sagacious belief that for the drama loving public, nothing can be too good. With always increasing artistic endeavor Messrs. Le Comte & Flesher prove their commercial intelligence. Davis opera house, Tuesday, November 6th.
