Klamath County News.

Klamath Falls Republican:

Last Tuesday John Ratliff, Sr. fell from his his wagon while coming down Stukel mountain and struck his head against a pile of rock, knocking him unconscious. The wagon, loaded with a cord of wood, ran over his legs, badly bruising but not breaking them. Chas. Merrill, who was hunting for cattle, noticed the team standing still on the hillside without a driver. Riding up he discovered the unconscious body of Mr. Ratliff, and hurriedly dismounting, succeeded in reviving him. He at once went for aid and the injured man was taken to his home, where he was examined by Dr. Alex Patterson. It was found that no bones were broken, and aside from the bruises sustained and the shock there was nothing serious. Mr. Ratliff remembered only that he fell from the wagon. It is probable that Mr. Merrill discovered him a few minutes after the accident.

Constable Slate, of Merrill, arrived in the city at 2 o'clock Wednesday, having in custody Fred Liskey, whom he turned over to Sheriff Obenchain for safe keeping at the county jail. Liskey was convicted of mayhem on the person of Ira McCall, and was placed under $500 bonds by Justice Shortgen, to await the convening of the circuit court. Liskey is what is known as a "bad man" and has been causing considerable trouble in the vicinity of Merrill. The day before his last crime he was released from a 10 days' sentence in the Merrill for beating up some Indians. The people of our neighboring town are considerably worked up over the affair and expressions are freely given in favor of a long term in the penitentiary. In the fight which took place between the two men, McCall had one of his ears bitten completely off, and he will be left disfigured for life. Both men are reported to be of a rather quarrelsome nature. This is the second time Liskey has chewed an ear off of a man.

The shipping season for cattle from Klamath county is about over according to the statement of Charles Horton, one of the largest resident cattlemen. Since August 4, 1907, the number of cattle driven to Montague and Gazelle, for shipment to the Oakland, Sacramento and San Francisco markets, has been 18,686 and there remains about 3,000 more which are to be shipped soon. About half of this number were shipped by J. C. Mitchell, 1850 by Horton and the balance by Louis Gerber and Swanson & Son. Horton has 600 more ready for market. At a low estimate the value of the beef shipments is placed at over $650,000. This does not include the cattle driven out of the Fort country by way of Ashland, Medford and other northern points. California buyers are fully appreciative of the superior quality of cattle raised in the Klamath country and our beef always commands the highest market price. A prominent California buyer remarked of a band of cattle recenty shipped from here: "That is the finest bunch of cattle I have seen this year."

The last few days has brought joy to the hearts of the small boy and girl and to many older residents of Klamath Falls, as well as to the consumers of ice. The cold weather is fast producing our supply of ice for next summer. The lovers of skating however, are not bothering about next summer's ice, but are enjoying to the utmost the exhilirating pastime before it is too late. According to the dictum of the small boy, who is an undisputed authority, there is fine skating below the Government tunnel, also on the railroad ditch and Moore's canal. The latter seems to be the favorites and are more generally patronized.

Joseph Conger, one of the oldest residents of Klamath county, died at his home on Conger ave., at 11:30 Saturday morning, at the age of 76 years, 8 months and 22 days. The deceased has been a sufferer from a cancer for several years, which finally resulted in his death. Mr. Conger was born in Pike county, Indiana, May 11, 1831. He came from Indiana in the spring of 1853, accomplishing the plains journey with ox teams and being the regulation six months on the way. Starting out May 4, he arrived near Salem September 15, and a month later went to Coos Bay, with the expectation of making that region his home. Not finding sufficient inducements he returned at the end of the month, and in the spring of 1854 made his way to Yreka, Calif., engaging in mining, where he remained during the Modoc war. In 1877 he came to Linkville—now Klamath Falls—and in 1876 purchased the property on Conger Avenue. He engaged himself in raising fruit and the buying of furs and enjoying the life of a bachelor. He was a member of the city council in 1890.

Klamath Falls Express:

J. Frank Adams, who is in town from his Tule lake home, stated that it will take several days yet to determin if there is a permanent under ground outlet that will materially aid in draining Tule lake. Those interested have six men at work enlarging the hole into which the water has been disappearing.

Mrs. Hortense Henline died at her home in this city this morning from heart failure. She was about 50 years of age and came here recently from Eugene. She leaves two sons and two daughters, one Archie Henline, having been a resident of the Falls for a number of years. The funeral will be conducted from the undertaking parlors of E. Whitlock at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

At a meeting of the public school board and the mayor last night was decided to close the public school for the balance of this week and have the school rooms thoroughly disinfected. There is now only one case of scarlet fever in Klamath Falls and that is in a mild form. Both the high and public schools will reopen next Monday morning.

The fact that James Logue has been drawn as a juror for the special term of court beginning next Monday will give him occasion, after many years, to visit Klamath Falls. I am told by an intimate friend of his that Mr. Logue is much given to staying at home, that he came to the valley with his father and the family some seventeen years ago, and that since then he has only twice been as far away from home as Klamath Falls, that he went there once when he filed his application for a homestead, and the second time when he went to prove up and that he has not been further from home than Bonanza and Dairy since then. He is not so much averse to travel, but home suits him best.—Yonna Valley Correspondent.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"'Don's trifle with a cold' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from an ordinary cold will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diptheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Charles Strang.

When You Have a Bad Cold

Reduced Fac-simile.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy.

You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these requirements, and for the speedy and permanent cure of bad colds stands without a peer.

A Severe Cold Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used."
