Klamath County News.

Merrli Record:

Guy Merrilli had a "hunch" Tuesday morning which probably saved the lives of four horses. His hired man started to the cut to fill the water wagon for the threaher. Mr. Merrill decided to go with him. While they were filling the wagon one of the horses slipped on the bank and all four went into a hole, which contained over 10 feet of water. The men swam around in the water for over two hours cutting the harness and keeping the horses' heads above water. They were finally rescued without serious injury. Had there been only one man with them it is not likely the horses could have been saved.

J. Frank Adams sold this week to J. Mcnserrat twenty two head of thoroughbred Hereford bulls for shipment to the latter's stock ranch in the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Monserrat has been on the Pacific coast for some time, and looked over the different herds of thoroughbred Herefords in California with a view to buying, but found nothing that entirely satisfied his requirements until he saw Mr. Adams' herd. He pronounced them far and away the best cattle of the Hereford breed he has seen. The fact that Mr. Monserrat looked over all the herds of any prominence on the coast before coming to Klamath, and that he then and there without hesitation purchased more than the allotted number is a wonderful tribute to this section.

Klamath Falls Express.

In a quarrrel in the Sparks & Hazen saloon in Dorris Thursday evening Jack Conley, bartender in the saloon, cut Lige Harrington on the arm and breast. Both were former residents of this county and are well known here.

Another clever forger has been operating in Klamath Falls. A man giving the name of F. H. Mendenhall caught the Standard saloon for $75 and K K K store for $100 on forged checks on the Mason Construction company. The forger made a safe get away.

W. C. Dalton, who is in town from the Carr ranch near the lower end of Tule Lake, says that there is absolutely no more question regarding the report that the waters of Tule Lake has found an underground outlet. Tuesday morning Mr. Dalton, J. Frank Adams, Chas. Beardsley, John Colwell and Fred Pope, all with large holdings along the lake front, went to the place where the water was sucking into the earth and did a little work in assisting nature to let some of the overabundance of aqua pura gathered in the lake basin. With picks, crowbars and other pharahernalia they attacked the mouth of the opening in an effort to enlarge the gorge. In this they were more or less successful for Mr. Dalton states that after a few hours work in picking away debris and prying out boulders their efforts were rewarded with an inrushing of at least 200 feet of water straight down toward the bowels of the land. The roar of the water as it swirls down into the gorge is plainly heard for a considerable distance. Where it has its outlet after it enters the earth no one knows, but Mr. Dalton says the water apparently drops many feet right at its entrance into the ground. He states further that it is his belief that nature has provided a way through this opening for completely draining Tule Lake and reclaiming the many acres of fertile land now inundated. To do this will require some work in enlarging the opening and probably the cutting of a channel for some distance out into the lake to drain its lowest part. The matter has been brought to the attention of the reclamation officials and it is probable that men will be sent to the scene at once to make an investigation.

Klamath Republican.

Monday morning Judge Benson called before him the members of the jury for the December term of court and announced to them that inasmuch as there existed a term of legal holidays, there would be no court until after their discontinuance. He directed that they return to their homes, stating that they would be notified by the sheriff when to return for service.

Archie Mason was up from the dredger for a few hours Saturday and was as full of optimism as ever. It makes litte difference to Mason which way the cat jumps, he generally has a hopeful view of the situation. He stated that the financial flurry was not interfering with his operation any and that the work was progressing rapidly under the new conditions. The second dredger was at Bray and would be on the ground in a few days when it would be assembled as fast as men could put it together. When this second machine is ready for business there will be four crews put to work, and nothing will be overlooked to hurry the work along. No matter where the railroad work is stopped for the winter, Mr. Mason will keep on with his contract until that is completed and thus remove one of the obstacles to the completion of the railroad into this city next year.

Chicken stealing on the wholesale plan seems to be in vogue in this city, and unless the person responsible for the trouble looks a "leetle out" he will have need for a surgeon. Last Wednesday night thieves visited the chicken yard of the Home Bakery and walked off with thirty fat chickens, leaving their heads in the yard as souveniers for Proprietor Hennis. Hennis says they are welcome to thirty or more if they will just let him know when they are coming. George Pan, of the Log Cabin restaurant mourned the loss of eight chickens that evening and he is anxious to make the acquaintance of the marauder. One of the warmest people in the town, however, is Henry Stout, who lost nine ducks. the worst of it the ducks were picked, and anyone who has ever picked a duck has some idea how Mr. Stout felt in the matter.

Harriman Commences Construction

A special to the Portland Journal from Chicago says:

Construction work on the Harriman system, was discontinued a few weeks ago, will be resumed all along the line on December 2.

According to officials of the road 10,000 men will be put back to work.

When the weather becomes too severe in Kansas and Nebraska, the workmen will be moved to the Pacific coast, and the rebuilding of the line between Los Angeles and San Francisco will begin.

The entire Pacific coast will also be benefitted, as work on the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. extensions will be resumed at the same time.

Work will be rushed on the joint line from Eureka to San Francisco, which is being built by Harriman and the Santa Fe. This road is supposed to be a continuation of the coast line to Portland via Coos Bay and other coast points, and it is understood that all work on the north coast will be resumed also.

Railroad authorities here declare that this announcement can only be the result of better times throughout the country generally, and New York in particular. It is argued by these people that the work could not be resumed had not Harriman been able to obtain money in New York, which indicates great improvement in conditions there.

Here's Good Advice.

O. S. Woolever, one of the best known merchants of Le Raysville, N. Y., says: "If you are ever troubled with piles, apply Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured me of them for good 20 years ago." Cure every sore wound, burn or abrasion. 25c. at Chas. Strang drug store.

Bathing.

Cleanliness is next to godliness, and it is likewise essential to health. There is no apology for filth, and filth breeds disease. Germs do not like cleanliness, and they almost exert themselves to avoid it, so to keep clean is essential. Every child should receive either a sponge or a tub bath each day. The skin contains small glands, which should constantly carry off the poisons which collect within us. When the skin is dirty these glands do not act and these poisons are retained and give rise to ill health. Bathing keeps their ducts open, stimulates their action and thus aids in the process of elimination, thereby improving the nutrition. It is evident, therefore, that the idea that frequent bathing in the winter months is dangerous is wrong.—National Congress of Mothers' Magazine

Absentminded.

She was an exceedingly dainty little woman, who was taking a very great interest in the welfare of the convicts when she was being shown through the penitentiary the other day. Guard O'Brien was along when she happened to speak to one of the prisoners. "I am so sorry for you," she remarked in a tender tone of voice. "Of course you will be very thankful when the time comes for you to leave this dreadful place."

"No," retorted the man. "I'd a sight rather stop here where I am." The little woman almost collapsed.

"Isn't it strange?" she asked, turning to the guard. "I had no idea the prisoners were so contented. What was the poor fellow's offense?"

The guard concealed a covert grin. "He was just a little absentminded, that was all," followed the grin.

"Absentminded!" exclaimed his astonished interrogator.

"Yes, madam," politely replied O'Brien. "He persisted in forgetting he was married, and now when his time is up he has five wives awaiting him on the outside."

The woman could not deny that the convict had sufficient reasons to be contented with his present lot.—Columbus Dispatch.
