MILLION SHORT IN BANK

CASHIER OF PITTSBURG BANK MANIPULATES ACCOUNTS FOR HIS OWN BENEFIT.

Pittsburg, Dec. 18.—In the information made by National Bank Examiner John B. Cunningham against Cashier J. B. F. Rinehart, of the Farmer's and Drivers' National Bank of Waynesburg, Pa., which was closed by order of the Comptroller of the Currency last Wednesday, discrepancies amounting to $950,000 are alleged.

The cashier is charged upon eight counts with "unlawfully and knowingly making false entries in a report of the financial condition of the bank made to the Comptroller as required by law."

Examiner Cunningham alleges that false entries of overdrafts were made, notes and bills rediscounted, reported at $80,000, when they amounted to $600,000, and $118,628 charged as coming from approved agents when in fact only $10,000 was due.

It is stated that Cashier Rinehart will surrender to the Government authorities.

BATTLE WITH POSSE.

Safe-Crackers Attempt to Rob Bank at Campbell.

San Jose, Dec. 18.—A desperate attempt to rob the bank of Campbell, at Campbell, was made at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by four men, who forced the door of the bank and made three unsuccessful attempts at blowing open the vault door with nitroglycerine. The noise of the repeated explosions awakened a number of residents of Campbell, when an investigation disclosed the robbers busy at their work on the bank. An armed posse was quickly formed and the robbers were attacked, but escaped in the darkness under a running fire of bullets.

Sheriff Ross and a force of deputies are at Campbell, and it is reported that the officers are hot on the trail of the robbers. The attempt at robbery is believed to be the work of experienced safe crackers, who were foiled by the construction of the vault. There was a big sum of money in the bank, but none was taken.

Portland's Street Car Troubles.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 18.—The street car company is using its best endeavors to maintain regular traffic on the system today, but is meeting with but fair success. Traffic on the west side of the Willamette river is practically at a standstill. On the east side some success has rewarded the company. The service is not good by any means, but an occasional car is run between the heart of the city and most of the suburban additions. The strikers claim that a victory is in sight, while the corporation persists that it will not surrender to the strikers. No serious disturbances have been reported today.

NEW OFFICIALS ARE INSTALLED

REARRANGEMENT OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S CABINET TAKES PLACE.

Bonaparte is Attorney General, Metcalf Secretary of the Navy, and Straus Secretary of Labor

Washington, Dec. 18.—Oscar S. Straus of New York was yesterday inducted into the office of Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor in pursuance of the rearrangement of the Cabinet recently made by President Roosevelt.

The ceremony incident to the retirement of Secretary Metcalf, who has been at the head of the department since July 1, 1905, and the induction into office of Secretary Straus took place shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the secretary's office at the department. The oath of office was administered to Mr. Straus by Frank H. Larned, chief of the Bureau of Immigration.

Secretary Metcalf, in relinquishing the duties of the office, formally expressed to those about him his great personal regret at the severance of relation which always had been so pleasant. He assured them, however, that Mr. Straus would maintain similar cordial relations with the people of the department.

Secretary Straus, in a brief address expressed the desire to continue the present relations that existed between Secretary Metcalf and the officials of the department and said that it would be his policy, so far as might be possible, to continue the policy of his predecessor. He said he would take his cue from the President, one feature of whom strength lies in the fact that he could depend upon and enlist the hearty co-operation of those about him. At the conclusion of the address, Secretary Straus and Secretary Metcalf held an informal reception of the bureau heads.

Theodore L. Weed, one of the clerks of the department, has been selected by Mr. Straus to be his private secretary. Leon A. Clarke, who has been private secretary to Secretary Metcalf, will continue with Mr. Metcalf in a like capacity in the Navy Department.

Secretary Metcalf arrived at the Navy Department with Secretary Bonaparte at 10:50. The oath of office was administered by Solicitor Hannah, of the Navy Department, in the presence of Assistant Secretary

Newberry, Rear Admiral Rixey, Surgeon General of the Navy, Assistant Secretary Murray of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and the bureau chiefs of that department, who went to the Navy Department in a body, after Mr. Straus had been inducted into office.

Secretary Bonaparte, in a brief address, congratulated the new secretary upon the compliment implied upon his choice for the office of Secretary of the Navy. "No office," he said, "exists of greater moment to the honor, the vital interest and even the national life of our common country."

Secretary Metcalf briefly responded, declaring that he always had taken an interest in the American Navy.

At 11 o'clock Charles J. Bonaparte, the retiring Secretary of the Navy, took the prescribed oath as attorney general and entered upon his new duties. The obligation was administered by Mr. Sorenberger, the appointment clerk in the Department of Justice, in the presence of Mr. Bonaparte's predecessor, William H. Moody, the Assistant Attorney General, the Solicitor General and the principal officers of the Department of Justice. Mr. Moody was the first to offer congratulations. Mr. Bonaparte declared he would be guided in the performance of his duties by the example and counsel of his predecessor.

He Prayed for Fodder and Got Corn.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14.—Silas Horsford, whose farm abuts the Danbury branch of the New Haven road, knows the ways of Providence are inscrutable. He has been praying for fodder for his hens for the winter. A freight train of twenty-three cars was wrecked by his place yesterday. Twenty-two cars were smashed. The twenty-third obligingly tumbled into Silas' back yard and dumped several hundred bushels of corn nearly against the back door.

"That'll tickle the hens—and eggs at 45 cents a dozen," was the farmer's joyous comment.

The other cars were loaded with produce. The damage to the road was serious and traffic was delayed several hours.
